Blimp Aloft 180 Hours

Endurance Record Set By Airship

Lighter-Than-Air Craft Nearing Florida Keys

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—A U.S. Navy blimp Monday broke the world endurance record for a crew and aircraft by remaining aloft without refueling for 180 hours.

The Navy said the ZPG-2 airship of the NAN type was now cruising toward the Florida keys and was expected to land at the Boca Chica Naval Air Station, nine miles north of Key West, about 1:30 p.m. CST Tuesday.

The lighter-than-air ship left Lakehurst Naval Air Station at 5:32 a.m. CST last Monday to carry out a simulated anti-submarine patrol.

The new record was set over Miami Monday when the blimp exceeded the old record of 170.3 hours set in 1947 by an M-type airship, also out of Lakehurst.

Cmdr. Marion H. Eppes of Pinson, Ala., is in command of the aircraft which carries a Navy crew of 14 and a civilian observer.

'Need Baths'

He told newsmen by radio telephone as the blimp cruised over northwest Miami that all aboard had eaten and slept well. "But after a week we need baths," he said.

The 342-foot non-rigid airship will have covered more than 3,000 miles by the time it gets to Boca Chica. It has been on patrol over the Atlantic seaboard, the Caribbean and the Gulf of Mexico.

Lt. Albert Robertson, a Navy public information officer from Key West, said the blimp has been under way at all times and never "just hovered."

"The blimp could wait for a submarine to surface if it took all week," Robertson said, "and there are many other times when continuous flight without refueling could be a great tactical advantage."

Picked Up Water

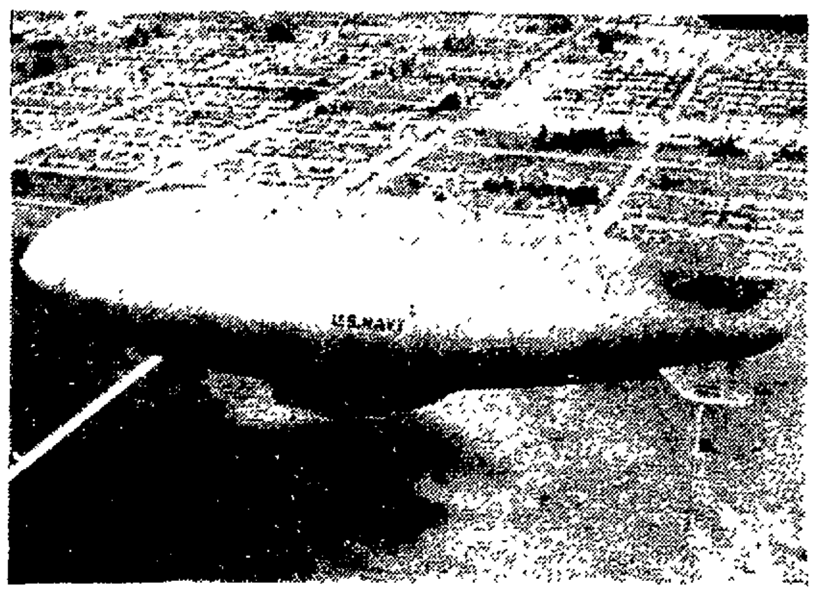
Robertson said the blimp did not pick up any fuel or provisions during the trip, but did pick up sea water. He explained that as the gasoline was consumed a huge, weighted canvas bag was let down to the sea by a cable and winch from about 150 feet in the air and water hauled aboard to serve as ballast.

Capt. Eppes said a deep freeze provided everyone with excellent food throughout the trip.

The crew withstood the long flight with minimum of physical discomfort due largely to many recent advances in the design of equipment in the aircraft, such as adequate galley facilities, refrigeration and deep freeze units, comfortable messing areas and sound proof sleeping quarters, Lt. Mead said.

The Navy said the airship has many novel innovations over older type airships. For one thing its engines are located in the gondola and geared to the propellors through shafting. This permits engine repair and adjustment in flight, which extends the airship's potential operating radius.

The endurance flight was conducted as part of the trials of this newest of NAN-type airships and was carried out under direction of the Navy's Airship Training and Experimental Command at Lakehurst.



Blimp Sets Endurance Record

This blimp, with 15 men aboard, set a world endurance record for aircraft and was to remain aloft until Tuesday when it will land at Key West, Fla. The 342-foot airship, shown as it passed over Miami Monday, is the largest non-rigid airships in the world and it bettered the old record of 170.3 hours set in 1947. (AP Wirephoto.)

State Republicans Praise McCarthy

Resolution From Floor Tagged To 'Eisenhower Bandwagon' Platform

By B. R. ROTHENBERGER
Star Staff Writer

FREMONT, Neb.—The Nebraska Republican Party stepped on the Eisenhower bandwagon Monday as it made campaign policy at the state GOP pre-primary convention.

But as it loaded on its candidates and baggage it reached out for Sen. Joe McCarthy and lifted him into the rumble seat.

The endorsement of McCarthy was not planned by the official resolutions committee which had received unanimous approval for its nine-point administration platform.

It came from the floor when George J. Thomas of Omaha offered a resolution asking full endorsement of the Wisconsin senator as one of the few men in "our government who has had the intestinal fortitude, the backbone, the tenacity to fight this gang (Communists) in the open."

When Ted Hook of Wayne, chairman pro-tem, put the resolution to a vote the ayes and nays arose in strong rival volume. But when he called for a standing vote many delegates kept to their seats while the outspoken pros and antis each offering something less than a majority of the 400 delegates, had it out. Hook ruled a victory for McCarthy.

'Want Full Endorsement'

From the convention rostrum Thomas declared that McCarthy together with Sens. Velde and Penner "have not only had to fight Communism, but what is even more galling and discouraging, its defenders, people in our own government, writers, the other party and leading newspapers.

"We want full endorsement," he said, "for the efforts of Sen. McCarthy to expose and root out Communists and Communist sympathizers from our national government, the bureaus, the armed forces and plants doing defense work, wherever they may be found, and promise him our continued endorsement."

The Thomas movement brought the McCarthy question to the convention for the only time. There had been no comment on the Senator's earlier invitation to keynote the convention, or the controversy that followed, nor on his cancellation last week of his post-convention assignment after Clarence A. Davis, solicitor general of the department of the Interior, formerly of Lincoln, had been named as replacement keynoter.

Feelings Mixed

Although the vote count gave the senator small favorable margin on the endorsement resolution, feelings among the delegates remained mixed at the close of the convention.

"I don't think it served any constructive purpose," commented Leslie Noble, Gage County GOP chairman.

But Rep. R. D. Harrison, Third District candidate for re-election who several weeks ago at the party's Founders Day meeting in Lincoln asserted "what the country needs is more McCarthy's," observed, "I think it was fine."

The only other floor-introduced resolution came from John Keriakedes of Hay Springs who said it was presented without prior knowledge of Gov. Crosby.

Keriakedes received strong support for his resolution which said that Crosby "Through events not of his making, has been subjected to criticism and abuse wholly unmerited, and has received little credit that was due." The resolution expressed the party's "thanks and appreciation to Bob Crosby and gives his integrity and fearless honesty its highest commendation."

Republican harmony was ruffled only twice during the day-long convention, neither time to the extent of serious division. Before the McCarthy question arose there was a spirited exchange over the report of the committee on procedure which recommended against endorsement of candidates. An amendment favoring endorsement was defeated.

Present Only in Ad

Controversial GOP senatorial candidate Terry Carpenter, not mentioned by name but nevertheless the center of the "endorsement" controversy and an avowed advocate of high fixed price supports for agriculture and other anti-administration positions, was not present at the convention.

However, he attended in the form of a page advertisement in the Fremont Guide and Tribune which was circulated in the convention floor endorsing Eisenhower, the Bricker Amendment, federal public works for unemployment, extended social security, more funds for the aged, while opposing the Benson farm program, the Indo-China War, Communism and socialized medicine.

The party platform gave endorsement to the Benson farm program.

Other planks:

Communism—Fair but vigorous enforcement to safeguard our country.

Taxation—Complimented the national administration and recommended additional study of the appraisement of property in Nebraska by appointed officials.

Education—Favored continued local operation of management of public schools.

Highway and safety—Deplored increased accidents and subscribed to present revenue laws permitting extension and improvement of highways.

Veterans—Favored adequate care for service connected disabilities.

Foreign policy—Urged withdrawal from foreign activities as soon as national defense will permit. Opposed sending youth to foreign lands as fighting troops unless our own national security is endangered and then with consent of Congress.

Economy—Favored moving away from socialization in behalf of free private enterprise.

Labor—Favored the intent and principles of the Taft-Hartley act.

For two solid hours the candidates for nomination to Republican office in Nebraska paraded their wares before the convention delegates with greeting talks that extended from a few seconds to five minutes.

Fair Skies, 70s Forecast

Nebraska will have fair skies, turning cloudy in the west Tuesday night, the weather bureau reports, with temperatures across the state expected to be in the 70s.

The cooler temperatures and clear weather followed a week-end which saw heavy rains doing some damage in the state. Sutton got 2.95 inches of rain, with no severe damage but much erosion.

The hard rain at Sutton filled the city park, and gave the town's children a chance to go rowing in the park. Several small creeks in the area went out of their banks.

The heaviest spot on the week-end rains was between Mead and Wahoo, where about three inches of rain caused some damage.

Rodgers To Head Research

Assistant Succeeds Dr. Roger Shumate

Dr. Jack Rodgers, 33, associate professor in political science at the University of Nebraska, Monday was named director of research of the Legislative Council to succeed the late Dr. Roger V. Shumate, who died suddenly Saturday.

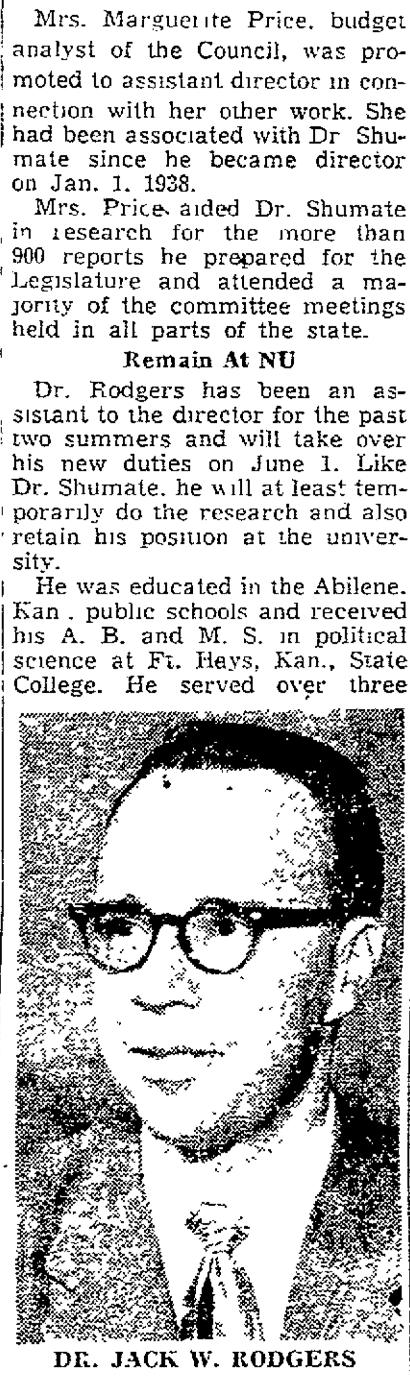
Mrs. Marguerite Price, budget analyst of the Council, was promoted to assistant director in connection with her other work. She had been associated with Dr. Shumate since he became director on Jan. 1, 1938.

Mrs. Price aided Dr. Shumate in research for the more than 900 reports he prepared for the Legislature and attended a majority of the committee meetings held in all parts of the state.

Remain At NU

Dr. Rodgers has been an assistant to the director for the past two summers and will take over his new duties on June 1. Like Dr. Shumate, he will at least temporarily do the research and also retain his position at the university.

He was educated in the Abilene, Kan., public schools and received his A. B. and M. S. in political science at Ft. Hays, Kan., State College. He served over three years in the Navy during World War II and returned to Ft. Hays where he taught for two years.



DR. JACK W. RODGERS

Rodgers came to Nebraska in 1950 and received his Ph. D. in political science in 1953. He has been an associate professor at the university since that time. He is married and has three children.

Shumate Praised

The executive board which made the selection subject to confirmation by the council consists of Sen. Harry Pizer, North Platte, chairman, and Sens. C. C. Lillibridge, Crete; Lester Anderson, Aurora, and Speaker Charles Tvrdik, Omaha.

Sen. Pizer speaking for the board in his usual brief and direct fashion summed up the work of Dr. Shumate by characterizing him as "a very fine man who did a very fine job."

It was decided that committee meetings scheduled over the state in the next few weeks would be carried out as planned.

MAJ. GEN. C. E. RYAN

. . . Pvt. Schine received 16 passes in his eight weeks of basic (AP Wirephoto.)

Gen. Ryan Says:

Schine—'A Man Set Aside'

Joe Aid Granted 4-Times Usual Draftee Passes

WASHINGTON (AP) — Maj. Gen. Cornelius Ryan testified Monday Pvt. G. David Schine was "a man set aside" in the eyes of fellow soldiers at Ft. Dix—a draftee who arrived in a blaze of publicity and got four times as many passes as the usual GI.

The Ft. Dix commander declared, however, that stories of "red carpet" treatment for the millionaire private and former McCarthy subcommittee aid are not true.

Ryan took the stand in the McCarthy-Army televised hearings—back in business after a week's layoff—in the wake of these developments:

1. Secretary of the Army Stevens and John G. Adams, Army counselor, denied under oath that the Army's actions in its row with Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) were dictated by the White House or by any other administration higher-ups.

Hot Protest

2. McCarthy said Stevens was guilty either of perjury or of a bad memory. Stevens hotly protested he was telling the truth, and rejected the senator's charge he was trying to "cover up" for top administration figures.

3. Adams wound up his testimony—indicating the Army is near the end of presenting its case—by saying he followed "suggestions" from White House and Justice Department officials but insisting the Army's actions were the responsibility of the Army alone.

4. A source on the McCarthy side said Vice President Nixon was the high administration official at whose suggestion Sen. Potter (R-Mich) asked the Army for a copy of its charges against McCarthy. Both McCarthy and Potter referred to such an official, without identifying him, during Stevens' testimony. Nixon was not available for comment.

Until Ryan took the stand, the day was mainly devoted to legalistic verbal wrestling over President Eisenhower's order blacking out testimony on talks between the Pentagon and "higher ups" in connection with the McCarthy-Army row.

McCarthy renewed his attack on the presidential order, calling it "completely improper" and asserting the investigations subcommittee which is holding these hearings is not bound by it.

The Wisconsin lawmaker drew fire from Adams by suggesting the Eisenhower directive conferred a sort of "Fifth Amendment privilege" on Army witnesses.

The McCarthy-Army inquiry shifted to less complicated—but just as controversial—ground when Ryan was called to testify about the Army's treatment of Schine.

Ryan started telling his story—he'll be back for more Tuesday—in a firm, crisp voice.

He said Schine got 16 passes in his eight weeks of basic training—compared with three or four for the average draftee.

"He had a pass every weekend that he was at Ft. Dix," the general said, adding that the passes included Thanksgiving, Christmas and New Year holidays.

Nicaragua And Honduras Aided As Tension Grows

Guatemala Denies Receiving More Red Weapons

Rumors Of War

WASHINGTON (AP) — An air of tension hung over Guatemala Monday night as it received arms from Iron Curtain countries and the United States rushed light weapons to two Guatemalan neighbors, Nicaragua and Honduras.

It was officially disclosed that this country was speeding weapons to Nicaragua and Honduras by air as the U S put into effect mutual defense assistance agreements recently signed with the two countries.

This development was followed by word from a Chicago Tribune reporter in Tegucigalpa, Honduras, that war between Honduras and Guatemala appeared imminent.

Lincoln White, a State Department press officer, said the department knew there was considerable tension between Honduras and Guatemala, but that it had no information that war between them was imminent.

Guatemala's foreign minister, Guillermo Toriello, said meanwhile his country had no criticism of the U. S. arms shipments to Honduras. And he denied Guatemala was receiving two more shiploads of arms from Iron Curtain countries.

CANNON AND TANKS

Even as Toriello talked with reporters, freight trains were still taking equipment, including cannon, tanks and armored cars from Puerto Barrios, where the Swedish ship Alfhelm had brought the military supplies from the Polish port of stettin.

Toriello, who talked with U. S. Ambassador John E. Peurifoy for an hour and a half Monday, give the impression he was optimistic about improving relations with this country.

He said he had proposed a new approach to the problem of United Fruit Co. properties, some of which have been taken over by the government.

But North American residents of Guatemala, some veterans of 20 years, were uneasy.

There were reports of workers shouting "Go home, Gringa (Yankee), to North American women.

Nicaragua Ignored

Toriello said Honduras is a good friend of the Guatamalan government and people. But he made no mention of Nicaragua, which has recalled its envoy from Guatemala.

"The equipment Guatemala has bought will never be used for anything else than to maintain internal peace," Toriello said.

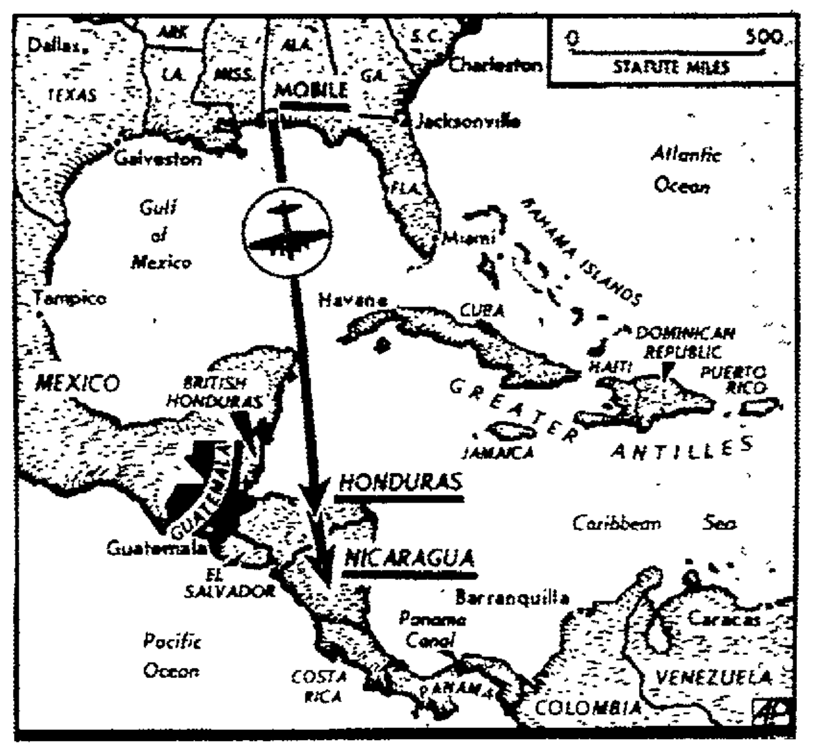
In his story about the possibility of war between Honduras and Guatemala, Chicago Tribune Reporter Jules Dubois said that Honduran border guards Sunday captured five armed Guatemalan Communists who had crossed over into Honduras.

Dubois also said troop movements were reported on the Guatemalan frontier in the vicinity of Puerto Barrios over the week-end. He also said Guatemalan Army authorities and civilian authorities had issued arms to civilians in the border area and ordered them to march to Honduras.

Russia's reaction to the news that the United States was speeding arms to Honduras and Nicaragua by plane was unusually swift.

Less than six hours after the official U.S. disclosure of the airlift, the Moscow radio in a home service broadcast was blasting it.

The Moscow Radio said the United States was "preparing an attack against Guatemala" by supplying arms to governments in Central America which were "under its control."



Arms For Guatemala Neighbors

The arrow indicates reported route of an arms airlift from the United States to Nicaragua and Honduras which was announced by the State Department Monday. There was no definite announcement of where the shipments start but there were reports they were being flown from Mobile, Ala., on the Gulf of Mexico. The two nations are neighbors of Guatemala (shaded) which the State Department has said received arms shipments last week from Communist Poland. (AP Wirephoto Map.)

Red Siege Beaten Off

SAIGON, Indo-China (AP)—French Union forces outnumbered three to two beat off a six-day pocket-size Dien Bien Phu type siege by the Vietminh in Northern Laos near Red China's border, the French high command said Monday.

The French-Laotian post, Nam Tha, is only 18 miles south of China's Yunnan province and 100 miles west of Dien Bien Phu. The defenders, who were subjected to continual mortar and machinegun fire beginning May 18, finally forced 400 attacking rebels to lift their siege.

Parachute Drops

The French and Laotian garrison were able to keep up the fight through parachute drops by French planes. They reported they knocked out 55 Vietminh while suffering "very light" losses themselves.

Nam Tha has strategic significance, guarding a spot near the junction of China, Laos and Burma.

Maj. Marc Charlet, a French mine expert, flew to Dien Bien Phu Monday to help demine the airstrip there so larger planes can remove the casualties faster.

Call For Special Charter Change Election Is Official

Mayor Clark Jeary has signed the official call for a special city election June 15 for the submission of nine proposed changes in the city charter.

The only issue drawing fire to date is the proposal giving the city authority to purchase property for the establishment of off-street parking lots. Private off-street parking lot operators have objected to the proposal as an invasion of private enterprise by a public body.

Witnesses Tampering Is Charged

OMAHA (AP) — Former Douglas County Deputy Sheriff Thomas Cronin was charged Monday with obstructing justice through alleged tampering with witnesses.

The charge involves identification by witnesses of David Lawrence, Omaha, who confessed five robberies at knife point and last week was sentenced to seven years in prison.

Deputy County Attorney M. Robert Fromkin outlined three different visits made to witnesses and during which Cronin allegedly tried to get them to change their stories.

On one occasion, Fromkin said, the deputy allegedly represented himself as being Sheriff Richard Collins.

$130,000 Bond Issue Okayed

MARQUETTE, Neb. — Voters here Monday approved a $130,000 school bond issue, but the margin was very close.

The proposal carried 195 to 147, just seven votes over of 55 per cent affirmative total needed for passage.

The funds will be used for the erection of an additional school house adjacent to the present building and for the furnishings for the building. The school district was recently reorganized.

Tenants Ousted By Fire Call

A number of tenants in an apartment house at 1643 O were routed out of bed early Tuesday morning by a small fire, which apparently involved only a mattress afire.

Firemen were called out shortly before 2 a.m. Damage was apparently very slight, although part of the building was filled with smoke.

Dr. Webster Leaving U Of N To Take Post At Kentucky U.

Dr. Gilbert T. Webster, agronomist at the University of Nebraska, has been appointed Chairman of the University of Kentucky's Agronomy Department. He assumes his new duties on June 1.

Rodgers To Head Research

Assistant Succeeds Dr. Roger Shumate

Dr. Jack Rodgers, 33, associate professor in political science at the University of Nebraska, Monday was named director of research of the Legislative Council to succeed the late Dr. Roger V. Shumate, who died suddenly Saturday.

Mrs. Marguerite Price, budget analyst of the Council, was promoted to assistant director in connection with her other work. She had been associated with Dr. Shumate since he became director on Jan. 1, 1938.

Mrs. Price aided Dr. Shumate in research for the more than 900 reports he prepared for the Legislature and attended a majority of the committee meetings held in all parts of the state.

Remain At NU

Dr. Rodgers has been an assistant to the director for the past two summers and will take over his new duties on June 1. Like Dr. Shumate, he will at least temporarily do the research and also retain his position at the university.

He was educated in the Abilene, Kan., public schools and received his A. B. and M. S. in political science at Ft. Hays, Kan., State College. He served over three years in the Navy during World War II and returned to Ft. Hays where he taught for two years.

DR. JACK W. RODGERS

Rodgers came to Nebraska in 1950 and received his Ph. D. in political science in 1953. He has been an associate professor at the university since that time. He is married and has three children.

Shumate Praised

The executive board which made the selection subject to confirmation by the council consists of Sen. Harry Pizer, North Platte, chairman, and Sens. C. C. Lillibridge, Crete; Lester Anderson, Aurora, and Speaker Charles Tvrdik, Omaha.

Sen. Pizer speaking for the board in his usual brief and direct fashion summed up the work of Dr. Shumate by characterizing him as "a very fine man who did a very fine job."

It was decided that committee meetings scheduled over the state in the next few weeks would be carried out as planned.

. . . Pvt. Schine received 16 passes in his eight weeks of basic. (AP Wirephoto.)

Gen. Ryan Says:

Schine—'A Man Set Aside'

Joe Aid Granted 4-Times Usual Draftee Passes

WASHINGTON (AP) — Maj. Gen. Cornelius Ryan testified Monday Pvt. G. David Schine was "a man set aside" in the eyes of fellow soldiers at Ft. Dix—a draftee who arrived in a blaze of publicity and got four times as many passes as the usual GI.

The Ft. Dix commander declared, however, that stories of "red carpet" treatment for the millionaire private and former McCarthy subcommittee aid are not true.

Ryan took the stand in the McCarthy-Army televised hearings—back in business after a week's layoff—in the wake of these developments:

1. Secretary of the Army Stevens and John G. Adams, Army counselor, denied under oath that the Army's actions in its row with Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) were dictated by the White House or by any other administration higher-ups.

Hot Protest

2. McCarthy said Stevens was guilty either of perjury or of a bad memory. Stevens hotly protested he was telling the truth, and rejected the senator's charge he was trying to "cover up" for top administration figures.

3. Adams wound up his testimony—indicating the Army is near the end of presenting its case—by saying he followed "suggestions" from White House and Justice Department officials but insisting the Army's actions were the responsibility of the Army alone.

4. A source on the McCarthy side said Vice President Nixon was the high administration official at whose suggestion Sen. Potter (R-Mich) asked the Army for a copy of its charges against McCarthy. Both McCarthy and Potter referred to such an official, without identifying him, during Stevens' testimony. Nixon was not available for comment.

Until Ryan took the stand, the day was mainly devoted to legalistic verbal wrestling over President Eisenhower's order blacking out testimony on talks between the Pentagon and "higher ups" in connection with the McCarthy-Army row.

McCarthy renewed his attack on the presidential order, calling it "completely improper" and asserting the investigations subcommittee which is holding these hearings is not bound by it.

The Wisconsin lawmaker drew fire from Adams by suggesting the Eisenhower directive conferred a sort of "Fifth Amendment privilege" on Army witnesses.

The McCarthy-Army inquiry shifted to less complicated—but just as controversial—ground when Ryan was called to testify about the Army's treatment of Schine.

Ryan started telling his story—he'll be back for more Tuesday—in a firm, crisp voice.

He said Schine got 16 passes in his eight weeks of basic training—compared with three or four for the average draftee.

"He had a pass every weekend that he was at Ft. Dix," the general said, adding that the passes included Thanksgiving, Christmas and New Year holidays.

Nicaragua And Honduras Aided As Tension Grows

Rumors Of War

WASHINGTON (AP) — An air of tension hung over Guatemala Monday night as it received arms from Iron Curtain countries and the United States rushed light weapons to two Guatemalan neighbors, Nicaragua and Honduras.

It was officially disclosed that this country was speeding weapons to Nicaragua and Honduras by air as the U.S. put into effect mutual defense assistance agreements recently signed with the two countries.

This development was followed by word from a Chicago Tribune reporter in Tegucigalpa, Honduras, that war between Honduras and Guatemala appeared imminent.

Lincoln White, a State Department press officer, said the department knew there was considerable tension between Honduras and Guatemala, but that it had no information that war between them was imminent.

Guatemala's foreign minister, Guillermo Toriello, said meanwhile his country had no criticism of the U. S. arms shipments to Honduras. And he denied Guatemala was receiving two more shiploads of arms from Iron Curtain countries.

CANNON AND TANKS

Even as Toriello talked with reporters, freight trains were still taking equipment, including cannon, tanks and armored cars from Puerto Barrios, where the Swedish ship Alfhelm had brought the military supplies from the Polish port of stettin.

Toriello, who talked with U. S. Ambassador John E. Peurifoy for an hour and a half Monday, give the impression he was optimistic about improving relations with this country.

He said he had proposed a new approach to the problem of United Fruit Co. properties, some of which have been taken over by the government.

But North American residents of Guatemala, some veterans of 20 years, were uneasy.

There were reports of workers shouting "Go home, Gringa (Yankee), to North American women.

Nicaragua Ignored

Toriello said Honduras is a good friend of the Guatamalan government and people. But he made no mention of Nicaragua, which has recalled its envoy from Guatemala.

"The equipment Guatemala has bought will never be used for anything else than to maintain internal peace," Toriello said.

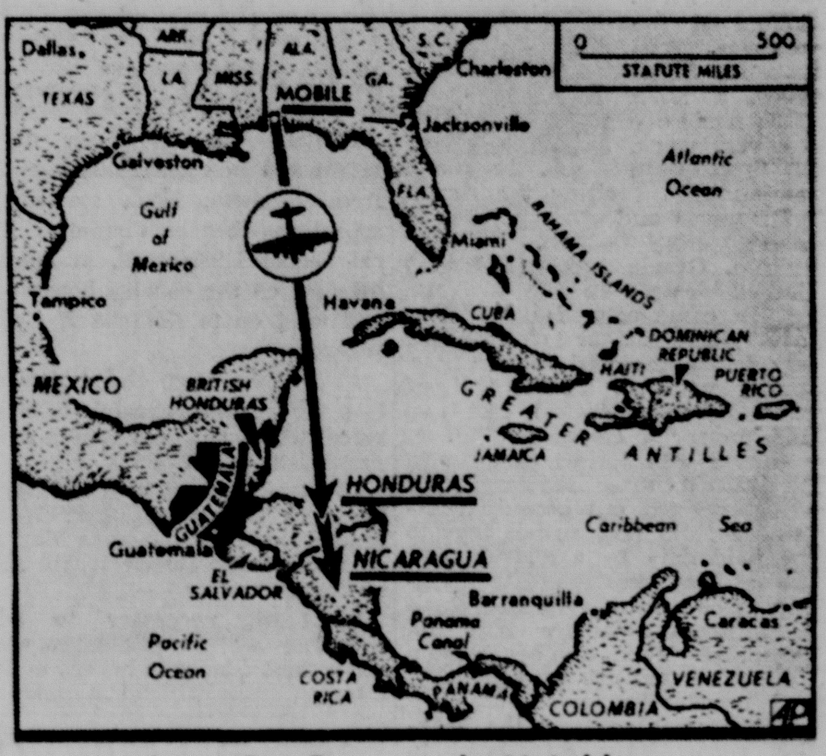
In his story about the possibility of war between Honduras and Guatemala, Chicago Tribune Reporter Jules Dubois said that Honduran border guards Sunday captured five armed Guatemalan Communists who had crossed over into Honduras.

Dubois also said troop movements were reported on the Guatemalan frontier in the vicinity of Puerto Barrios over the week-end. He also said Guatemalan Army authorities and civilian authorities had issued arms to civilians in the border area and ordered them to march to Honduras.

Russia's reaction to the news that the United States was speeding arms to Honduras and Nicaragua by plane was unusually swift.

Less than six hours after the official U.S. disclosure of the airlift, the Moscow radio in a home service broadcast was blasting it.

The Moscow Radio said the United States was "preparing an attack against Guatemala" by supplying arms to governments in Central America which were "under its control."



Arms For Guatemala Neighbors

The arrow indicates reported route of an arms airlife from the United States to Nicaragua and Honduras which was announced by the State Department Monday. There was no definite announcement of where the shipments start but there were reports they were being flown from Mobile, Ala., on the Gulf of Mexico. The two nations are neighbors of Guatemala (shaded) which the State Department has said received arms shipments last week from Communist Poland. (AP Wirephoto Map.)

Witnesses Tampering Is Charged

OMAHA (AP) — Former Douglas County Deputy Sheriff Thomas Cronin was charged Monday with obstructing justice through alleged tampering with witnesses.

The charge involves identification by witnesses of David Lawrence, Omaha, who confessed five robberies at knife point and last week was sentenced to seven years in prison.

Deputy County Attorney M. Robert Fromkin outlined three different visits made to witnesses and during which Cronin allegedly tried to get them to change their stories.

On one occasion, Fromkin said, the deputy allegedly represented himself as being Sheriff Richard Collins.

Red Siege Beaten Off

SAIGON, Indo-China (AP)—French Union forces outnumbered three to two beat off a six-day pocket-size Dien Bien Phu type siege by the Vietminh in Northern Laos near Red China's border, the French high command said Monday.

The French-Laotian post, Nam Tha, is only 18 miles south of China's Yunnan province and 100 miles west of Dien Bien Phu. The defenders, who were subjected to continual mortar and machinegun fire beginning May 18, finally forced 400 attacking rebels to lift their siege.

Parachute Drops

The French and Laotian garrison were able to keep up the fight through parachute drops by French planes. They reported they knocked out 55 Vietminh while suffering "very light" losses themselves.

Nam Tha has strategic significance, guarding a spot near the junction of China, Laos and Burma.

Maj. Marc Charlet, a French mine expert, flew to Dien Bien Phu Monday to help demine the airstrip there so larger planes can remove the casualties faster.

Call For Special Charter Change Election Is Official

Mayor Clark Jeary has signed the official call for a special city election June 15 for the submission of nine proposed changes in the city charter.

The only issue drawing fire to date is the proposal giving the city authority to purchase property for the establishment of off-street parking lots. Private off-street parking lot operators have objected to the proposal as an invasion of private enterprise by a public body.

$130,000 Bond Issue Okayed

MARQUETTE, Neb. — Voters here Monday approved a $130,000 school bond issue, but the margin was very close.

The proposal carried 195 to 147, just seven votes over of 55 per cent affirmative total needed for passage.

The funds will be used for the erection of an additional school house adjacent to the present building and for the furnishings for the building. The school district was recently reorganized.

Tenants Ousted By Fire Call

A number of tenants in an apartment house at 1643 O were routed out of bed early Tuesday morning by a small fire, which apparently involved only a mattress afire.

Firemen were called out shortly before 2 a.m. Damage was apparently very slight, although part of the building was filled with smoke.

Demos Stage A Walkout

Witness Accused Of Linking Douglas With Socialist Movement

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Wayne L. Hays of Ohio led a Democratic walkout from a public session of a special House inquiry committee Monday after accusing a witness of linking Sen. Paul Douglas (D-Ill) with a Socialist movement.

Sen. Douglas

Hays contended the witness, Aaron M. Sargeant, a San Francisco lawyer, used a "scattergun technique" in citing the names of Douglas and other persons in a derogatory fashion.

Rep. Gracie Pfost (D-Idaho) joined Hays in the walkout, which came after Hays deman ded that further charges be aired behind closed doors. Chair proxy votes to defeat Hays' man Reese (R-Tenn) cast two motion for a closed session.

Reese was forced to adjourn the hearing after Hays and Mrs. Pfost walked out because committee rules require hearings to be held only by a quorum and for at least one minority member to be present unless all three Republican members are on hand. However, another session of the committee is scheduled for Tuesday.

As he stalked from the hearing room, Hays threatened to punch a spectator who was heard to mutter something that sounded like, "Hi, Malenkov."' Turning on the heckler, Hays asked him if he had made the remark.

"If you did, be man enough to say so and I'll punch you in the nose," the irate Ohio lawmaker said.

When the spectator remained silent, Hays walked quickly from the room.

Shortly before the blowup, Sargeant read a series of names from a pamphlet which he said was issued by the League for Industrial Democracy at the organization's 35th anniversary dinner in New York City in 1941.

A list of names, including a "Paul Douglas," followed an introduction which said: "Many present day leaders of thought were among active members of the Intercollegiate Socialist Society college chapters."

Rep. Hays said Sargeant had invoked the name of Sen. Douglas. However, Hays said in talking with newsmen later he did not know whether the Paul Douglas listed in the pamphlet was the senator from Illinois. Sargeant did not identify Douglas as a senator.

The afternoon session was barely under way when Hays raised "a point of order," citing a committee rule providing for closed-door sessions whenever testimony by a witness might injure the reputations of others.

Chairman Reece overruled Hays' objection, contending that Sargeant had made no derogatory remarks about anyone.

Sargeant described himself as head of the fund for American Leadership, Inc., a California non-profit organization for the education of leaders in anti-subversive work.

Saying his own group has no money, Sargeant lashed out at other tax-exempt foundations with a charge that they are "deliberately" promoting socialism.

Two Nemaha Students Leading Parallel Lives Educationally

PERU, Neb. (AP)—Loren Argabright and Ben Duerfeldt, both 21, from Nemaha, Neb., started to school together at Champion Rural School District 59, graduated together on the country honor roll and went on to Nemaha High School.

At Nemaha High Duerfeldt was told he would probably be class valedictorian but final exams gave Argabright a .3 edge.

The two went on to Peru State Teachers College together. When seniors there get diplomas May 25 Argabright and Duerfeldt will still be together.

It's hardly necessary to add that they will be graduated with the highest academic honors in the class.

Duerfeldt Argabright

After graduation both will go into college teaching in Kansas.

There'll be at least a temporary break in the parallel chain of events when Duerfeldt gets married in June. Argabright indicates he'll stick to bachelorhood for a while yet.

Navy Rocket Sets Record For Altitude

. . . Soars 158 Miles Up

WASHINGTON (INS) — The Navy announced that its Viking XI rocket established a world's altitude record Monday by soaring 158 miles above the earth in a test at White Sands, N. M.

In the flight, the Navy said, the rocket attained a speed of 4,300 miles an hour.

The previous record was 136 miles above the earth. The rocket was designed and built by the Glenn L. Martin Aircraft Co. of Baltimore, for the Naval Research Laboratory in Washington.

The missile carried nearly 700 pounds of scientific recording and transmitting instruments which flashed data back to stations on the ground.

Rep. Hays said Sargeant had invoked the name of Sen. Douglas. However, Hays said in talking with newsmen later he did not know whether the Paul Douglas listed in the pamphlet was the senator from Illinois. Sargeant did not identify Douglas as a senator.

The afternoon session was barely under way when Hays raised "a point of order," citing a committee rule providing for closed-door sessions whenever testimony by a witness might injure the reputations of others.

Chairman Reece overruled Hays' objection, contending that Sargeant had made no derogatory remarks about anyone.

Sargeant described himself as head of the fund for American Leadership, Inc., a California non-profit organization for the education of leaders in anti-subversive work.

Saying his own group has no money, Sargeant lashed out at other tax-exempt foundations with a charge that they are "deliberately" promoting socialism.

Navy Rocket Sets Record For Altitude

. . . Soars 158 Miles Up

WASHINGTON (INS) — The Navy announced that its Viking XI rocket established a world's altitude record Monday by soaring 158 miles above the earth in a test at White Sands, N. M.

In the flight, the Navy said, the rocket attained a speed of 4,300 miles an hour.

Potter Refuses To Link Nixon With Request In Army Charges

Joe Cites Call By 'Official'

NEW YORK (AP)—"The only thing I can say is that it was not the President and it was not Private Schine."

This smiling answer was the only comment by Sen. Charles E. Potter (R-Mich) when asked whether Vice President Nixon had suggested that he seek a copy of the Army's charges involving Pvt. G. David Schine.

Potter interrupted his role as a member of the subcommittee hearing the McCarhty-Army controversy in Washington to fly to New York and deliver a speech.

Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis) had said earlier that someone "high in the executive department" telephoned Potter before the Army charges were made public and asked that he request a copy.

'Vehicle'

McCarthy suggested that the administration official had sought to use Potter as a "vehicle" for making public charges that improper pressure had been brought in behalf of Schine, a former unpaid McCarthy aid.

Potter told reporters here the purpose of the call had been to assure that the charges would go to Republican members of the McCarthy subcommittee.

"It would have been most embarrassing if this list (of charges) had been sent over and perhaps broken out on the floor of the Senate by a member of the minority party without the majority party knowing what was in it," he said.

Emotional Issue

"It should have been done then, and we could have kept the controversy right there and avoided this national, emotional issue which is all out of proportion to its real importance"

The Army's report eventually was made public and led to the present hearings.

Potter, who lost both legs in a land mine explosion in France during World War II, delivered the commencement address at the Institute for the Crippled and Disabled He planned to fly back to Washington Monday night

Why Does The Farmer Plant?

Clarence Davis, formerly of Lincoln, now solicitor of the United States Department of the Interior, keynoting the Republican state pre-primary convention at Fremont raised an interesting question.

He told his fellow Nebraskans the Eisenhower administration farm policy goal is a "system which will guarantee to agriculture a reasonable return for his labors without again starting the spiral of overproduction and terrific surplus."

In those few words, Mr. Davis brushed aside the natural hazards of farming. When a man in Nebraska plants wheat in the fall, he has no idea whether it will germinate in the first place, ride through the winter without winter killing, or in the spring move on to the harvest without suffering damage resulting in partial or total loss of the crop. When he plants corn in late May, he does not know whether the crop will survive through the heat of July and August, get enough moisture to insure a reasonable yield, and escape the killing frost in the fall.

Mr. Davis simply simplifies the hazards of farming until the picture he paints of Secretary Benson's flexible price support program does not recognize the real facts. The farmer plants in hope and in faith. He harvests after nature has finished with his fields.

It isn't a matter of the turning on and off of machinery.

There is one other factor Mr. Davis overlooks. The real farmer is proud of those fields and his pride is not simply a matter of the dollars which the harvest will bring him.

There are a lot of people out on the farm who get a joy and satisfaction from growing things.

The Human Element

Out at Grand Island last week, there was a conference on highway safety, spear-headed by Gov. Crosby. It is time that public attention be directed to the increasing hazards of the highways, which thus far in 1954 have produced the impressive total of 114 deaths as contrasted with 77 for the same period of time in 1953.

We talk a great deal about highway safety. Unfortunately it takes a little bit more than talk. Our highways, we are told, are getting older—are in need of attention—and under the pounding they have received, are not in tip-top condition. Still, that cannot explain all the fatalities. Present-day automobile models are capable of greater speed if the car driver makes up his mind to step on the gas, but still that does not explain all the fatalities.

There is only one basic explanation for the mounting highway deaths. We recognize that many accidents at the time they occur are classified as unavoidable—that it is impossible to assess blame. But too many accidents while not legally blamable nevertheless represent that intensely complicated factor known as the human element. It is the difference between safety and a close shave with a crash. It adds up to sturdy vigorous life one second—and death a few seconds later.

The so-called human element is the starting point for highway safety. It means caution and care in driving—not in the case of the careful driver but invariably where caution and care are missing.

Busy Nebraskans

Congress may be busy but not too busy to permit Rep. Carl Curtis of the First Nebraska District to spend some time here in the state building new political fences.

Mr. Curtis had made up his mind that he would not seek re-election. He was tired of Washington, or something. Then with the death of Sen. Dwight Griswold, Curtis decided to seek the vacated Senate seat. He has been around and about here in Nebraska on frequent occasions since changing his mind. It is perhaps unfair to criticize Mr. Curtis for leaving his chores in Washington in order to cultivate the home folks. The fact is, he is not too well known beyond the borders of his own district.

Actually, 1954 has been a little bit tough on Nebraska's Congressional delegation.

First there was Founders Day, and it would have been unseemly to pass up that event because of duties back in Washington.

Now there is the pre-primary convention, and once again, that calls for dropping everything in order to be back here where the medicine is mixed.

Fortunately for Nebraskans, the state has a voice in these tough battles now in progress. Eve Bowring was reported to have voted in favor of giving the vote to 18-year-olds. Sen. Butler was not recorded. Mrs. Bowring also brought the glad tidings to Gov. Crosby that three southwestern counties would share in the federal emergency wind erosion and control fund. Why not keep Mrs. Bowring on the job until some of the other members of the Nebraska delegation have completed and recovered from the effects of the 1954 campaign?

Of Men And Things

By J. E. LAWRENCE

Good, old-fashioned, hard-headed common sense was in complete control at the Republican pre-primary gathering in Fremont Monday when by voice vote it was decided not to endorse candidates. That, it is to be believed, was thoroughly in keeping with the spirit of the legislation adopted by the Nebraska Unicameral Legislature at its regular session, although the door had been left open.

★

The delegates to the pre-primary convention shied away from an extremely delicate senatorial contest by simply avoiding endorsements. In a divided field, Rep. Curtis, Gov. Bob Crosby, former State Chairman Dave Martin, and one or two others who either have filed or are weighing the possibilities of filing simply could not be ignored. That meant a blanket endorsement for all the contenders—consequently meaningless in the extended blessing — with the possible exception of Terry Carpenter, a member of the Nebraska Unicameral, a delegate to the last Republican national convention, who from the very outset supported the candidacy of President Eisenhower. Earlier there had been an announcement that Sen. Carpenter would not attend the pre-primary gathering in Fremont. The convention was faced with the problem either of endorsing him or placing him in a "martyr's" role on orders of the big wheels who run such proceedings.

Strictly In Keeping With Facts

There is some reason to believe that Terry would have loved that. There is also some basis for the belief that he could have made quite a little bit of it. It is not difficult to conjure up a picture of him storming up and down the state, denouncing the party bosses, with the chances that any failure to endorse his candidacy would have gained him votes.

★

Perhaps 1954 will see the end of this bit of nonsense for busy men and women which goes by the name of pre-primary convention. Ever since it was initiated, it has been neither fish nor fowl. It was set up, outwardly, at least, in order to avoid the so-called evil of "name" candidates in a primary election. The idea was to give party organizations a greater voice in selecting the nominees of the two major parties. Actually nothing came of it. So-called "name" candidates kept on winning, suggesting the truth of one of the lines from the old Gilbert and Sullivan operetta that "the flowers which bloom in the spring, tra la, have nothing to do with the case." If the hope was to head off "Terrible Terry" by refusing him an endorsement—and brief floor discussion called for endorsements for top offices—it would have been a misguided action, with the possibility of its backfire. A committee had reported on procedure that to endorse would be "harmful to party unity" and "prejudicial to the interests of persons who have not completed filing." It was this report to which Herbert White of Omaha, arguing for endorsements to top offices, referred when he said he was afraid of "mugwumps" in the party, a jab interpreted to refer to Terry. "Let's stand up and be counted."

Chance To Blow Off Steam

Well, that was that. State Chairman Spear ruled that the convention delegates were opposed to endorsements on repeated attempts to amend the committee's report. The wide-open, free primary is back again after a brief interlude.

Dickenson Case

The story of Corporal Edward Dickenson has been pushed out of public attention by more dramatic news. The mountaineer boy who went to Korea, was captured, fell in with the Reds, became their tool, recanted and returned to the welcoming arms of the Army, has wound up badly. A court martial found him guilty of collaboration and informing on fellow prisoners. He has been sentenced to a dishonorable discharge and to 10 years in prison.

One remote from the detailed evidence, but confident that the trial was fair, can hardly argue with the court. But it can be said that the court's sternness with a weak-willed boy who was exploited for propaganda purpose as readily as the Reds used him for their purpose offered no final and accurate yardstick for the treatment of others who have or will be brain-washed by the diabolical Red devices to a point of disserving their own country.

To Blame For Them

Russian-born Professor Constantin W. Boldyreff said that a revolution in Russia is inevitable, but is being held back by the indecisive policies of the free world. We think that is carrying it a little too far. The West and America will patiently take whatever blame the Ruskies want to load on us for the world in general being what it is. But we didn't think up Communism nor force it on them either. They can hold their revolution any time they wish.

Today's Lesson

McCarthy Got Copies Of Executive Files

WASHINGTON—A tip to Secretary of the Army Stevens—If you will check with your fellow cabinet member, Attorney General Brownell, you will find that the FBI sent two reports to the Justice Department regarding the Signal Corps and Fort Monmouth about one year ago — April 1953. It was a good many months later, after President Eisenhower ordered all cabinet officers to give McCarthy carbon copies of all Executive Department investigations, that McCarthy got reports on the FBI probe of Fort Monmouth and saw a chance to jump into the headlines . . . However, I think you will find that the Justice Department had itself concluded, on the basis of its own FBI investigations, that there was no evidence of espionage at Fort Monmouth . . . Latest senate quip from the McCarthy hearings: "This is the first time since the Philistines that an Army was defeated with the jawbone of an ass" . . . Every important TV quiz program is planning to invite Army Counsel Joseph Welsh to be a guest star after the McCarthy hearings are over . . . When the Army-McCarthy hearings began, McCarthy demanded that every member of his staff —clerks, secretaries, and investigators—take a loyalty oath supporting him and Roy Cohn. However, one staff member refused to sign—Mrs. Ruth Young Watts. So far she hasn't been fired. She was around Capitol Hill long before McCarthy.

British-U. S. Split — Behind Winston Chuchill's dour speech in which for the first time he didn't defend his mother's native country, the U. S., was a backstage quarrel at Geneva; also serious difficulties over Indo-China . . . At Geneva, Anthony Eden discovered that U.S. Under-secretary of State Bettle Smith was talking on the QT with French Foreign Minister Bidault . . . They were hatching up a Southeast Asia pact without John Bull . . . Eden immediately phoned Churchill. Churchill told him to have a showdown with Undersecretary Smith. He did so. But Smith more or less told him to jump in the lake, that he'd talk to the French if he wanted to . . . Churchill retaliated by pulling New Zealand out of the proposed Asiatic Defense Pact. Now the U. S. is left only with shaky France, sparse Australia, and the willing but weak Philippines . . . The Anglo-American split is serious. Some diplomats compare it to the days of Munich when another British Prime Minister appeased another dictator and got branded with the sign of the umbrella for life . . . At that time Churchill was one of his bitterest critics.

McCarthy's Pulling Power??— One reason Sen. Homer Ferguson of Michigan spoke out against having Joe campaign for him in Michigan was the Louis Bean political survey of Joe's previous campaigning. A copy of the Bean survey went to the White House in advance of publication and showed McCarthy's vote-pulling power wasn't what it's supposed to be . . . Handsome Allan Shivers of Texas isn't going to have quite as easy a time getting re-elected governor as expected. A lot of Ike-Democrats are sore at him . . . The Alsop brothers scored a real victory when they got Attorney General Brownell to probe Paul Crouch for possible perjury. He's the ex-Commie, paid Justice Department witness who tried to smear ex-WPAdministrator Aubrey Williams and the Clifford Durrs. Durr was former FCCommissioner and Mrs. Durr is the sister-in-law of Justice Hugo Black . . . Congressman Louis Graham of Pennsylvania has been so dilatory about calling a meeting of his House Immigration Subcommittee that 177 Senate bills have piled up awaiting action. Graham blithely ignores them . . . Chester Bowles, one of the best governors Connecticut ever had, is going to be ditched by old-line Democratic leaders for the gubernatorial nomination—if they can possibly get away with it. This is a sure sign they think they can win in November. If they thought they would lose, they'd nominate Bowles whom they can't control after election.

Atomic Vegetables — Atomic Energy Commission experiments indicate that meat, potatoes, onions and possibly other foods can be preserved for two years by atomic radiation. The Army is so impressed by the discovery that it may undertake a five-year research program of atomic food preservation for the military...Philippine President Magsaysay is urging Secretary of Defense Wilson to jazz up the U.S.-Philippine defense treaty immediately... strengthen bases, activate new bases, increase the size of U.S. detachments already in the Philippines ... the U.S. has a total of 23 Army, Navy and Air Force bases scattered throughout the islands; but only three are on an active basis. Magsaysay wants at least ten activated ... Dave Schoenberg, ace CBS commentator, flew to Indo-China from Paris for special newscasts. But he found conditions so bad that he sent most of his findings to the Pentagon as a classified report. The native government of Bao Dai, he reported, cannot survive, even if granted complete independence by France.

Joe For President — Joe's office has been handing out reams of badges and matchbooks proclaiming: "I like McCarthy and His Methods." One supporter, Mrs. Anne Rogers, has been passing them out at cocktail parties. Another group has established a "McCarthy for President" headquarters. (It's pretty much the same group that boosted MacArthur for President.) ... Sen. McCarthy may have inadvertently revealed the identity of the army officer who slipped him the garbled and abbreviated FBI report on Fort Monmouth. Early in the hearings, McCarthy asked Secretary of the Army Stevens about a conversation that took place in front of an army major, who obviously had run to McCarthy later and blabbed about the conversation. To refresh Stevens' memory, McCarthy wrote the major's name on a slip of paper and handed it to him. Today the Army is investigating whether this same major might have slipped the phony J. Edgar Hoover letter to McCarthy.

Chinese Communists Rebuild 'Great Wall'

GENEVA—The contract between East and West—the communist and non-communist halves of the world—is nowhere more striking than among the hundreds of newspaper men covering the international conference here. Reporters from the West work intensively to develop every possible angle of the story. They make strenuous efforts, usually with little success, to get the viewpoint of the three communist delegations, that is the Chinese, Russians and North Koreans.

Representatives of the press of the Communist world stick close to their own delegations. The Soviet correspondents have no interest in any viewpoint other than that of Moscow and Peiping.

The zeal of Western reporters to develop all the news, whether good or bad for the West in the struggle with communism, is often a hairshirt for Western diplomats. Every move that they make is reported and now and then, in the twilight zone of rumor and surmise, some moves that they don't make.

This reporter heard France's Foreign Minister George Bidault in a small off-the-record session describe his difficulties in attempting to obtain a firm armistice agreement in Indo-China. Bidault prefaced his remarks by saying that every move he made was reported almost before he made it while the communists had been able to conceal their intentions. He added wryly that this put him under something of a handicap.

But one delegation has remained up to this moment at least impenetrable. That is the delegation of Communist China. Every newspaper man here would like to interview Chou En-Lai, China's premier-foreign minister who is for the first time attending an international conference as the spokesman for his government.

Chou lives in a handsome villa near Geneva surrounded by Swiss guards and his own security officers. Efforts to get so much as a glimpse of him are stopped by the gatekeeper at Villa Montfleury who has the strictest orders to admit no one who does not have the proper credentials.

There is one theoretical avenue of access which a number of reporters have tried. That is the official press office of the delegation in Room 111 at the Hotel Beau Rivage. Each visitor to Room 111 reports an identical experience.

He is received by two young Chinese in the small salon of the hotel suite. One is theoretically the interpreter for the other although they alternate this role, since it is quite evident that they both understand and speak English. Of course, it is explained at the outset they can answer no substantive questions about the attitude of the Chinese delegation since such answers can come only from Wang Ping-Nan, secretary-general of the delegation.

It is possible to see Wang Ping-Nan? Unfortunately no, he is very, very busy.

Giving politely evasive answers to all questions, they appear to be enjoying a private joke. To speak with Mr. Hsiung Hsiang-Hui, the head of the press section of the delegation? No, unfortunately that will not be possible as Mr. Hsiung is extremely busy, very, very busy.

The only voice out of the delegation is that of the official spokesman at the public briefings in the Maison De La Presse established by the Swiss in a five-story building that was once occupied by a department store. The official spokesman blandly turns aside questions from western reporters about the Russians occupying Dairen and Port Arthur contrary to Chou En-Lai's statement that all foreign occupying forces should leave China. If such questions are embarrassing, the spokesman gives no sign of it.

The public briefing put on by the various delegations are a kind of public notice board designed to draw attention to an official view. Behind this front reporters search for news that is not in the public and official report. And often on the western side but rarely on the eastern side of the great divide they find it.

Garden Glances With The Moon

"Now is the time!

Of cheer to those around
Whose lives are now so dear.
They may not meet you
In the coming year.

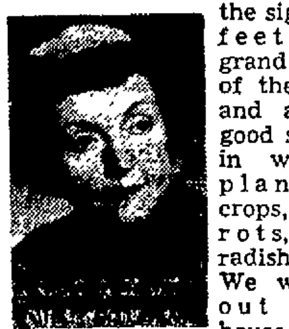
★

It's now fourth lunar quarter. One does little planting when the moon is dark, but today and tomorrow it happens to be in the watery and fruitful sign, Pisces, the sign of the feet of the grand old man of the zodiac, and a very good sign it is in which to plant root crops, as carrots, beets, radishes, etc. We will set out greenhouse-grown petunias, geraniums, coleus, and one or two other plants we didn't have time to plant last week, some glad corms, canna and dahlia tubers, and tuberoses. Very early Thursday morning, May's waning moon will enter the movable, fiery and barren sign, Aries. Saturday morning at 5:36 it will enter the fixed, earthy, dry and semi-fruitful sign, Taurus. Early Monday of next week, it will enter the airy, flexed and barren sign, Gemini, and late Monday night there'll be a new moon. So this year's merry month of May will exit in the rays of a very new moon.



Mrs. Swingle

On Wednesday, June 2, Thursday, June 3, and Friday, June 4, until 10:38 a.m., the new moon will be in the movable, watery and exceedingly fruitful sign, Cancer. Now is the time to set out the rest of your cabbage, tomatoes, eggplant, peppers, celery, kahlrabba, etc., and flowers and herbs that produce their yield above the soil.

Now is the time to select and buy iris for next year's blooms. To see them blooming in the fields of the grower is best, of course. If you cannot do this, then attend the nearest iris show with pad and pencil in hand and write down your favorites. Then peruse the growers' catalogues for height, etc., and mail in your order. The grower will ship them when the proper time arrives to plant, which is just after their blooming period when by nature they are dormant.

Mrs. J. F. Brubaker, 601 No. 9th, Beatrice, chairman of the garden department of the Beatrice Federated Woman's Club staged with the assistance of the other members Beatrice's first annual Iris Show Saturday and Sunday. Despite Sturday's sudden heat and hot winds, beautiful and well-cultured iris were on display. I hope you saw this show—and congratulations to Mrs. Brubaker and the garden department.

Sunday on our way up to "The Greater Omaha Iris Society's" fifth annual show, we stopped at Henry E. Sass's Maple Road garden on Highway 130 east of Elkhorn, there meeting Mrs. R. C. Benson of Bancroft who invited us to her open house next Sunday, May 30, to see iris.

Do wish that we could go, but most of the members of the Cornhusker Rose Society will be in Kansas City, Mo., this week end attending the American Rose Society's North Central District's first rose show and conference. There are seven states in the North Central District — North and South Dakota, Nebraska, Kansas, Minnesota, Iowa and Missouri — and this will be quite an occasion for Nebraska rosarians.

So until another day—

Bloomer Girls

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: The following appeared in the Alton (Iowa) Democrat under its "55 Years Ago (1899)" items, and I thought The Star might be interested in it, too:

"Lincoln, Nebr., was in an uproar over posters appearing all over the city before the appearance of 200 young university women of the 'Young Ladies' Physical Culture class' in a drill at the University Armory where the girls were to appear in 'bloomers.' The posters announced in large letters: "Grand attraction: great stock exhibit, university arsenal. The finest troop of trained calves ever seen in the west' etc., etc. The posters were torn down and the class appeared before a packed house."

Fishing Pleasure

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: In regard to the Oak Lake beautification project—I am only one of many who have enjoyed the pleasure of fishing and boating on Oak Lake. It has been a wonderful spot to which to drive in the evening or on Sunday, and though the fish never were too plentiful, the anticipation of catching one too big for the line and the fact that the family was safe in the car close by made it all the more enjoyable.

Anyone who saw the parking situation along the highway near the lake Sunday, May 16, knows the above mentioned pleasure is over. I for one insist all the painted telephone poles lying around could never replace one little tot's crumpled body had he been struck down by an auto crossing the highway trying to get to the lake. Fortunately this has not happened, but if it does happen, it is too late.

I repeat, whoever designed this project did not have the safety of those who enjoyed the lake in mind. The record in the past speaks for itself—a good time and a safe time by all at Oak Lake.

The Wahoo Story

Wahoo, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: I would like to comment on the article of May 9, "Wahoo, The Saunders County Prosperous Town." The writing and photography were received here with the very finest of feeling and admiration. Usually it is very easy to receive disgruntled criticism when one works for someone. However, we feel that the manner in which the reporter and photographer went about their work while in Wahoo should be noted. As far as we can see, there has not been and should not be anything but the finest of comment on the story. We wish to express thanks for the publication and to the fine men who visited us for a job excellently done.

AEC Chairman Strauss Is Charged 'Dictatorial'

WASHINGTON—While the public watches the politicians work on the next election in the Army-McCarthy hearings, the interests of the next generation in the field of atomic power are at stake in almost unnoticed hearings in the old Supreme Court chamber in the Capitol.

The Joint Committee on Atomic Energy has before it a bill fixing governmental policy on the production and distribution of atomic energy for peaceful uses. Experimental reactors to create that energy are now being built. What Congress does or fails to do will set the pattern for future generations to whom atomic power will be as important as electricity has been to the men and women who do the world's work today.

Rarely has so much that is vitally important been in the hands of so few. Only five of the 18-man committee attend the hearings regularly: Chairman Cole and Sen. Hickenlooper, Republicans who are sponsoring the bill, and three Democrats: Sen. Pastore and Reps. Holifield and Price.

Two circumstances that would otherwise be tragic may have the effect in stimulating interest in the tremendous changes that are afoot in the delicate and dangerous atomic field.

One is the security trial of Dr. Robert Oppenheimer, the physicist who made a crucial contribution to the atomic and hydrogen bombs. The other is the fact that Adm. Lewis Strauss, named by the President both as chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission and his personal advisor on atomic matters, is under heavy fire by his colleagues, by atomic scientists generally and by some members of Congress.

Should Dr. Oppenheimer be cleared, wary Democrats confidently expect a typical McCarthy blast blaming the Democratic members. It is added that Adm. Strauss probably planned it that way.

The principal charge against Adm. Strauss, who is exceptionally brilliant and capable, is that he is a martinet and seeks dictatorial powers over the commission. What brought the charge to the fore was a provision in the new legislation which would have made him the "principal officer" of the AEC. The original McMahon bill gave the five members equal power and staggered their terms to insure continuity of policy.

Adm. Strauss was to have taken the witness stand Monday. At his request the hearing was postponed to Wednesday, June 2, possibly because the Oppenheimer report is imminent. At that time, however, he can expect a vigorous cross-examination and his colleagues may be expected to follow him to the stand.

The personalities may rescue the technical principles which are so involved and hard to explain. What the Cole-Hickenlooper bill—a rewrite of the White House proposals—does is to fix the terms for participation of private industry in the atomic energy program.

What Democrats claim it also does—but have had trouble dramatizing—is to set up a patent system which will create private monopolies costly and burdensome to the taxpayers who have already invested the staggering total of $12 billion in the atom.

The President put safeguards against monopoly into his proposals; the bill as it now stands dropped out that part.

Why Does The Farmer Plant?

Clarence Davis, formerly of Lincoln, now solicitor of the United States Department of the Interior, keynoting the Republican state pre-primary convention at Fremont raised an interesting question.

He told his fellow Nebraskans the Eisenhower administration farm policy goal is a "system which will guarantee to agriculture a reasonable return for his labors without again starting the spiral of overproduction and terrific surplus."

In those few words, Mr. Davis brushed aside the natural hazards of farming. When a man in Nebraska plants wheat in the fall, he has no idea whether it will germinate in the first place, ride through the winter without winter killing, or in the spring move on to the harvest without suffering damage resulting in partial or total loss of the crop. When he plants corn in late May, he does not know whether the crop will survive through the heat of July and August, get enough moisture to insure a reasonable yield, and escape the killing frost in the fall.

Mr. Davis simply simplifies the hazards of farming until the picture he paints of Secretary Benson's flexible price support program does not recognize the real facts. The farmer plants in hope and in faith. He harvests after nature has finished with his fields.

It isn't a matter of the turning on and off of machinery.

There is one other factor Mr. Davis overlooks. The real farmer is proud of those fields and his pride is not simply a matter of the dollars which the harvest will bring him.

There are a lot of people out on the farm who get a joy and satisfaction from growing things.

The Human Element

Out at Grand Island last week, there was a conference on highway safety, spear-headed by Gov. Crosby. It is time that public attention be directed to the increasing hazards of the highways, which thus far in 1954 have produced the impressive total of 114 deaths as contrasted with 77 for the same period of time in 1953.

We talk a great deal about highway safety. Unfortunately it takes a little bit more than talk. Our highways, we are told, are getting older—are in need of attention—and under the pounding they have received, are not in tip-top condition. Still, that cannot explain all the fatalities. Present-day automobile models are capable of greater speed if the car driver makes up his mind to step on the gas, but still that does not explain all the fatalities.

There is only one basic explanation for the mounting highway deaths. We recognize that many accidents at the time they occur are classified as unavoidable—that it is impossible to assess blame. But too many accidents while not legally blamable nevertheless represent that intensely complicated factor known as the human element. It is the difference between safety and a close shave with a crash. It adds up to sturdy vigorous life one second—and death a few seconds later.

The so-called human element is the starting point for highway safety. It means caution and care in driving—not in the case of the careful driver but invariably where caution and care are missing.

Busy Nebraskans

Congress may be busy but not too busy to permit Rep. Carl Curtis of the First Nebraska District to spend some time here in the state building new political fences.

Mr. Curtis had made up his mind that he would not seek re-election. He was tired of Washington, or something. Then with the death of Sen. Dwight Griswold, Curtis decided to seek the vacated Senate seat. He has been around and about here in Nebraska on frequent occasions since changing his mind. It is perhaps unfair to criticize Mr. Curtis for leaving his chores in Washington in order to cultivate the home folks. The fact is, he is not too well known beyond the borders of his own district.

Actually, 1954 has been a little bit tough on Nebraska's Congressional delegation.

First there was Founders Day, and it would have been unseemly to pass up that event because of duties back in Washington.

Now there is the pre-primary convention, and once again, that calls for dropping everything in order to be back here where the medicine is mixed.

Fortunately for Nebraskans, the state has a voice in these tough battles now in progress. Eve Bowring was reported to have voted in favor of giving the vote to 18-year-olds. Sen. Butler was not recorded. Mrs. Bowring also brought the glad tidings to Gov. Crosby that three southwestern counties would share in the federal emergency wind erosion and control fund. Why not keep Mrs. Bowring on the job until some of the other members of the Nebraska delegation have completed and recovered from the effects of the 1954 campaign?

Of Men And Things

By J. E. LAWRENCE

Good, old-fashioned, hard-headed common sense was in complete control at the Republican pre-primary gathering in Fremont Monday when by voice vote it was decided not to endorse candidates. That, it is to be believed, was thoroughly in keeping with the spirit of the legislation adopted by the Nebraska Unicameral Legislature at its regular session, although the door had been left open.

Strictly In Keeping With Facts

The delegates to the pre-primary convention shied away from an extremely delicate senatorial contest by simply avoiding endorsements. In a divided field, Rep. Curtis, Gov. Bob Crosby, former State Chairman Dave Martin, and one or two others who either have filed or are weighing the possibilities of filing simply could not be ignored. That meant a blanket endorsement for all the contenders—consequently meaningless in the extended blessing — with the possible exception of Terry Carpenter, a member of the Nebraska Unicameral, a delegate to the last Republican national convention, who from the very outset supported the candidacy of President Eisenhower. Earlier there had been an announcement that Sen. Carpenter would not attend the pre-primary gathering in Fremont. The convention was faced with the problem either of endorsing him or placing him in a "martyr's" role on orders of the big wheels who run such proceedings.

★

There is some reason to believe that Terry would have loved that. There is also some basis for the belief that he could have made quite a little bit of it. It is not difficult to conjure up a picture of him storming up and down the state, denouncing the party bosses, with the chances that any failure to endorse his candidacy would have gained him votes.

Chance To Blow Off Steam

Perhaps 1954 will see the end of this bit of nonsense for busy men and women which goes by the name of pre-primary convention. Ever since it was initiated, it has been neither fish nor fowl. It was set up, outwardly, at least, in order to avoid the so-called evil of "name" candidates in a primary election. The idea was to give party organizations a greater voice in selecting the nominees of the two major parties. Actually nothing came of it. So-called "name" candidates kept on winning, suggesting the truth of one of the lines from the old Gilbert and Sullivan operetta that "the flowers which bloom in the spring, tra la, have nothing to do with the case." If the hope was to head off "Terrible Terry" by refusing him an endorsement—and brief floor discussion called for endorsements for top offices—it would have been a misguided action, with the possibility of its backfire. A committee had reported on procedure that to endorse would be "harmful to party unity" and "prejudicial to the interests of persons who have not completed filing." It was this report to which Herbert White of Omaha, arguing for endorsements to top offices, referred when he said he was afraid of "mugwumps" in the party, a jab interpreted to refer to Terry. "Let's stand up and be counted."

★

Well, that was that. State Chairman Spear ruled that the convention delegates were opposed to endorsements on repeated attempts to amend the committee's report. The wide-open, free primary is back again after a brief interlude.

Dickenson Case

The story of Corporal Edward Dickenson has been pushed out of public attention by more dramatic news. The mountaineer boy who went to Korea, was captured, fell in with the Reds, became their tool, recanted and returned to the welcoming arms of the Army, has wound up badly. A court martial found him guilty of collaboration and informing on fellow prisoners. He has been sentenced to a dishonorable discharge and to 10 years in prison.

One remote from the detailed evidence, but confident that the trial was fair, can hardly argue with the court. But it can be said that the court's sternness with a weak-willed boy who was exploited for propaganda purpose as readily as the Reds used him for their purpose offered no final and accurate yardstick for the treatment of others who have or will be brain-washed by the diabolical Red devices to a point of disserving their own country.

To Blame For Them

Russian-born Professor Constantin W. Boldyreff said that a revolution in Russia is inevitable, but is being held back by the indecisive policies of the free world. We think that is carrying it a little too far. The West and America will patiently take whatever blame the Ruskies want to load on us for the world in general being what it is. But we didn't think up Communism nor force it on them either. They can hold their revolution any time they wish.

Today's Lesson

McCarthy Got Copies Of Executive Files

WASHINGTON—A tip to Secretary of the Army Stevens—If you will check with your fellow cabinet member, Attorney General Brownell, you will find that the FBI sent two reports to the Justice Department regarding the Signal Corps and Fort Monmouth about one year ago — April 1953. It was a good many months later, after President Eisenhower ordered all cabinet officers to give McCarthy carbon copies of all Executive Department investigations, that McCarthy got reports on the FBI probe of Fort Monmouth and saw a chance to jump into the headlines . . . However, I think you will find that the Justice Department had itself concluded, on the basis of its own FBI investigations, that there was no evidence of espionage at Fort Monmouth . . . Latest senate quip from the McCarthy hearings: "This is the first time since the Philistines that an Army was defeated with the jawbone of an ass" . . . Every important TV quiz program is planning to invite Army Counsel Joseph Welsh to be a guest star after the McCarthy hearings are over . . . When the Army-McCarthy hearings began, McCarthy demanded that every member of his staff—clerks, secretaries, and investigators—take a loyalty oath supporting him and Roy Cohn. However, one staff member refused to sign—Mrs. Ruth Young Watts. So far she hasn't been fired. She was around Capitol Hill long before McCarthy.

British-U. S. Split — Behind Winston Chuchill's dour speech in which for the first time he didn't defend his mother's native country, the U. S., was a backstage quarrel at Geneva; also serious difficulties over Indo-China . . . At Geneva, Anthony Eden discovered that U.S. Under-secretary of State Bettle Smith was talking on the QT with French Foreign Minister Bidault . . . They were hatching up a Southeast Asia pact without John Bull . . . Eden immediately phoned Churchill. Churchill told him to have a showdown with Undersecretary Smith. He did so. But Smith more or less told him to jump in the lake, that he'd talk to the French if he wanted to . . . Churchill retaliated by pulling New Zealand out of the proposed Asiatic Defense Pact. Now the U. S. is left only with shaky France, sparse Australia, and the willing but weak Philippines . . . The Anglo-American split is serious. Some diplomats compare it to the days of Munich when another British Prime Minister appeased another dictator and got branded with the sign of the umbrella for life . . . At that time Churchill was one of his bitterest critics.

McCarthy's Pulling Power??—One reason Sen. Homer Ferguson of Michigan spoke out against having Joe campaign for him in Michigan was the Louis Bean political survey of Joe's previous campaigning. A copy of the Bean survey went to the White House in advance of publication and showed McCarthy's vote-pulling power wasn't what it's supposed to be . . . Handsome Allan Shivers of Texas isn't going to have quite as easy a time getting re-elected governor as expected. A lot of Ike-Democrats are sore at him . . . The Alsop brothers scored a real victory when they got Attorney General Brownell to probe Paul Crouch for possible perjury. He's the ex-Commie, paid Justice Department witness who tried to smear ex-WPAdministrator Aubrey Williams and the Clifford Durrs. Durr was former FCCommissioner and Mrs. Durr is the sister-in-law of Justice Hugo Black . . . Congressman Louis Graham of Pennsylvania has been so dilatory about calling a meeting of his House Immigration Subcommittee that 177 Senate bills have piled up awaiting action. Graham blithely ignores them . . . Chester Bowles, one of the best governors Connecticut ever had, is going to be ditched by old-line Democratic leaders for the gubernatorial nomination—if they can possibly get away with it. This is a sure sign they think they can win in November. If they thought they would lose, they'd nominate Bowles whom they can't control after election.

☆ ☆ ☆

Atomic Vegetables — Atomic Energy Commission experiments indicate that meat, potatoes, onions and possibly other foods can be preserved for two years by atomic radiation. The Army is so impressed by the discovery that it may undertake a five-year research program of atomic food preservation for the military . . . Philippine President Magsaysay is urging Secretary of Defense Wilson to jazz up the U.S.-Philippine defense treaty immediately . . . strengthen bases, activate new bases, increase the size of U.S. detachments already in the Philippines . . . the U.S. has a total of 23 Army, Navy and Air Force bases scattered throughout the islands; but only three are on an active basis. Magsaysay wants at least ten activated . . . Dave Schoenberg, ace CBS commentator, flew to Indo-China from Paris for special newscasts. But he found conditions so bad that he sent most of his findings to the Pentagon as a classified report. The native government of Bao Dai, he reported, cannot survive, even if granted complete independence by France.

☆ ☆ ☆

Joe For President — Joe's office has been handing out reams of badges and matchbooks proclaiming: "I like McCarthy and His Methods." One supporter, Mrs. Anne Rogers, has been passing them out at cocktail parties. Another group has established a "McCarthy for President" headquarters. (It's pretty much the same group that boosted MacArthur for President.) . . . Sen. McCarthy may have inadvertently revealed the identity of the army officer who slipped him the garbled and abbreviated FBI report on Fort Monmouth. Early in the hearings, McCarthy asked Secretary of the Army Stevens about a conversation that took place in front of an army major, who obviously had run to McCarthy later and blabbed about the conversation. To refresh Stevens' memory, McCarthy wrote the major's name on a slip of paper and handed it to him. Today the Army is investigating whether this same major might have slipped the phony J. Edgar Hoover letter to McCarthy.

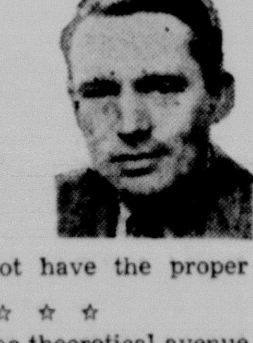
Chinese Communists Rebuild 'Great Wall'



GENEVA—The contract between East and West—the communist and non-communist halves of the world—is nowhere more striking than among the hundreds of newspaper men covering the international conference here. Reporters from the West work intensively to develop every possible angle of the story. They make strenuous efforts, usually with little success, to get the viewpoint of the three communist delegations, that is the Chinese, Russians and North Koreans.

Representatives of the press of the Communist world stick close to their own delegations. The Soviet correspondents have no interest in any viewpoint other than that of Moscow and Peiping.

The zeal of Western reporters to develop all the news, whether good or bad for the West in the struggle with communism, is often a hairshirt for Western diplomats. Every move that they make is reported and now and then, in the twilight zone of rumor and surmise, some moves that they don't make.

☆ ☆ ☆

This reporter heard France's Foreign Minister George Bidault in a small off-the-record session describe his difficulties in attempting to obtain a firm armistice agreement in Indo-China. Bidault prefaced his remarks by saying that every move he made was reported almost before he made it while the communists had been able to conceal their intentions. He added wryly that this put him under something of a handicap.

But one delegation has remained up to this moment at least impenetrable. That is the delegation of Communist China. Every newspaper man here would like to interview Chou En-Lai, China's premier-foreign minister who is for the first time attending an international conference as the spokesman for his government.

Chou lives in a handsome villa near Geneva surrounded by Swiss guards and his own security officers. Efforts to get so much as a glimpse of him are stopped by the gatekeeper at Villa Montfleury who has the strictest orders to admit no one who does not have the proper credentials.

There is one theoretical avenue of access which a number of reporters have tried. That is the official press office of the delegation in Room 111 at the Hotel Beau Rivage. Each visitor to Room 111 reports an identical experience.

He is received by two young Chinese in the small salon of the hotel suite. One is theoretically the interpreter for the other although they alternate this role, since it is quite evident that they both understand and speak English. Of course, it is explained at the outset they can answer no substantive questions about the attitude of the Chinese delegation since such answers can come only from Wang Ping-Nan, secretary-general of the delegation.

It is possible to see Wang Ping-Nan? Unfortunately no, he is very, very busy.

Giving politely evasive answers to all questions, they appear to be enjoying a private joke. To speak with Mr. Hsiung Hsiang-Hui, the head of the press section of the delegation? No, unfortunately that will not be possible as Mr. Hsiung is extremely busy, very, very busy.

The only voice out of the delegation is that of the official spokesman at the public briefings in the Maison De La Presse established by the Swiss in a five-story building that was once occupied by a department store. The official spokesman blandly turns aside questions from western reporters about the Russians occupying Dairen and Port Arthur contrary to Chou En-Lai's statement that all foreign occupying forces should leave China. If such questions are embarrassing, the spokesman gives no sign of it.

The public briefing put on by the various delegations are a kind of public notice board designed to draw attention to an official view. Behind this front reporters search for news that is not in the public and official report. And often on the western side but rarely on the eastern side of the great divide they find it.

It's now fourth lunar quarter. One does little planting when the moon is dark, but today and tomorrow it happens to be in the watery and fruitful sign, Pisces, the sign of the feet of the grand old man of the zodiac, and a very good sign it is in which to plant root crops, as carrots, beets, radishes, etc. We will set out greenhouse-grown petunias, geraniums, coleus, and one or two other plants we didn't have time to plant last week, some glad corms, canna and dahlia tubers, and tuberoses. Very early Thursday morning, May's waning moon will enter the movable, fiery and barren sign, Aries. Saturday morning at 5:36 it will enter the fixed, earthy, dry and semi-fruitful sign, Taurus. Early Monday of next week, it will enter the airy, flexed and barren sign, Gemini, and late Monday night there'll be a new moon. So this year's merry month of May will exit in the rays of a very new moon.

Mrs. Swingle

On Wednesday, June 2, Thursday, June 3, and Friday, June 4, until 10:38 a.m., the new moon will be in the movable, watery and exceedingly fruitful sign, Cancer. Now is the time to set out the rest of your cabbage, tomatoes, eggplant, peppers, celery, kahlrabba, etc., and flowers and herbs that produce their yield above the soil.

Now is the time to select and buy iris for next year's blooms. To see them blooming in the fields of the grower is best, of course. If you cannot do this, then attend the nearest iris show with pad and pencil in hand and write down your favorites. Then peruse the growers' catalogues for height, etc., and mail in your order. The grower will ship them when the proper time arrives to plant, which is just after their blooming period when by nature they are dormant.

Mrs. J. F. Brubaker, 601 No. 9th, Beatrice, chairman of the garden department of the Beatrice Federated Woman's Club staged with the assistance of the other members Beatrice's first annual Iris Show Saturday and Sunday. Despite Sturday's sudden heat and hot winds, beautiful and well-cultured iris were on display. I hope you saw this show—and congratulations to Mrs. Brubaker and the garden department.

Sunday on our way up to "The Greater Omaha Iris Society's" fifth annual show, we stopped at Henry E. Sass's Maple Road garden on Highway 130 east of Elkhorn, there meeting Mrs. R. C. Benson of Bancroft who invited us to her open house next Sunday, May 30, to see iris.

Do wish that we could go, but most of the members of the Cornhusker Rose Society will be in Kansas City, Mo., this week end attending the American Rose Society's North Central District's first rose show and conference. There are seven states in the North Central District — North and South Dakota, Nebraska, Kansas, Minnesota, Iowa and Missouri — and this will be quite an occasion for Nebraska rosarians.

So until another day—

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: In regard to the Oak Lake beautification project—I am only one of many who have enjoyed the pleasure of fishing and boating on Oak Lake. It has been a wonderful spot to which to drive in the evening or on Sunday, and though the fish never were too plentiful, the anticipation of catching one too big for the line and the fact that the family was safe in the car close by made it all the more enjoyable.

Anyone who saw the parking situation along the highway near the lake Sunday, May 16, knows the above mentioned pleasure is over. I for one insist all the painted telephone poles lying around could never replace one little tot's crumpled body had he been struck down by an auto crossing the highway trying to get to the lake. Fortunately this has not happened, but if it does happen, it is too late.

I repeat, whoever designed this project did not have the safety of those who enjoyed the lake in mind. The record in the past speaks for itself—a good time and a safe time by all at Oak Lake.

AEC Chairman Strauss Is Charged 'Dictatorial'

WASHINGTON—While the public watches the politicians work on the next election in the Army-McCarthy hearings, the interests of the next generation in the field of atomic power are at stake in almost unnoticed hearings in the old Supreme Court chamber in the Capitol.

The Joint Committee on Atomic Energy has before it a bill fixing governmental policy on the production and distribution of atomic energy for peaceful uses. Experimental reactors to create that energy are now being built. What Congress does or fails to do will set the pattern for future generations to whom atomic power will be as important as electricity has been to the men and women who do the world's work today.

Rarely has so much that is vitally important been in the hands of so few. Only five of the 18-man committee attend the hearings regularly: Chairman Cole and Sen. Hickenlooper, Republicans who are sponsoring the bill, and three Democrats: Sen. Pastore and Reps. Holifield and Price.

Two circumstances that would otherwise be tragic may have the effect in stimulating interest in the tremendous changes that are afoot in the delicate and dangerous atomic field.

One is the security trial of Dr. Robert Oppenheimer, the physicist who made a crucial contribution to the atomic and hydrogen bombs. The other is the fact that Adm. Lewis Strauss, named by the President both as chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission and his personal advisor on atomic matters, is under heavy fire by his colleagues, by atomic scientists generally and by some members of Congress.

Should Dr. Oppenheimer be cleared, wary Democrats confidently expect a typical McCarthy blast blaming the Democratic members. It is added that Adm. Strauss probably planned it that way.

The principal charge against Adm. Strauss, who is exceptionally brilliant and capable, is that he is a martinet and seeks dictatorial powers over the commission. What brought the charge to the fore was a provision in the new legislation which would have made him the "principal officer" of the AEC. The original McMahon bill gave the five members equal power and staggered their terms to insure continuity of policy.

Adm. Strauss was to have taken the witness stand Monday. At his request the hearing was postponed to Wednesday, June 2, possibly because the Oppenheimer report is imminent. At that time, however, he can expect a vigorous cross-examination and his colleagues may be expected to follow him to the stand.

The personalities may rescue the technical principles which are so involved and hard to explain. What the Cole-Hickenlooper bill—a rewrite of the White House proposals—does is to fix the terms for participation of private industry in the atomic energy program.

What Democrats claim it also does—but have had trouble dramatizing—is to set up a patent system which will create private monopolies costly and burdensome to the taxpayers who have already invested the staggering total of $12 billion in the atom.

The President put safeguards against monopoly into his proposals; the bill as it now stands dropped out that part.

Deluxe Quality Always Costs More...

But it's well worth it!

MOLLE DELUXE Brushless Lather may cost a little more than ordinary instant shave creams but it is so much richer that you'll say, here's shaving comfort fit for a king.

We know that MOLLE DELUXE is the finest product of its kind . . . but don't take our word for it. Here's the deal: no matter what shave cream you may now be using—brushless, lather, or instant—MOLLE DELUXE must give you a smoother, faster and more comfortable shave . . . we guarantee it!

Yes, use just one full can of MOLLE DELUXE. Then, if it does not out-perform any shave cream you've ever used —if it does not give you the best shaves you've ever had—return the empty can and we'll refund your full purchase price.

For those who prefer REGULAR brushless shave cream, MOLLE offers the finest in handy tubes and economical jars.

Molotov's Demand Snarls Geneva Proceedings

GENEVA (AP)— Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov, apparently shifting his ground in the negotiations for a quick cease-fire in Indo-China, snarled proceedings Monday with a demand for political discussions.

A reliable informant said Molotov raised the issue at Monday's secret session as the Geneva conference went into its fifth week. British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden, just back after high level talks with Prime Minister Churchill and other cabinet ministers in London, said what happens here this week may be decisive.

Molotov, after presenting the conference Friday with a five-point agenda for getting down to business on a cease-fire, proposed Monday that the nine-party discussions be devoted to a permanent political settlement. The cease-fire, he said, should be handled directly by the "two sides"—France and the Communist-led Vietminh.

Bidault Protests

The informant said French Foreign Minister Georges Bidault immediately protested, refusing to discuss political aspects of the dispute until a cease-fire agreement had been achieved. As a result, what had started out as a promising discussion on an agenda fixed by Molotov himself ended in confusion.

U. S. Undersecretary of State Walter Bedell Smith was said to have backed up Bidault in his opposition to discussing political questions before military problems are tackled.

The lid of secrecy on the meetings was clamped down tighter than ever Monday, but it was plain there was no inclination among the Americans to be optimistic after the four-hour debate.

A communique on the secret session said only:

"The nine delegations discussed again the restoration of peace in Indo-China. They will meet again in restricted session tomorrow."

Monday's was the fifth secret session, and the delegates still are talking about procedural problems. There has been no substantive discussion yet of the various plans submitted for achieving peace in Indo-China.

For the past four weeks the Communists have been trying to bring French and Vietminh representatives here into direct negotiations. Except for two meetings of colonels from the two sides on evacuating Dien Bien Phu's wounded, there has been no such get together.

Unfinished Sewer Line Is Flooded

OMAHA (AP)—Sunday's heavy rains caused flooding along the incomplete Benson sewer line in West Omaha.

Sidewalks, basements, streets and gardens were flooded as a huge lake formed.

The sewer was begun four years ago and was supposed to have been finished a year later. The city has pending a $500,000 suit against the Santucci Construction Co. of Chicago, the original contractors, contending that shoddy workmanship was responsible for delays.

City engineers said Monday the sewer is almost done.

NU Teachers Meet To Hear Top Educators

Internationally known educators will be at the University of Nebraska June 29 and 30 to address the annual summer Teachers College conference on "Promising Practices in Community Education."

The conference was originally scheduled for July 5 and 6.

Willard Beatty, former chief of fundamental education for UNESCO and supervisor of the International Fundamental Education Training Centers at Patzcuaro, Mexico, and Sirs-el-Layyan, Egypt, will speak on "International Experiments in Community Education."

At the first general session Tuesday, Dr. Walter Cocking, editor of the magazine, "School Executive," will discuss "National Trends in Community Education."

University staff members who will participate include: Dr. Frank Henzlik, dean of Teachers College; Dr. William Hall, professor of educational psychology; Dr. Walter Beggs, professor of school administration; and Dr. Norman Thorpe, director of teacher training.

Others who will participate are: Freeman Decker, superintendent of public instruction; Donald Kline, executive secretary of Nebraska State Education Association; Steven Watkins, superintendent of Lincoln Public Schools; Don Twiford, supervisor of division of guidance services, State of Nebraska; and Florence Jenkins, of Lincoln Public Schools.

Separate Power Lines For Base, City Are Sought

A contract will be negotiated with the Nebraska Public Power System by the city engineering department for separate service lines from the Loup River Public Power sub-station northwest of Lincoln to the city's A Street power plant and the Lincoln Air Force Base.

Currently, the Air Base and the city are serviced from the same NPPS outlet. The engineering department stated that the maximum load requirement at the Base is now 700 killowatts and is expected to grow shortly to 7,500 K.W.

Such a load as that along with the city's demand, is unsafe and undependable from the same service lines, according to the engineering department. The new separate service, the department stated, is needed to avoid any possible simultaneous interruption of service such as happened when a dragline struck the high tension line at the Air Base and shut off power to to the A Street plant.

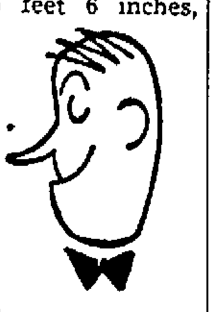
STAN DELAPLANE'S POSTCARD



I had dinner at Choupana on the Lisbon coast with Miss Maria Krissie Tomara Louwe. Miss Tomara is a lady bullfighter. She is 25, stands 5 feet 6 inches, weighs 129 pounds, has green eyes and wears no girdle when fighting.

Talk about intimate reporting.

She said she could not be annoyed by a girdle in the arena.

"The bool turns quickly and I must turn quicker. Feel my arm," she demanded.

It seemed rather sudden. But I was afraid she would cape me around the table and stick me with a butter knife. For all I know she was without her girdle and could turn quicker than I could. I felt her arm.

"Muscle," said Miss Tomara. "Since I have fought bools, I wear a glove a size larger."

The Choupana waiter swirled Constantino V.O. in warmed balloon glasses and the lights of Casais glowed romantically up the coast.

"Yes, ma'am," I said weakly. Me and Miss Ava Iardner and bullfighters!

☆ ☆ ☆

Miss Tomara said she could not be annoyed with girdles and she could not be annoyed with income tax.

"When I am in the arena I must think only of the bool."

The understanding Portugese government therefor does not tax bullfighters very much. They make them fight benefits instead.

I asked Miss Tomara how she started to fight. 'I dreamed of bool fighting so I went to a bool fighting school," said Miss Tomara. "I paid 1200 escudos a month, about $42. I went to school for 6 months. Then I started taking lessons from the bool fighter, Domantino.

"Domantino has a rather cold style. But he is just my size and I could borrow his fighting clothes."

☆ ☆ ☆

Miss Tomara is from British East Africa. She is a mixture of German, Greek and Dutch Afrikaans. Before she took up bullfighting, she was a model and a ballet dancer.

She fights in the Portugese style and has never killed. They clip about two inches off the point of the horn here in Portugal. But they have no picadors to cut down the bull with the neck spear.

"This year I will kill in Spain and get my alternative," she said. "Then I must fight bigger bools. They are already big enough.

"I was fighting a monster this year. My assistant with the cape said: 'Where shall I place him, matadora?' I said: 'Take him somewhere where I can't see him!'"

She said she did not smoke or drink or eat fattening foods.

She wears the "Fato do Campero" costume.

"The Spanish "traje de luz"—the 'suit of lights'—makes me look too fat."

The Fato de Campero is grey, high-waisted riding trousers and long-sleeved bolero jacket. It is worn with a white shirt and a flat black hat. The trousers come above the ankle, are split up the side and are worn with boots. You have to have the figure. Or a girdle. But it is very dashing.

Miss Tomara said she got between $2,100 to $3,500 per fight. Between times she has written a novel.

"About love and bools, of course. But the Portugese publisher censored out the love scenes so I took it back. Maybe now I will give it to an English publisher."

She said lady bullfighters depended a lot on their looks. A North American girl "very good, very brave, got only 45,000 escudos. The manager told me: 'Oh, she is ugly.'"

Miss Tomara said she had an appointment with a government minister and was staving off an Army gentleman who wanted to marry her.

"But I don't want to marry. Only to be romantic."

She rose and caped me around the chair with her napkin. I turned, quick as a bull. But she was quicker. She was gone.

How do you pick your stocks?

[ONE-MINUTE INTERVIEWS]

MRS. H. W. CLARK,

Sacramento, Calif.

Actually, I don't pick my stocks entirely on my own. Why should I when I can get the advice of a broker to help me decide? He's had a lifetime of experience that I haven't had. I've been most successful that way.

ROBERT C. ADAMS,

First my broker examined my financial status the way my doctor does my health. He considered my property, my insurance and what I need to get along on. Then he suggested stocks now paying 6%. I'm grateful for his help.

Owning stocks is just a matter of common sense.

It's common sense to get the facts before investing—to talk over the risks and rewards with an experienced broker, such as one who works with a member firm of the New York Stock Exchange.

It's good sense to have insurance, and rainy-day savings to supplement your stock-owning program.

It's good sense to realize that long-established companies and companies making products you use and depend on, are apt to make better investments than companies that have yet to prove themselves.

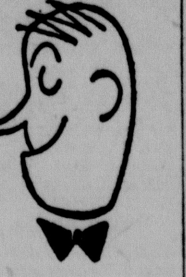
STAN DELAPLANE'S
POSTCARD



I had dinner at Choupana on the Lisbon coast with Miss Maria Krissie Tomara Louwe. Miss Tomara is a lady bullfighter. She is 25, stands 5 feet 6 inches, weighs 129 pounds, has green eyes and wears no girdle when fighting.

Talk about intimate reporting.

She said she could not be annoyed by a girdle in the arena.

"The bool turns quickly and I must turn quicker. Feel my arm," she demanded.

It seemed rather sudden. But I was afraid she would cape me around the table and stick me with a butter knife. For all I know she was without her girdle and could turn quicker than I could. I felt her arm.

"Muscle," said Miss Tomara. "Since I have fought bools, I wear a glove a size larger."

The Choupana waiter swirled Constantino V.O. in warmed balloon glasses and the lights of Casais glowed romantically up the coast.

"Yes, ma'am," I said weakly. Me and Miss Ava Iardner and bullfighters!

☆ ☆ ☆

Miss Tomara said she could not be annoyed with girdles and she could not be annoyed with income tax.

"When I am in the arena I must think only of the bool."

The understanding Portugese government therefor does not tax bullfighters very much. They make them fight benefits instead.

I asked Miss Tomara how she started to fight. "I dreamed of bool fighting so I went to a bool fighting school," said Miss Tomara. "I paid 1200 escudos a month, about $42. I went to school for 6 months. Then I started taking lessons from the bool fighter, Domantino.

"Domantino has a rather cold style. But he is just my size and I could borrow his fighting clothes."

☆ ☆ ☆

Miss Tomara is from British East Africa. She is a mixture of German, Greek and Dutch Afrikaans. Before she took up bullfighting, she was a model and a ballet dancer.

She fights in the Portugese style and has never killed. They clip about two inches off the point of the horn here in Portugal. But they have no picadors to cut down the bull with the neck spear.

"This year I will kill in Spain and get my alternative," she said. "Then I must fight bigger bools. They are already big enough.

"I was fighting a monster this year. My assistant with the cape said: 'Where shall I place him, matadora?' I said: 'Take him somewhere where I can't see him!'"

She said she did not smoke or drink or eat fattening foods.

She wears the "Fato do Campero" costume.

"The Spanish "traje de luz"—the 'suit of lights'—makes me look too fat."

The Fato de Campero is grey, high-waisted riding trousers and long-sleeved bolero jacket. It is worn with a white shirt and a flat black hat. The trousers come above the ankle, are split up the side and are worn with boots. You have to have the figure. Or a girdle. But it is very dashing.

Meat Supply, Demand Seen On Up Trend

OMAHA (AP) — The president of the American Meat Institute said consumers in the years immediately ahead may expect plentiful supplies of meat while livestock producers are assured of as steadily increasing market.

The meat institute head, Wesley Hardenbergh of Chicago, addressed the Live Stock National bank centennial roundup.

"The record-sized cattle herd of nearly 95 million head on Amercia's farms and ranches promises plentiful beef supplies for the next few years," he said. "Also, farmers have started to expand their hog production after two years of sharp reduction. . .

'Increased Marketing'

"This increased production of hogs, in response to the relatively high prices (128 per cent of partity in April) and a favorable hog-corn price ratio, is expected to be felt in increased marketing late this summer and in the fall.

"With people consuming meat at the present rate of approximately 150 pounds per capita," he said, "our national population 10 years from now will require an increase of about 15 per cent in present livestock production and 20 years from now will require an increase of about 30 per cent."

Iowan Forecasts Production Of Beef At 8 Cents Per Pound

OMAHA (AP)—Bob Garst, pioneer hybrid seed corn producer from Coon Rapids, Ia., believes he can produce beef for eight cents a pound.

Garst says he already has cut the cost of beef production to 16 cents a pound, and at the Live Stock National Bank's centennial roundup program here he said he believes he can cut this in half.

An experienced Omaha stockman said with present prices a one pound gain costs 25 to 26 cents with conventional feeding methods.

Garst startled the industry some years ago with his lavish use of chemical fertilizers to raise corn for the Garst and Thomas Pioneer Hybrid Company, with which he has long been associated.

High Corncob Ration

Later he brought more raised eyebrows when he said he could grow and fatten cattle on ground corncobs, protein and almost no grain.

But Garst has fed 15,000 head of cattle without hay, with only limited amounts of grain or none at all, and on a ration that was two-thirds corncobs.

With the aid of a special machine that picks corn and chops the stalks at the same time, Garst proposes to pick the corn when the grain moisture is about 32 per cent and the stalk moisture 69 or 70 per cent. But he first plans to supply the growing corn with enough fertilizer to raise the protein level in the stalks to possibly 8 per cent.

When stalks are chopped at this stage they will also contain a high level of vitamin A.

Garst bases his cost estimate on the statement of Dr. Wise Burroughs of Iowa State College that seven cents worth of a well designed protein supplement plus 40 or 50 pounds of high quality corn-stover silate will put on 1½ pounds a day on wintering calves or yearlings.

Garst said the farmer following this theory will need a combination corn picker and silage chopper and a grain drier, the latter because corn picked at 32 per cent moisture—when it has the highest protein level—will have to be dried to be cribbable.

Meat Supply, Demand Seen On Up Trend

OMAHA (AP) — The president of the American Meat Institute said consumers in the years immediately ahead may expect plentiful supplies of meat while livestock producers are assured of as steadily increasing market.

The meat institute head, Wesley Hardenbergh of Chicago, addressed the Live Stock National bank centennial roundup.

"The record-sized cattle herd of nearly 95 million head on Amercia's farms and ranches promises plentiful beef supplies for the next few years," he said. "Also, farmers have started to expand their hog production after two years of sharp reduction. . .

'Increased Marketing'

"This increased production of hogs, in response to the relatively high prices (128 per cent of partity in April) and a favorable hog-corn price ratio, is expected to be felt in increased marketing late this summer and in the fall.

"With people consuming meat at the present rate of approximately 150 pounds per capita," he said, "our national population 10 years from now will require an increase of about 15 per cent in present livestock production and 20 years from now will require an increase of about 30 per cent."

Iowan Forecasts Production Of Beef At 8 Cents Per Pound

OMAHA (AP)—Bob Garst, pioneer hybrid seed corn producer from Coon Rapids, Ia., believes he can produce beef for eight cents a pound.

Garst says he already has cut the cost of beef production to 16 cents a pound, and at the Live Stock National Bank's centennial roundup program here he said he believes he can cut this in half.

An experienced Omaha stockman said with present prices a one pound gain costs 25 to 26 cents with conventional feeding methods.

Garst startled the industry some years ago with his lavish use of chemical fertilizers to raise corn for the Garst and Thomas Pioneer Hybrid Company, with which he has long been associated.

High Corncob Ration

Later he brought more raised eyebrows when he said he could grow and fatten cattle on ground corncobs, protein and almost no grain.

But Garst has fed 15,000 head of cattle without hay, with only limited amounts of grain or none at all, and on a ration that was two-thirds corncobs.

With the aid of a special machine that picks corn and chops the stalks at the same time, Garst proposes to pick the corn when the grain moisture is about 32 per cent and the stalk moisture 69 or 70 per cent. But he first plans to supply the growing corn with enough fertilizer to raise the protein level in the stalks to possibly 8 per cent.

When stalks are chopped at this stage they will also contain a high level of vitamin A.

Garst bases his cost estimate on the statement of Dr. Wise Burroughs of Iowa State College that seven cents worth of a well designed protein supplement plus 40 or 50 pounds of high quality corn-stover silate will put on 1½ pounds a day on wintering calves or yearlings.

Garst said the farmer following this theory will need a combination corn picker and silage chopper and a grain drier, the latter because corn picked at 32 per cent moisture—when it has the highest protein level—will have to be dried to be cribbable.

Corn Rootworm Battle Getting Under Way

3 Methods Of Attack Are Used

Fifty Acres Of Irrigated Corn Treated

Burnard Whitney, who lives five miles northeast of Broken Bow, is treating more than 50 acres of irrigated corn with BHC this year. He is co-operating with Custer County Extension Service in the testing of three insecticides—aldrin, Heptachlor, and a more highly refined BHC. He owns his own spraying equipment that he purchased five years ago for $200. Since then he has sprayed more than 500 acres. The gear type pump has been repaired once in that time at a cost of $20. (U of N Photo.)

☆ ☆ ☆

Farmers throughout the state are at war with corn rootworms. Their two mainstay weapons are the insecticides BHC (benzene hexachloride) and aldrin.

According to Bob Roselle, extension entomogolist at the University of Nebraska, the farmers are using three plans of attack — broadcast spraying, row spraying, and banding with fertilizer containing aldrin.

These attacks were planned during the winter and early spring months in meetings held by agricultural agents throughout Nebraska. Entomologists of the College of Agriculture and Extension Service attended many of these meetings.

Attending farmers had suffered severe losses. They remembered well the fallen stalks and the small ears of corn caused by corn rootworms. The entomologists and the county agents answered questions about each of the chemical control methods until every farmer was satisfied that he knew how to wage war on Mr. Corn Rootworm.

Extensive Custer Campaign

How extensive is this campaign? In Custer County, which has the largest corn acreage of any county in the state, nearly all the farmers growing corn under irrigation are using insecticides to control corn rootworms. And many of the dryland farmers are using it even though the infestation was much less serious in that area because of the wider use of crop rotations says M. L. Gould, county agent. One insecticide dealer in Broken Bow has sold 1,100 gallons of BHC this spring.

One of these farmers fighting rootworm is Burnard Whitney, five miles northwest of Broken Bow. Where corn followed corn in his area, the loss was as high as 20 bushels per acre. He had about five such acres damaged by corn rootworms. The rest of his corn was in rotation and not seriously affected.

This year he is not taking any chances. He is broadcast spraying more than 50 acres of irrigated corn land with BHC at the rate of one-half gallon of 12 per cent BHC emulsion concentrate per acre. This is done ahead of corn planting and disked down immediately. He is using a gear type pump that he purchased five years ago for $200. It has sprayed more than 500 acres for a total repair bill of $20.

New Insecticides

Whitney is going one step further in his war with the corn rootworm. In co-operation with the Extension Service he is trying out three new insecticides on his farm this year —aldrin, heptachlor and a BHC that has a less offensive smell. The demonstration plots are about 100 feet wide and 435 feet long. A 50 foot check strip—untreated—is left between each of these three plots treated with insecticides. This fall at corn picking time Whitney will measure the difference in yields of these fields and plan his attack against rootworms for the following spring.

Another farmer used this same method last year in Valley County. Floyd Wetzel, two miles northwest of Ord, first became interested in the corn rootworm problem through reading an article written by County Agent Carl Dale concerning the less chemical control methods were high beetle count. Dale warned that there could be considerable damage caused by corn rootworms unless chemical control mothods were used.

Wetzel decided to treat two 2½ acre plots—one with heptachlor and the other with chlordane. The granulated form of these insecticides were applied by airplane with a broadcast seeder attachment when the corn was just coming up and then harrowed in.

Come harvest time, Wetzel didn't see too many stalks down and the untreated field didn't appear badly damaged. But when he actually began picking the corn, he noticed the treated corn had larger ears and tarns on every stalk. He compared yields. The treated acreage yielded 20 bushels more per acre — corn rootworms had reduced his overall yield by 25 per cent on 135 acres of corn.

Surplus Butter Disposal Plans Are Discarded

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Agriculture Benson said Monday he has "reluctantly" discarded all proposals for disposal of 375 million pounds of government-owned butter at cut rate prices into the domestic market.

He told a news conference he had come to a conclusion that various plans which had been suggested would be too expensive and would not cure the problem of surplus butter production in the future.

Three months ago, the secretary announced he hoped to set up a domestic disposal program by late spring.

Benson said it had been determined it would cost at least half a billion dollars to move the current surplus stocks onto dinner tables.

Several Plans

Plans considered included offers of the butter at one cent a pound along with one pound of newly produced butter at current retail prices, offer of the surplus along with currently-produced butter at a "blended" or average price which would be considerably lower than present retail prices, and the use of government production payments.

The secretary had indicated in testimony before the House Agriculture Committee recently that he believed the one-cent and blended price plans were impractical.

Arraignment In Grocer's Murder Set For Tuesday

PAPILLION, Neb. (AP)—Steve Wilczynski will be arraigned Tuesday on a charge of second degree murder in the slaying of a Sarpy County grocer.

The 33-year-old carpenter's attorney, Francis A. McLane of Omaha, said he would enter a plea of innocent for Wilcyzynski.

In a statement, Wilczynski told officers he shot Carl Yelinek, 62, three times in self defense with a pistol he had intended to use for target practice.

He said an argument about money had preceded the shooting.

Wilczynski blinked back tears when the charge was read to him in the Sarpy County jail.

"That's not right," he exclaimed. "They can't do that to me for what I did."

Four Dams In Snake River Recommended

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army Engineers and the Reclamation Bureau joined in recommending federal construction of four dams in the middle Snake River and its tributaries at a cost of $620,815,000.

A report of their recommendation has been sent to Columbia River basin states and interested federal agencies for comment. This is a necessary formality before submission to Congress of a request that it authorize the development and appropriate the money to pay for it.

The proposed development would have 1,412,000 kilowatts of installed capacity for power production and 4,283,000 acre feet of usable storage for flood control and power production.

The report proposes:

Construction by the Reclamation Bureau of dams and reservoirs at the Mountain Sheep and Pleasant Valley sites on the Snake River, between Idaho and Oregon, and above its confluence with the Salmon River.

Construction by the Army Engineers of dams and reservoirs in Idaho at Bruces Eddy on the north fork of the Clearwater River and at Penny Cliffs on the middle fork of the Clearwater east of Lewiston, Idaho.

3 Methods Of Attack Are Used

Farmers throughout the state are at war with corn rootworms. Their two mainstay weapons are the insecticides BHC (benzene hexachloride) and aldrin.

According to Bob Roselle, extension entomogolist at the University of Nebraska, the farmers are using three plans of attack — broadcast spraying, row spraying, and banding with fertilizer containing aldrin.

These attacks were planned during the winter and early spring months in meetings held by agricultural agents throughout Nebraska. Entomologists of the College of Agriculture and Extension Service attended many of these meetings.

Attending farmers had suffered severe losses. They remembered well the fallen stalks and the small ears of corn caused by corn rootworms. The entomologists and the county agents answered questions about each of the chemical control methods until every farmer was satisfied that he knew how to wage war on Mr. Corn Rootworm.

Extensive Custer Campaign

How extensive is this campaign? In Custer County, which has the largest corn acreage of any county in the state, nearly all the farmers growing corn under irrigation are using insecticides to control corn rootworms. And many of the dry-land farmers are using it even though the infestation was much less serious in that area because of the wider use of crop rotations says M. L. Gould, county agent. One insecticide dealer in Broken Bow has sold 1,100 gallons of BHC this spring.

One of these farmers fighting rootworm is Burnard Whitney, five miles northwest of Broken Bow. Where corn followed corn in his area, the loss was as high as 20 bushels per acre. He had about five such acres damaged by corn rootworms. The rest of his corn was in rotation and not seriously affected.

This year he is not taking any chances. He is broadcast spraying more than 50 acres of irrigated corn land with BHC at the rate of one-half gallon of 12 per cent BHC emulsion concentrate per acre. This is done ahead of corn planting and disked down immediately. He is using a gear type pump that he purchased five years ago for $200. It has sprayed more than 500 acres for a total repair bill of $20.

Fifty Acres Of Irrigated Corn Treated

Burnard Whitney, who lives five miles northeast of Broken Bow, is treating more than 50 acres of irrigated corn with BHC this year. He is cooperating with Custer County Extension Service in the testing of three insecticides—aldrin, Heptachlor, and a more highly refined BHC. He owns his own spraying equipment that he purchased five years ago for $200. Since then he has sprayed more than 500 acres. The gear type pump has been repaired once in that time at a cost of $20. New Insecticides

Whitney is going one step further in his war with the corn rootworm. In co-operation with the Extension Service he is trying out three new insecticides on his farm this year—aldrin, heptachlor and a BHC that has a less offensive smell. The demonstration plots are about 100 feet wide and 435 feet long. A 50 foot check strip—untreated—is left between each of these three plots treated with insecticides. This fall at corn picking time Whitney will measure the difference in yields of these fields and plan his attack against rootworms for the following spring.

Another farmer used this same method last year in Valley County. Floyd Wetzel, two miles northwest of Ord, first became interested in the corn rootworm problem through reading an article written by County Agent Carl Dale concerning the less chemical control methods were high beetle count. Dale warned that there could be considerable damage caused by corn rootworms unless chemical control mothods were used.

Wetzel decided to treat two 2½ acre plots—one with heptachlor and the other with chlordane. The granulated form of these insecticides were applied by airplane with a broadcast seeder attachment when the corn was just coming up and then harrowed in.

Come harvest time, Wetzel didn't see too many stalks down and the untreated field didn't appear badly damaged. But when he actually began picking the corn, he noticed the treated corn had larger ears and tarns on every stalk. He compared yields. The treated acreage yielded 20 bushels more per acre — corn rootworms had reduced his overall yield by 25 per cent on 135 acres of corn.

Surplus Butter Disposal Plans Are Discarded

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Agriculture Benson said Monday he has "reluctantly" discarded all proposals for disposal of 375 million pounds of government-owned butter at cut rate prices into the domestic market.

He told a news conference he had come to a conclusion that various plans which had been suggested would be too expensive and would not cure the problem of surplus butter production in the future.

Three months ago, the secretary announced he hoped to set up a domestic disposal program by late spring.

Benson said it had been determined it would cost at least half a billion dollars to move the current surplus stocks onto dinner tables.

Several Plans

Plans considered included offers of the butter at one cent a pound along with one pound of newly produced butter at current retail prices, offer of the surplus along with currently-produced butter at a "blended" or average price which would be considerably lower than present retail prices, and the use of government production payments.

The secretary had indicated in testimony before the House Agriculture Committee recently that he believed the one-cent and blended price plans were impractical.

Arraignment In Grocer's Murder Set For Tuesday

PAPILLION, Neb. (AP)—Steve Wilczynski will be arraigned Tuesday on a charge of second degree murder in the slaying of a Sarpy County grocer.

The 33-year-old carpenter's attorney, Francis A. McLane of Omaha, said he would enter a plea of innocent for Wilcyzynski.

In a statement, Wilczynski told officers he shot Carl Yelinek, 62, three times in self defense with a pistol he had intended to use for target practice.

He said an argument about money had preceded the shooting.

Wilczynski blinked back tears when the charge was read to him in the Sarpy County jail.

"That's not right," he exclaimed. "They can't do that to me for what I did."

Youth Escapes Crash, Flood

WAHOO, Neb. (AP)—Adrian Novak, 18, Cedar Bluffs, Neb., was released from the hospital Monday not much the worse for two brushes with death.

During a blinding rain Novak's truck swerved to avoid hitting a car ahead and rolled down an embankment crushing the cab.

Passing motorists used jacks to force open the cab and drag out Adrian who had escaped serious injury.

Minutes later a flash flood swept down the ditch and washed the truck away. It was found later 100 feet down the ditch.

Four Dams In Snake River Recommended

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army Engineers and the Reclamation Bureau joined in recommending federal construction of four dams in the middle Snake River and its tributaries at a cost of $620,815,000.

A report of their recommendation has been sent to Columbia River basin states and interested federal agencies for comment. This is a necessary formality before submission to Congress of a request that it authorize the development and appropriate the money to pay for it.

The proposed development would have 1,412,000 kilowatts of installed capacity for power production and 4,283,000 acre feet of usable storage for flood control and power production.

The report proposes:

Construction by the Reclamation Bureau of dams and reservoirs at the Mountain Sheep and Pleasant Valley sites on the Snake River, between Idaho and Oregon, and above its confluence with the Salmon River.

Construction by the Army Engineers of dams and reservoirs in Idaho at Bruces Eddy on the north fork of the Clearwater River and at Penny Cliffs on the middle fork of the Clearwater east of Lewiston, Idaho.

Singapore—and points west

THERE'S something terrific about the name Singapore—Maybe the movies have done it to us, but whatever the reason for a yen towards the exotic, we have it whenever Singapore is mentioned—And this morning we mention Singapore in connection with news of Mr. and Mrs. Elton Fee and their daughters, Marcia, Judy and Wendy—It's time for the Fees to have a leave from the business of oil and what not down Singapore way, so Mrs. Fee and the two older daughters, Marcia and Judy will be leaving Singapore on June 1 to spend June and July learning the ins and outs of Italy, Spain and Portugal—

Mr. Fee and the youngest of the three Misses Fee—the five-year-old Wendy, will leave Singapore the first of August, and will join the other members of the family in Zurich, Switzerland. From Zurich the Fee fivesome will tour the north countries, Sweden, Denmark and Norway and will leave Oslo in time to arrive in New York City on Sept. 1.

But there's more to the story—Mr. and Mrs. Fee and their daughters will have a six months leave in the States—but there also is to be an extra three months because Mr. Fee has been chosen by his company to attend the executive's school at Harvard University—a nice honor for Mr. Fee—and fun for the daughters—For the first time in their lives—Marcia, Judy and Wendy will be attending public school—and in the States.

WE'RE brimming with news this morning—Just heard that a former Lincoln resident is coming for a visit with her old friends—Mrs. F. E. Beaumont of Palo Alto, Calif., arrives this evening to divide her time as a house guest btween Mrs. A. L. Haecker, and Mr. and Mrs. John Rosborough.

Mrs. Beaumont is stopping off in Lincoln en route to her home from Chicago where she has been spending the past three weeks visiting her daughter, Miss Jane Beaumont, and maybe she isn't aware of it, but her social calendar for the current week is quite tremendous—

* * *

ON Wednesday, for example, Mrs. E. C. Ames will honor Mrs. Beaumont when she entertains at luncheon at the Lincoln Country club, and when the guest list will include a group of Mrs. Beaumont's close friends. Following luncheon the afternoon will be devoted to bridge at the home of Mrs. Ames.

* * *

THE Wednesday evening party for Mrs. Beaumont will be an open house between the hours of 8 o'clock and 10 o'clock for which Mrs. O. J. Fee and Mrs. John Rosborough will be hostess at the home of Mrs. Rosborough. All friends of Mrs. Beaumont's are asked to call without further invitation.

* * *

AS a courtesy to Mrs. Beaumont, also, is the luncheon for which Mrs. H. T. Folsom will be hostess on Thursday when she entertains at the University club. Following luncheon, for which places will be arranged for 12, the afternoon will be spent informally.

There will be more than casual interest in the announcement made by Dr. and Mrs. Richard Paul Lester of Mobile, Ala., of the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Sarah Katherine, to Robert Charles Reynolds of Lincoln, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert B. Reynolds of Grand Island.

The wedding will take place on Saturday, July 17.

Miss Lester attended the University of Alabama where she is a member of Delta Delta sorority.

Mr. Reynolds, a graduate of the University of Nebraska, is a member of Phi Kappa Psi fraternity.

The lectures begin each Wednesday at 12:15 o'clock, to be followed by luncheon at 1 o'clock, and for every afternoon's play a first and second prize will be awarded. At the close of the season, we hear, there is to be a tournament.

these popular Brides

Monsieur le Cupid could view his handiwork for the season with considerable pride—if he had the time. But he seems to be keeping busy promoting various processional aisle activities for the late summer, the autumn, the winter—and even as far ahead as next spring—But at the moment we are concerning ourselves with current brides-elect whose popularity keeps the courtesy ball rolling.

Miss Joan Hanson, whose marriage to Edwin C. Perry will take place on June 5, is no exception to the busy brides rule — Last Saturday Miss Hanson was complimented when Miss Pat Lindgren entertained a guest sixsome at luncheon at Colonial Cup. The honoree was presented with a hostess gift.

Miss Hanson will share honors with her fiance on next Sunday evening when Mr. Perry's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Perry are a dinner host and hostess at their home.

And on the following Tuesday evening, June 1, Mr. Perry's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank A. Peterson will honor their grandson and his fiancee when they are host and hostess at a family dinner at the University Club. Dinner places will be arranged for eight.

A bride-to-be of late May is Miss Betty Reinick whose marriage to James Sinamark will take place on Saturday, May 29, at St. Mary's Cathedral.

For her maid of honor, Miss Reinick has chosen her sister, Miss Marilyn Reinick, and her bridesmaids will be Mrs. Richard Blauser, also a sister of the bride-elect; Miss Alma Lee Reinick, Miss Barbara Schmidt, Miss Margaret Schultz and Miss Gloria Deer. Miss Roni Cheever will be the flower girl.

Serving Mr. Sinamark as best man will be his brother, Norbert Sinamark, and seating the geusts will be Marvin Morgaridge, Bernard Bathel, Richard Blauser, Jack Glore and Freeman Burns.

Miss Reinick was honored on Friday evening at a miscellaneous shower for which Miss Marilyn Reinick, Mrs. Blauser, Miss Alma Lee Reinick, Miss Marilyn Hall, Miss Schultz and Miss Schmidt were hostesses. Forty guests attended the dessert supper which was held at the American Forward Hall.

Miss Donna Niehaus, who will become the bride of the Rev. Charles T. Knippel, Beaumont, Tex., at 3 o'clock on Saturday, June 19, at the University Lutheran Chapel, has chosen Mrs. Vernon Bahr of El Paso, Tex., as her matron of honor, and Miss Ardys Miller, Minneapolis, Minn., will be the bridesmaid. Danny Niehaus, brother of the bride-to-be will light the candles.

This morning Mr. and Mrs. William C. Stam are announcing the engagement of their daughter, Louise, to Myron L. Garfinkle, son of Mrs. Jake Garfinkle of Leavenworth, Kan., and the late Mr. Garfinkle.

No wedding date is named.

Miss Stam attended the University of Colorado, and was graduated from the University of Nebraska where she is a member of Sigma Delta Tau sorority.

Mr. Garfinkle is a graduate of the University of Ohio where he is a member of Sigma Alpha Mu fraternity, and Beta Gamma Sigma.

these popular Brides

Monsieur le Cupid could view his handiwork for the season with considerable pride—if he had the time. But he seems to be keeping busy promoting various processional aisle activities for the late summer, the autumn, the winter—and even as far ahead as next spring—But at the moment we are concerning ourselves with current brides-elect whose popularity keeps the courtesy ball rolling.

Miss Joan Hanson, whose marriage to Edwin C. Perry will take place on June 5, is no exception to the busy brides rule — Last Saturday Miss Hanson was complimented when Miss Pat Lindgren entertained a guest sixsome at luncheon at Colonial Cup. The honoree was presented with a hostess gift.

Miss Hanson will share honors with her fiance on next Sunday evening when Mr. Perry's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Perry are a dinner host and hostess at their home.

And on the following Tuesday evening, June 1, Mr. Perry's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank A. Peterson will honor their grandson and his fiancee when they are host and hostess at a family dinner at the University Club. Dinner places will be arranged for eight.

A bride-to-be of late May is Miss Betty Reinick whose marriage to James Sinamark will take place on Saturday, May 29, at St. Mary's Cathedral.

For her maid of honor, Miss Reinick has chosen her sister, Miss Marilyn Reinick, and her bridesmaids will be Mrs. Richard Blauser, also a sister of the bride-elect; Miss Alma Lee Reinick, Miss Barbara Schmidt, Miss Margaret Schultz and Miss Gloria Deer. Miss Roni Cheever will be the flower girl.

Serving Mr. Sinamark as best man will be his brother, Norbert Sinamark, and seating the geusts will be Marvin Morgaridge, Bernard Bathel, Richard Blauser, Jack Glore and Freeman Burns.

Miss Reinick was honored on Friday evening at a miscellaneous shower for which Miss Marilyn Reinick, Mrs. Blauser, Miss Alma Lee Reinick, Miss Marilyn Hall, Miss Schultz and Miss Schmidt were hostesses. Forty guests attended the dessert supper which was held at the American Forward Hall.

Miss Donna Niehaus, who will become the bride of the Rev. Charles T. Knippel, Beaumont, Tex., at 3 o'clock on Saturday, June 19, at the University Lutheran Chapel, has chosen Mrs. Vernon Bahr of El Paso, Tex., as her matron of honor, and Miss Ardys Miller, Minneapolis, Minn., will be the bridesmaid. Danny Niehaus, brother of the bride-to-be will light the candles.

This morning Mr. and Mrs. William C. Stam are announcing the engagement of their daughter, Louise, to Myron L. Garfinkle, son of Mrs. Jake Garfinkle of Leavenworth, Kan., and the late Mr. Garfinkle.

No wedding date is named.

Miss Stam attended the University of Colorado, and was graduated from the University of Nebraska where she is a member of Sigma Delta Tau sorority.

Mr. Garfinkle is a graduate of the University of Ohio where he is a member of Sigma Alpha Mu fraternity, and Beta Gamma Sigma.

MISS LOUISE STAM

Honor Past Presidents

A large, candlelighted birthday cake will form the centerpiece for the luncheon table at the meeting of the Lincoln Inter-Club Council Tuesday noon, at the Chamber of Commerce, when the group will honor five past presidents of the council.

Each honoree will give a brief talk on her term of office. Since its organization in 1943, the council has grown from a small group composed of the representatives of 20 Lincoln women's organizations to the present membership of 46 community and civic groups.

Toastmistress Club Meets

Miss Annie Laurie Smith presided at the meeting of the Lincoln Toastmistress Club on Monday evening. Mrs. Bernal Camp was the topic mistress and the toastmistress was Mrs. Josephine Eyen.

The speakers and their topics were Mrs. Louella Hurley, speaking on the "Two C's", Miss Esteline Porter, whose topic was "From Here to There", and Mrs. Bryan Stromer, who spoke on "Am I?"

The general evaluator was Miss Cora Mae Briggs and the lexicologist was Mrs. Ivan Butler. Mrs. Bernal Camp presented the report of the nominating committee.

One-Way Street Opening Is Delayed

Full Plan, Equipment Is Needed

By BILL DOBLER
Star Staff Writer

Inaugruration of the first one-way street system for Lincoln has been delayed until some time in June when George Barton, the City's consulting traffic engineer from Chicago, will return to Lincoln with a more comprehensive street system for the city.

In Lincoln over the weekend, Barton advised that it would be unwise to establish any one-way streets until the project can be started as nearly perfect as is possible. This, reported Mayor Clark Jeary, means the city should have a full plan ready and all equipment on hand to place the plan in operation.

The one-way plan in Lincoln, according to Welfare and Safety Director Emmett Junge, is still confined, however, to 16th toward the south and 17th to the north. The question is, he said, how far south from Holdrege should the one-way system run?

Barton, Junge said, feels it would be a mistake to dump a one-way street into O at 16th. Thus, he said, the system may be carried on to A or Washington.

"It would shock and astound you to know how near we were to active participation in the Indo-China war just a few weeks ago.

"America actually took the leap, but turned back in mid-air thanks to the intercession of four American patriots."

Smathers left hurriedly after his speech and was unavailable for clarification of this statement.

Officer Denies Strip Dancer Knife Slaying

SAN FRANCISCO (INS) — Lt. Cmdr. Maikle T. Smith, 41, denied through an attorney Monday that he was responsible for the mystery knife-murder of exotic Negro strip tease dancer Lynn Williams, 28, in Oakland, Calif., a week ago.

Attorney William Beal Dunn, after consulting with Smith in the Navy brig at Yerba Buena Island in San Francisco Bay, said:

"He denies he has committed any crime."

The Naval officer and attorney declined any further comment.

Smith was intercepted enroute to a Navy communications facility on Luzon Island in the Philippines and brought back to Yerba Buena Island at request of police for questioning in connection with the exotic dancer's death.

Travelers Checks

She staggered from her Oakland apartment at 5:30 a.m., May 14, naked except for a coat thrown over her shoulders, bleeding from a number of stab wounds. She died a short time later in a hospital after identifying her attacker only as "white."

Police reported that in the dancer's apartment they found four $20 travelers checks bearing Smith's name and endorsement. No charges have been filed against Smith

Smith recently visited his parents in Connersville, Ind., accompanied by his French wife, Mrs. Lione Smith. She was reported to be enroute to French Morocco to visit her parents.

Wichita '9', Rain Defeat Chiefs, 2-1

WICHITA, Kan. (AP) — Rains came on hard after six innings of play here Monday night but held off just long enough to give Wichita a legal Western League victory over Lincoln, 2-1, in what was billed as the first game of a doubleheader.

The second one was never started.

The first one was halted after six innings.

With the score tied at 1-1 in the last of the sixth, with rain falling briskly throughout the inning and threatening to end the game any second, Tom Roberson drove out a game-winning hit with two out and that scored Thad Del Guercio.

As the seventh started, it started raining in sheets, the infield became a pond and the umpires called it.

The game was started with the infield heavily sprinkled with sand, but underneath there was no sure footing and base running was slow. Partly as a result of the heavy going, four double plays were made, three by Lincoln.

Bill Diemmer, Wichita's right-hander, had the better of a duel with Norm Brown. Lincoln scored first, in top of the fourth on doubles by Anderson and McQuillen.

Wichita came back with a tying run, loading the sacks with none out on a walk, a double by George Hallow and another walk, this one intentional. David rolled into a double play, but it allowed Springfield to score a run.

A doubleheader will be played Tuesday and again Wednesday between the teams as an entire series had been washed out here in April.

Andy Bush (6-1) will pitch for the Chiefs against Wichita Tuesday in one half of the doubleheader. Tom Keating (1-0) is the probable starter in the other game.

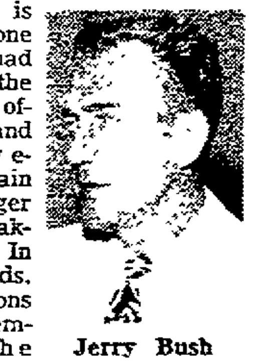
Jerry Bush, personable new University of Nebraska basketball coach, has already met with his 1954-55 Cornhusker squad.

What did he tell the candidates? Here's what:

"One important fact to keep in mind is that everyone on the squad must think the same, both offensively and defensively. "A chain is no stronger than its weakest link." In other words, if the actions of one member of the team are not in keeping with the other four, the whole thing is lost.



Jerry Bush

"Despite the fact that present rules penalize defensive play and opponent's scores give you possession of the ball . . . I am firmly convinced a team with an aggressive and effective defense has a decided edge. My reasons for feeling this way are twofold . . . First, any player, and many times an entire team, suffers bad nights offensively, good defense offsets such nights. Second, many times the entire complex and outcome of a basketball game is determined in the first few minutes of play. A good defensive team forces the other club to take bad shots at the outset. They are thrown off stride and the edge is in your favor.

"Realize, if you will, that in this day and age basket shooting is the primary fundamental of practically every youth in the game. How many boys have you seen in your travels, in town or country, practicing defense? You see them in playgrounds or back of the barns developing shots. Yes, fellows, give your opponents room or be lax on defense and you can rest assured you'll wind up on the short end.

"YOU PLAY DEFENSE AND YOUR OFFENSE WILL TAKE CARE OF ITSELF. When you are keyed up defensively you automatically key up offensively. There is only one way the ball goes in the basket—some player must put it up there. The ball has never been known to go in by itself. Get the mental attitude when you face an opponent that he isn't going to get anything and really work and stick him.

Sotto: Makes pretty darned good sense.

Since that reckless investigation committee accused the Yankee's Yank Bauer as being one of the athletes who were "coddled" in the service. The Firing Line did a little investigating.

Bauer enlisted in the Marine Corps for a four-year hitch on Jan. 19, 1942. After boot training in San Diego, he went to sea school for 10 weeks. He then volunteered to join Col. Evans Carlson's Raiders, was accepted and sent to Camp Pendleton for additional training.

Hank was shipped overseas on Feb. 9, 1943, landing first in New Hebrides. He was among the first Marines to land as a machine gunner at Veru Harbor, New Georgia. After that objective was taken, Hank, now a corporal, moved with his group to Guadalcanal and left for the invasion of Emirau.

After Emirau, where resistance was light, Bauer returned to Guadalcanal where the First Provisional Brigade was formed with the 22nd Marines.

Hank next took part in the invasion of Guam, where he was wounded and received a purple heart. He also was given a bronze star when he took over the leadership of his platoon after his platoon leader and platoon sergeant had been wounded.

After that came Okinawa where Hank, serving with the Sixth Division, was hit in the left leg by artillery fire and given another purple heart.

The box score: Bauer was a Marine for four years, with 11 campaign ribbons, two purple hearts, two bronze stars and took part in four dangerous island invasions.

Struck out: One congressional committee on military affairs, headed by Rep. William E. Hess of Cincinnati.

Mays' Two Homers Tip Phils, 5-4

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Willie Mays banged home four runs Monday night on a pair of homers and a single as the New York Giants whipped the Philadelphia Phillies 5-4.

Earl Torgeson came through with a double that scored two Philadelphia runs in the third inning. After Murry Dickson grounded out, Willie Jones started the rally with a walk. Richie Ashburn kept it going by singling. Then came Torgeson's double, sending Jones and Ashburn home.

The Giants got their first run in the fourth. Don Mueller went all the way to second on a grounder as Gran Hammer threw past first trying for the putout. Willie Mays' single scored Mueller.

The pair of tallies the Phillies got in the fifth inning were for the book. Kazanski led off with a single. Dickson tapped a roller down the middle and both runners were safe on Sal Maglie's wild throw to second. Jones sacrificed and Ashburn was walked to fill the bases. With Torgeson at bat a pitch got away from Catcher Ray Katt and Kazanski scored. Torgeson then was walked, filling the bags for the second time in the inning. Del Ennis' sacrifice fly scored Dickson before Hamner forced Torgeson to end the rally.

Pirates Beat Bums

BROOKLYN (AP)—Home runs by Frank Thomas and Dick Cole helped the lowly Pittsburgh Pirates knock the Brooklyn Dodgers out of first place in the National League Monday night with a 5-2 victory. The Pirates had lost six in a row to the Dodgers.

The last four losses had come in the current series which opened Friday night.

Thomas lined into the left field seats off Carl Erskine in the fourth inning after Bob Skinner had singled.

Cubs Topple Cards

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Rookie southpaw Jim Davis, making his first major league start, held the St. Louis Cardinals to seven singles to lead the Chicago Cubs to a 6-2 victory Monday night. Joe Garagiola hit his first homer of the year for the Cubs.

The game was played under protest by Cardinal manager Eddie Stanky after a fifth inning argument. Vic Raschi, who started for the Cardinals, retired from the game after one inning when he was hit above his right foot by a line drive and suffered a ruptured blood vessel.

The 28-year-old Davis struck out four and walked three. He held the Cardinals to one hit for four innings. The Birds bunched four of their singles in the fifth for their only runs of the game.

Chicago, on a triple by Frank Baumholtz and singles by Dee Fondy, scored one run in the third and added another single tally in the fourth on a walk, a single by Ransom Jackson and a sacrifice fly.

New Athletic Director And Coach

Skogman Meets Wesleyan Squad Today

By RON GIBSON
Star Sports Staff Member

Keith Skogman, Nebraska Wesleyan's new athletic director, football coach and track coach, today will make his first visit to the Plainsman campus since his acceptance of the new positions was confirmed Monday.

Skogman, head football and track coach at Dana, will replace Roy B. Robertson, who resigned April 7 to take a position as athletic director, football coach and baseball coach at Colorado College in Colorado Springs.

The 27-year-old Dana coach is scheduled to arrive in Lincoln at 1:30 p.m. today for a meeting with Wesleyan officials and a look-see at the athletic plant. He will drive from Blair.

"I have a great deal of respect for Nebraska Wesleyan and its staff," Skogman told The Star Monday night. He said he looked forward to taking over his second college coaching job.

Last year, he coached Dana to the Central Church College Conference football championship.

In football, Skogman uses a multiple offense based on an unbalanced line and including patterns from the T, single wing and double wing formations.

A graduate of Gustavus Adolphus, Skogman received a Master of Arts in physical education in 1950 from the University of Iowa and is working toward his Ph.D degree at Iowa U.

Although Skogman will not move to Lincoln until August and will not officially take the reins until football season opens, today's meeting will serve as a sort of unofficial "initiation" into the Wesleyan athletic family.

Working with Skogman on the Wesleyan coaching staff next year will be his long-time friend, Erv Peterson, now head of the physical education department at NWU.

Peterson took over the head basketball and baseball coaching jobs this season as a replacement for John Grayson, who moved to Oklahoma U. as a basketball assistant. "Pete" will continue in these positions next season.

Skogman's record at Dana includes the development of football, basketball and track. He encouraged the addition of four-year colleges to the athletic schedules at Dana.

He also worked with some outstanding athletes, including Marion Hudson, outstanding all-around star who won the javelin throw at the Drake Relays this spring with a toss of 202 feet 9½ inches and who holds the Nebraska state college javelin record.

Skogman is scheduled to direct the Blair recreation department summer program and will move to Lincoln in August with his wife, Mrs. Carol Thompson Skogman, and their two-month-old son, Keith Douglas.

Baksi Loses, Pilot Dies

. . . Baker On Decision

BROOKLYN (AP) — Bob Baker ruined 32-year-old Joe Baksi's comeback try Monday night by winning a unanimous 10-round decision at Eastern Parkway arena, as Baksi's manager collapsed in a ringside seat. Baksi weighed 236, Baker 206 pounds.

Minutes after the fight ended Leo Feureisen, the manager, died in the dressing room.

Baksi, making his second fight since 1951, tried to force the battle with his lunging wild swings. Baker made use of his quick hands to continually beat the ponderous Baksi to the punch. In the third round he appeared to have Baksi in trouble, but Baksi came back strong in the middle rounds.

Referee Abe Simon and Judge Bill Recht scored the fight 7-2-1 and Judge Leo Birnbaum 7-3, all for Baker. The AP card had Baker on top 6-4.

Baker, a 7-5 favorite, snapped back from a knockout defeat by Archie Moore, March 9, in Miami Beach. Baksi's only other fight since 1951 was a one round knockout over Billy Smith, March 30 at Jacksonville.

3-Hitter For Rookie

NEW YORK (AP)—Young Bob Grim pitched his first complete major league game for the New York Yankees Monday night, beating the Philadelphia Athletics 7-3 on three hits. The loss dumped the Athletics into a tie with Boston for last place in the American League.

Grim, 24 and just out of the marines, struck out seven and got in his only trouble through walks. He passed six, including two in the fourth when the A's go their first run, and two more in the sixth when they scored their other two.

The game, rescheduled after an early season rainout, drew only 10,598 cash customers, smallest night crowd in the history of arclight baseball in Yankee Stadium.

Girls, Pesek Head Card

. . . Fairgrounds Tonight

John Pesek, the master wrestler, will launch a comeback against the glamour boys of television at the fairgrounds tonight.

While the old Ravenna master returns to the wars against tough Bobby Nelson, the semi-windup matches two of the game's prettiest female contestants in Shirley Strimple and Ann LaVerne.

BOBBY NELSON

Roy McClarty, burly Canadian, meets Joe Dusek, veteran Omaha villain, in the opener at 8:30.

"This is my most versatile card of the year," commented Promoter Adam Krieger. "The fans have pleaded a long time for the return of John Pesek. They want to see what the Tigerman can do with these young television guys and I tell them he'll do plenty. These two girls are both easy to look at and they have a lot of skill in the ring."

In his only previous Lincoln appearance, Nelson whipped Mike DiBiase in two straight falls.

"If John gets by him, he'll really be on the comeback trail," said Krieger.

Getchell Heads Pros In Meet

OMAHA (AP)—Nebraska's professional golf champion is George Getchell of the Omaha Country Club, who won on a 154 over 36 holes at Happy Hollow club Monday.

He edged Eddie Axtell, Norfolk country club, 156, and Matt Zadalis, Omaha Miller Park, 157. Zadalis was the 1953 champion, and Axtell won in 1952.

Al Beister of Fremont CC had a 77 in the morning and did not turn in an afternoon card. Herman Strackbein, Kearney CC, the other entry, withdrew. In the Pro-Amateur play held along with the pro championship play, the Omaha Field Club team was the winner. Beatrice, Omaha Miller Park and Omaha Happy Hollow tied for second.

Raschi Hurts Foot; Out For 'Few Days'

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Vic Raschi, ace St. Louis Cardinal righthander who hasn't lost a game this season, suffered a ruptured blood vessel above his right foot Monday night when hit by a line drive.

X-rays showed no bones were broken. Raschi is expected to be out of action only a few days.

Stranahan Leads Yanks In British Amateur Tourney

MUIRFIELD, Scotland (AP) — Frank Stranahan and Bill Campbell led an 11-man American advance Monday in the British Amateur golf tournament, but 12 of their fellow countrymen didn't make it.

Stranahan, the two-time winner from Toledo, Ohio, and Campbell, long-hitting former legislator from Huntington, West Va., won second round matches after drawing opening byes.

Four other Americans followed them into the third round and five, including the highly-respected Frank Strafaci of Garden City, N. Y., moved into the second bracket.

Swathed in sweaters to combat the biting wind off the Firth of Forth, Stranahan, who won this title in 1948 and again in 1950, eliminated Andrew Forest of England, 4 and 3. Campbell ousted another Englishman, Denton Guest, 3 and 2.

Second round winners, besides Stranahan and Campbell, were Frank Woodward of Palm Beach, Fla.; Joe Walter Case of Hendersonville, N. C.; Clarke Hardwicke of Los Angeles and W. G. Wallace, Jr., of Pomona, Calif. All drew first round byes.

Schumacher Eliminated

A Nebraska City golfer, John Schumacher, was defeated 4 and 3 in the British Amateur tourney at Muirfield, Scotland, Monday by George Hendry of Scotland.

Schumacher has played in state tournaments in Lincoln and is well-known in Nebraska golf circles.

Holt Fires 139

Holt's total was five under par for the tough suburban Lemont course.

The 42-year-old operator of the Bel-Air Driving Range in nearby Bellwood will be making his debut in the National which will be held July 21-27 at St. Paul.

Holt was formerly pro at the Fremont, Neb., Country Club.

Millard, a perennial state baseball power, made a strong bid for a repeat Class D championship Monday as the 1954 State Baseball Tournament opened on a muddy University of Nebraska diamond.

Millard, the 1953 champ, beat Loomis 11-1 in a game shortened to six innings by the tournament rule which makes any team with a 10-run lead at the end of five inings or more an automatic victor.

Millard will meet Filley Wednesday at 9:30 a.m. in the finals. Filley beat Creighton St. Ludger, 11-3, in the other Class D game Monday.

Waldo Peterson, who starred for Clarks two years ago in a losing cause in the state meet, pitched his teammates to a 4-1 victory over Sterling in the feature Class C game of the day.

Clarks will meet St. Francis of Humphrey in the finals Wednesday. St. Francis was a 4-2 winner over Orchard.

St. Francis 4, Orchard 2

Gene Torczon outpitched Ken Bonge to lead his St. Francis of Humphrey teammates to a 4-2 win over Orchard in the best-played game of the day.

St. Francis took a 3-0 lead in the third inning, touching Bonge for three hits, including triples by Rich Backes and Torczon. A walk and a wild pitch helped the St. Francis cause.

Orchard came back with two in the fourth. Russ Leiding and Arvid Erb singled, then scored on infield outs by Bonge and Bill Mitchell.

Filley 11, St. Ludger 4

Filley won the opener, defeating Creighton St. Ludger's, 11-4, in Class D.

The Wolverines scored four runs in the fifth to crack a three-all tie, then cinched matters with another four-run outburst in the sixth. Only four of the 11 Filley runs were earned.

The winners played errorless ball despite the slippery underfooting. St. Ludger's chipped in with seven errors to help Filley coast to victory.

Sunday's hard rain left the diamond playable, but not in the best of condition.

St. Ludger's started off with a 2-run second inning. Filley scored once in the third, two in the fourth and let Creighton tie it up with a singleton in the fourth.

Hank Lenners led off the Filley fifth with a double to center. An error by Bill Dostal gave Gerald Dorn life. Another error, this one by Gordon Masat, let Lenners score. After a fly out, Don Lenners singled, scoring Dorn. Lenners went to second on an error on the play. A hit, sacrifice fly and an error wrapped up the Filley scoring and the ball game.

Millard 11, Loomis 1

Unleashing a five-run first inning, Millard, defending Class D champions, went on to crush Loomis, 11-1. The game ended in six innings, the winners having a 10-run lead at that time.

Millard started the first with Gary Reimers' triple, singles by Paul Kremke and Dick Schroeder, an out, a double by Don Paasch and a Loomis error. The five-run outburst was followed in the second with a three-run spurt gained on four hits.

After a single counter in the third, Millard was blanked until the sixth when two runs scored on one hit by Paasch and two errors.

Kremke pitched a five hitter, striking out nine and walking only three.

Starting pitcher Don Johnson took the loss, giving up eight hits and eight runs in one and one-third innings.

Clarks 4, Sterling 1

Waldo Peterson notched 16 strikeouts as he pitched Clarks to a 4-1 win over Sterling in the day's finale. The only run off him came in the fifth inning when Don Boden toured on an error, a stolen base, an infield hit by Dell Rathe and another error.

Clarks iced it in the sixth. Peterson opened the frame with a booming triple to center and scored when Ray Graves dumped a Texas League single over the second baseman's head.

Gerald Clark singled to center, sending Graves to third. Graves then scored on a wild pitch. Clark scored the third and final run of the inning on Dick Luce's single to deep short.

Wichita '9', Rain Defeat Chiefs, 2-1

WICHITA, Kan. (AP) — Rains came on hard after six innings of play here Monday night but held off just long enough to give Wichita a legal Western League victory over Lincoln, 2-1, in what was billed as the first game of a doubleheader.

The second one was never started.

The first one was halted after six innings.

With the score tied at 1-1 in the last of the sixth, with rain falling briskly throughout the inning and threatening to end the game any second, Tom Roberson drove out a game-winning hit with two out and that scored Thad Del Guercio.

As the seventh started, it started raining in sheets, the infield became a pond and the umpires called it.

The game was started with the infield heavily sprinkled with sand, but underneath there was no sure footing and base running was slow. Partly as a result of the heavy going, four double plays were made, three by Lincoln.

Bill Diemmer, Wichita's right-hander, had the better of a duel with Norm Brown. Lincoln scored first, in top of the fourth on doubles by Anderson and McQuillen.

Wichita came back with a tying run, loading the sacks with none out on a walk, a double by George Hallow and another walk, this one intentional. David rolled into a double play, but it allowed Springfield to score a run.

A doubleheader will be played Tuesday and again Wednesday between the teams as an entire series had been washed out here in April.

Andy Bush (6-1) will pitch for the Chiefs against Wichita Tuesday in one half of the doubleheader. Tom Keating (1-0) is the probable starter in the other game.

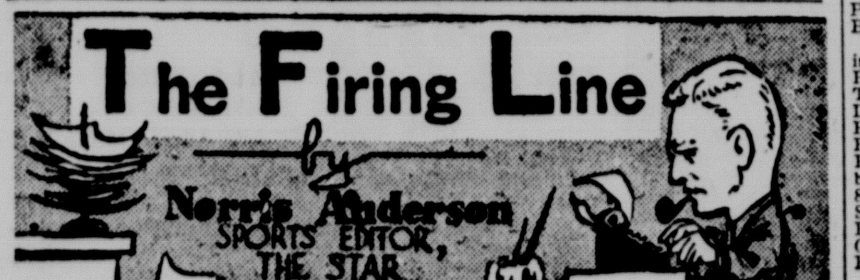
Pedro Gonzales Decisions Jones

NEW YORK (AP)—Pedro Gonzales, a whopping 3-1 underdog from Rankin, Pa., Monday night dished out another damaging defeat to Ralph (Tiger) Jones by gaining a split 10-round decision over the fourth-ranking middleweight from Yonkers, N. Y., at St. Nicholas Arena.



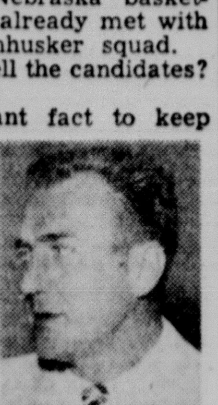
The Firing Line

by Norris Anderson

Sports Editor, The Star

Jerry Bush, personable new University of Nebraska basketball coach, has already met with his 1954-55 Cornhusker squad.

What did he tell the candidates? Here's what:



Jerry Bush

"One important fact to keep in mind is that everyone on the squad must think the same, both offensively and defensively. "A chain is no stronger than its weakest link." In other words, if the actions of one member of the team are not in keeping with the other four, the whole thing is lost.

"Despite the fact that present rules penalize defensive play and opponent's scores give you possession of the ball . . . I am firmly convinced a team with an aggressive and effective defense has a decided edge. My reasons for feeling this way are twofold . . . First, any player, and many times an entire team, suffers bad nights offensively, good defense offsets such nights. Second, many times the entire complex and outcome of a basketball game is determined in the first few minutes of play. A good defensive team forces the other club to take bad shots at the outset. They are thrown off stride and the edge is in your favor.

"Realize, if you will, that in this day and age basket shooting is the primary fundamental of practically every youth in the game. How many boys have you seen in your travels, in town or country, practicing defense? You see them in playgrounds or back of the barns developing shots. Yes, fellows, give your opponents room or be lax on defense and you can rest assured you'll wind up on the short end.

"YOU PLAY DEFENSE AND YOUR OFFENSE WILL TAKE CARE OF ITSELF. When you are keyed up defensively you automatically key up offensively. There is only one way the ball goes in the basket—some player must put it up there. The ball has never been known to go in by itself. Get the mental attitude when you face an opponent that he isn't going to get anything and really work and stick him.

Sotto: Makes pretty darned good sense.

Since that reckless investigation committee accused the Yankee's Yank Bauer as being one of the athletes who were "coddled" in the service. The Firing Line did a little investigating.

Bauer enlisted in the Marine Corps for a four-year hitch on Jan. 19, 1942. After boot training in San Diego, he went to sea school for 10 weeks. He then volunteered to join Col. Evans Carlson's Raiders, was accepted and sent to Camp Pendleton for additional training.

Hank was shipped overseas on Feb. 9, 1943, landing first in New Hebrides. He was among the first Marines to land as a machine gunner at Veru Harbor, New Georgia. After that objective was taken, Hank, now a corporal, moved with his group to Guadalcanal and left for the invasion of Emirau.

After Emirau, where resistance was light, Bauer returned to Guadalcanal where the First Provisional Brigade was formed with the 22nd Marines.

Hank next took part in the invasion of Guam, where he was wounded and received a purple heart. He also was given a bronze star when he took over the leadership of his platoon after his platoon leader and platoon sergeant had been wounded.

After that came Okinawa where Hank, serving with the Sixth Division, was hit in the left leg by artillery fire and given another purple heart.

The box score: Bauer was a Marine for four years, with 11 campaign ribbons, two purple hearts, two bronze stars and took part in four dangerous island invasions.

Struck out: One congressional committee on military affairs, headed by Rep. William E. Hess of Cincinnati.

—Yanks Whip A's—

Mays' Two Homers Tip Phils, 5-4

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Willie Mays banged home four runs Monday night on a pair of homers and a single as the New York Giants whipped the Philadelphia Phillies 5-4.

Earl Torgeson came through with a double that scored two Philadelphia runs in the third inning. After Murry Dickson grounded out, Willie Jones started the rally with a walk. Richie Ashburn kept it going by singling. Then came Torgeson's double, sending Jones and Ashburn home.

The Giants got their first run in the fourth. Don Mueller went all the way to second on a grounder as Gran Hammer threw past first trying for the putout. Willie Mays' single scored Mueller.

The pair of tallies the Phillies got in the fifth inning were for the book. Kazanski led off with a single. Dickson tapped a roller down the middle and both runners were safe on Sal Maglie's wild throw to second. Jones sacrificed and Ashburn was walked to fill the bases. With Torgeson at bat a pitch got away from Catcher Ray Katt and Kazanski scored. Torgeson then was walked, filling the bags for the second time in the inning. Del Ennis' sacrifice fly scored Dickson before Hamner forced Torgeson to end the rally.

Pirates Beat Bums

BROOKLYN (AP)—Home runs by Frank Thomas and Dick Cole helped the lowly Pittsburgh Pirates knock the Brooklyn Dodgers out of first place in the National League Monday night with a 5-2 victory. The Pirates had lost six in a row to the Dodgers.

The last four losses had come in the current series which opened Friday night.

Thomas lined into the left field seats off Carl Erskine in the fourth inning after Bob Skinner had singled.

Cubs Topple Cards

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Rookie southpaw Jim Davis, making his first major league start, held the St. Louis Cardinals to seven singles to lead the Chicago Cubs to a 6-2 victory Monday night. Joe Garagiola hit his first homer of the year for the Cubs.

The game was played under protest by Cardinal manager Eddie Stanky after a fifth inning argument. Vic Raschi, who started for the Cardinals, retired from the game after one inning when he was hit above his right foot by a line drive and suffered a ruptured blood vessel.

The 28-year-old Davis struck out four and walked three. He held the Cardinals to one hit for four innings. The Birds bunched four of their singles in the fifth for their only runs of the game.

Chicago, on a triple by Frank Baumholtz and singles by Dee Fondy, scored one run in the third and added another single tally in the fourth on a walk, a single by Ransom Jackson and a sacrifice fly.

New Athletic Director And Coach

Skogman Meets Wesleyan Squad Today

By RON GIBSON
Star Sports Staff Member

Keith Skogman, Nebraska Wesleyan's new athletic director, football coach and track coach, today will make his first visit to the Plainsman campus since his acceptance of the new positions was confirmed Monday.

Skogman, head football and track coach at Dana, will replace Roy B. Robertson, who resigned April 7 to take a position as athletic director, football coach and baseball coach at Colorado College in Colorado Springs.

The 27-year-old Dana coach is scheduled to arrive in Lincoln at 1:30 p.m. today for a meeting with Wesleyan officials and a look-see at the athletic plant. He will drive from Blair.

"I have a great deal of respect for Nebraska Wesleyan and its staff," Skogman told The Star Monday night. He said he looked forward to taking over his second college coaching job.

Last year, he coached Dana to the Central Church College Conference football championship.

In football, Skogman uses a multiple offense based on an unbalanced line and including patterns from the T, single wing and double wing formations.

A graduate of Gustavus Adolphus, Skogman received a Master of Arts in physical education in 1950 from the University of Iowa and is working toward his Ph.D degree at Iowa U.

Although Skogman will not move to Lincoln until August and will not officially take the reins until football season opens, today's meeting will serve as a sort of unofficial "initiation" into the Wesleyan athletic family.

Working with Skogman on the Wesleyan coaching staff next year will be his long-time friend, Erv Peterson, now head of the physical education department at NWU.

Peterson took over the head basketball and baseball coaching jobs this season as a replacement for John Grayson, who moved to Oklahoma U. as a basketball assistant. "Pete" will continue in these positions next season.

Skogman's record at Dana includes the development of football, basketball and track. He encouraged the addition of four-year colleges to the athletic schedules at Dana.

He also worked with some outstanding athletes, including Marion Hudson, outstanding all-around star who won the javelin throw at the Drake Relays this spring with a toss of 202 feet 9½ inches and who holds the Nebraska state college javelin record.

Skogman is scheduled to direct the Blair recreation department summer program and will move to Lincoln in August with his wife, Mrs. Carol Thompson Skogman, and their two-month-old son, Keith Douglas.

Baksi Loses, Pilot Dies

. . . Baker On Decision

BROOKLYN (AP) — Bob Baker ruined 32-year-old Joe Baksi's comeback try Monday night by winning a unanimous 10-round decision at Eastern Parkway arena, as Baksi's manager collapsed in a ringside seat. Baksi weighed 236, Baker 206 pounds.

Minutes after the fight ended Leo Feureisen, the manager, died in the dressing room.

Baksi, making his second fight since 1951, tried to force the battle with his lunging wild swings. Baker made use of his quick hands to continually beat the ponderous Baksi to the punch. In the third round he appeared to have Baksi in trouble, but Baksi came back strong in the middle rounds.

Referee Abe Simon and Judge Bill Recht scored the fight 7-2-1 and Judge Leo Birnbaum 7-3, all for Baker. The AP card had Baker on top 6-4.

Baker, a 7-5 favorite, snapped back from a knockout defeat by Archie Moore, March 9, in Miami Beach. Baksi's only other fight since 1951 was a one round knockout over Billy Smith, March 30 at Jacksonville.

3-Hitter For Rookie

NEW YORK (AP)—Young Bob Grim pitched his first complete major league game for the New York Yankees Monday night, beating the Philadelphia Athletics 7-3 on three hits. The loss dumped the Athletics into a tie with Boston for last place in the American League.

Grim, 24 and just out of the marines, struck out seven and got in his only trouble through walks. He passed six, including two in the fourth when the A's go their first run, and two more in the sixth when they scored their other two.

The game, rescheduled after an early season rainout, drew only 10,598 cash customers, smallest night crowd in the history of arclight baseball in Yankee Stadium.

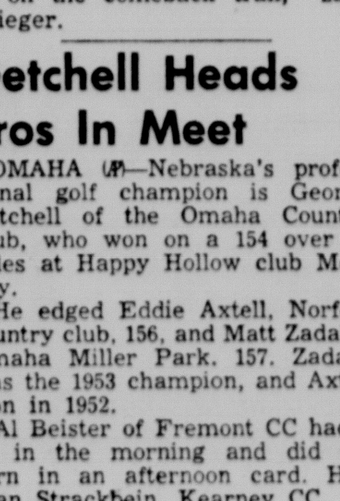
Girls, Pesek Head Card

. . . Fairgrounds Tonight

John Pesek, the master wrestler, will launch a comeback against the glamour boys of television at the fairgrounds tonight.

While the old Ravenna master returns to the wars against tough Bobby Nelson, the semi-windup matches two of the game's prettiest female contestants in Shirley Strimple and Ann LaVerne.



BOBBY NELSON

Roy McClarty, burly Canadian, meets Joe Dusek, veteran Omaha villain, in the opener at 8:30.

"This is my most versatile card of the year," commented Promoter Adam Krieger. "The fans have pleaded a long time for the return of John Pesek. They want to see what the Tigerman can do with these young television guys and I tell them he'll do plenty. These two girls are both easy to look at and they have a lot of skill in the ring."

In his only previous Lincoln appearance, Nelson whipped Mike DiBiase in two straight falls.

"If John gets by him, he'll really be on the comeback trail," said Krieger.

Getchell Heads Pros In Meet

OMAHA (AP)—Nebraska's professional golf champion is George Getchell of the Omaha Country Club, who won on a 154 over 36 holes at Happy Hollow club Monday.

He edged Eddie Axtell, Norfolk country club, 156, and Matt Zadalis, Omaha Miller Park, 157. Zadalis was the 1953 champion, and Axtell won in 1952.

Al Beister of Fremont CC had a 77 in the morning and did not turn in an afternoon card. Herman Strackbein, Kearney CC, the other entry, withdrew. In the Pro-Amateur play held along with the pro championship play, the Omaha Field Club team was the winner. Beatrice, Omaha Miller Park and Omaha Happy Hollow tied for second.

Stranahan Leads Yanks In British Amateur Tourney

MUIRFIELD, Scotland (AP) — Frank Stranahan and Bill Campbell led an 11-man American advance Monday in the British Amateur golf tournament, but 12 of their fellow countrymen didn't make it.

Stranahan, the two-time winner from Toledo, Ohio, and Campbell, long-hitting former legislator from Huntington, West Va., won second round matches after drawing opening byes.

Four other Americans followed them into the third round and five, including the highly-respected Frank Strafaci of Garden City, N. Y., moved into the second bracket.

Swathed in sweaters to combat the biting wind off the Firth of Forth, Stranahan, who won this title in 1948 and again in 1950, eliminated Andrew Forest of England, 4 and 3. Campbell ousted another Englishman, Denton Guest, 3 and 2.

Second round winners, besides Stranahan and Campbell, were Frank Woodward of Palm Beach, Fla.; Joe Walter Case of Hendersonville, N. C.; Clarke Hardwicke of Los Angeles and W. G. Wallace, Jr., of Pomona, Calif. All drew first round byes.

Schumacher Eliminated

A Nebraska City golfer, John Schumacher, was defeated 4 and 3 in the British Amateur tourney at Muirfield, Scotland, Monday by George Hendry of Scotland.

Schumacher has played in state tournaments in Lincoln and is well-known in Nebraska golf circles.

Holt Fires 139

CHICAGO (AP)—Marshall Holt fired a 71-68—139 Monday at the Cog-Hill Country Club to lead seven Illinois section qualifiers for the National Professional Golf tournament.

Millard, a perennial state baseball power, made a strong bid for a repeat Class D championship Monday as the 1954 State Baseball Tournament opened on a muddy University of Nebraska diamond.

Millard, the 1953 champ, beat Loomis 11-1 in a game shortened to six innings by the tournament rule which makes any team with a 10-run lead at the end of five inings or more an automatic victor.

Millard will meet Filley Wednesday at 9:30 a.m. in the finals. Filley beat Creighton St. Ludger, 11-3, in the other Class D game Monday.

Waldo Peterson, who starred for Clarks two years ago in a losing cause in the state meet, pitched his teammates to a 4-1 victory over Sterling in the feature Class C game of the day.

Clarks will meet St. Francis of Humphrey in the finals Wednesday. St. Francis was a 4-2 winner over Orchard.

St. Francis 4, Orchard 2

Gene Torczon outpitched Ken Bonge to lead his St. Francis of Humphrey teammates to a 4-2 win over Orchard in the best-played game of the day.

St. Francis took a 3-0 lead in the third inning, touching Bonge for three hits, including triples by Rich Backes and Torczon. A walk and a wild pitch helped the St. Francis cause.

Orchard came back with two in the fourth. Russ Leiding and Arvid Erb singled, then scored on infield outs by Bonge and Bill Mitchell.

Filley 11, St. Ludger 4

Filley won the opener, defeating Creighton St. Ludger's, 11-4, in Class D.

The Wolverines scored four runs in the fifth to crack a three-all tie, then cinched matters with another four-run outburst in the sixth. Only four of the 11 Filley runs were earned.

The winners played errorless ball despite the slippery underfooting. St. Ludger's chipped in with seven errors to help Filley coast to victory.

Sunday's hard rain left the diamond playable, but not in the best of condition.

St. Ludger's started off with a 2-run second inning. Filley scored once in the third, two in the fourth and let Creighton tie it up with a singleton in the fourth.

Hank Lenners led off the Filley fifth with a double to center. An error by Bill Dostal gave Gerald Dorn life. Another error, this one by Gordon Masat, let Lenners score. After a fly out, Don Lenners singled, scoring Dorn. Lenners went to second on an error on the play. A hit, sacrifice fly and an error wrapped up the Filley scoring and the ball game.

Millard 11, Loomis 1

Unleashing a five-run first inning, Millard, defending Class D champions, went on to crush Loomis, 11-1. The game ended in six innings, the winners having a 10-run lead at that time.

Millard started the first with Gary Reimers' triple, singles by Paul Kremke and Dick Schroeder, an out, a double by Don Paasch and a Loomis error. The five-run outburst was followed in the second with a three-run spurt gained on four hits.

After a single counter in the third, Millard was blanked until the sixth when two runs scored on one hit by Paasch and two errors.

Kremke pitched a five hitter, striking out nine and walking only three.

Starting pitcher Don Johnson took the loss, giving up eight hits and eight runs in one and one-third innings.

Clarks 4, Sterling 1

Waldo Peterson notched 16 strikeouts as he pitched Clarks to a 4-1 win over Sterling in the day's finale. The only run off him came in the fifth inning when Don Boden toured on an error, a stolen base, an infield hit by Dell Rathe and another error.

Clarks iced it in the sixth. Peterson opened the frame with a booming triple to center and scored when Ray Graves dumped a Texas League single over the second baseman's head.

Gerald Clark singled to center, sending Graves to third. Graves then scored on a wild pitch. Clark scored the third and final run of the inning on Dick Luce's single to deep short.

Happy Cavarretta Signs With White Sox

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN

CHICAGO (AP)—Phil Cavarretta, happy as a kid with a new bat, Monday signed with the Chicago White Sox and 30 minutes later was working out on the field with the characteristic hustle that endeared him to Chicago Cub fans for 20 years.

Cavarretta

It was a whirlwind signing, typical of the Frank Lane assembly line technique of making deals. It followed some 18 hours after the Sox general manager had given the Boston Red Sox a reported $100,000 and Grady Hatton for third baseman George Kell.

Cavarretta, fired as Cub manager last March and replaced by another city favorite, Stan Hack, signed with the Comiskey's for the 1954 season as a utility first baseman, outfielder and pinch hitter. He will be 38, July 19.

Terms were undisclosed, but, ironically, the Cubs will wind up paying nearly all of Phil's salary for playing with their south side rivals.

He was continued on the Cub payroll for the season at a salary of something like $30,000. The pay for any new baseball job he took was to be deducted from this amount. The White Sox undoubtedly picked him up for peanuts.

"I've always admired Phil ever since he was at Lane Tech (Chicago) High," said Lane. "In fact, at that time I wanted to sign him for Cincinnati (Lane was in charge of the Cincinnati farm system at that time) but he had promised himself to the Cubs."

Phil reportedly was fired by the Cubs for telling his boss, P. K. Wrigley, that the team had shortcomings. His attitude was termed as defeatism.

"If Cavarretta ever had a defeatism attitude then I would like to have more guys like him," said Lane. "I remember that Marty Marion was accused of something similar and didn't get a chance to manage Baltimore. As you know, he's with us now as a coach—and a fine one."

Phil will be in White Sox livery tonight at Comiskey Park in the opening of a two-game series with the league leading Cleveland Indians. He might get in as a pinch hitter—heretofore a glaring Sox weakness as Manager Paul Richards sent pinch batters to the plate 35 times before one of them, Pitcher Bob Keegan, produced.

"It's certainly good to be back playing baseball in Chicago and I'm here to stay," said Phil, who has a career batting average of .292 and won the National League crown and Most Valuable Player award with .355 while helping lead the Cubs to the title in 1945.

"I'm in pretty good shape. Been working out at Dallas and just waiting and hoping to get back into baseball."

Sore Hand May Stop Kid's Bout

HAVANA (AP)—Kid Gavilan may be unable to defend his welterweight title against Johnny Saxton at Philadelphia, July 14, because of a bone dislocation in his right hand—the same hand he said bothered him against Bobo Olson.

Dr. Ulises Sosa De Quesada placed the hand in a plaster cast after an examination. Monday he said an operation might be necessary. If the Keed has to undergo surgery, he won't be able to fight for several months.

The International Boxing Club said it had heard nothing about any postponement although it had been unable to contact Angel Lopez Gavilan's manager. The IBC was to promote the Philadelphia fight in conjunction with Herman Taylor.

Gavilan, reached by phone at Tolguin in central Cuba where he is appearing in a song and dance show, said it is "possible" he won't be ready July 14.

"I am very bothered by the pain," he said, adding it would take two weeks to determine if an operation would be necessary.

"I think it will heal and they won't need to operate," he said. "But I will need five weeks training and I don't think I could enter the ring before the end of July."

If the fight is put back, it will be the second title postponement within a week. Paddy DeMarco had to withdraw last Friday from his June 2 lightweight title defense against ex-champ Jimmy Carter because of a virus infection.

Gavilan complained of a sore hand after he lost to middleweight champ Olson at Chicago, April 2. He had denied reports his hand was injured before the fight. Later he said he had hurt it in a tuneup bout with Johnny Cunningham at Miami Beach, Feb. 23.

Supreme Court Asks If Boxing Is 'Anti-Trust'

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Supreme Court agreed Monday to decide whether professional boxing, like baseball, is not subject to the Sherman Anti-Trust laws.

The high court ruled earlier this year that professional baseball is exempt from the law. However, the Justice Department has indicated it will vigorously attack that decision when it goes before the court on the boxing question and a case involving the production and booking of legitimate theaters.

The court can't hear the boxing and theater cases until after the court's next term, which begins in October, since no more arguments are being heard ths term. The tribunal will only hold two more decision days and then recess for the summer.

Monday's court order, issued without comment, granted the Justice Department an appeal from a decision by the U. S. District Court in New York.

Sox Pepper Omaha, 16-2

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (AP)—The Colorado Springs Sky Sox streamrollered to a 16-2 win Monday night over Omaha with a devastating 20-hit barrage off two Cardinal hurlers.

Side-armed Larry Hoffman tamed the Cardinals on a 6-hitter to record his fifth triumph of the season. There was never any doubt about the outcome as the rampaging Sox teed off on starter Ron Kump in the early innings. The Sox chased Kump in the fourth frame with a 5-run outburst on four hits. The big blow of the inning was Hal Rhyne's bases-loaded home run.

Right fielder Carroll Gholson smacked a solo homerun for the Sox in the fifth.

Omaha picked up its two runs in the seventh inning when reliefer Mel Greer singled and scored on Don McClennan's triple to right center. McLennan later scored on an infield out.

PUEBLO, Colo. (AP) — Sioux City grabbed a 3-0 lead on Dick Getter's first inning homer and went on to defeat Pueblo 7-4 in the opener of a 4-game Western League series here Monday night.

Getter smacked his homer over the left field fence after Dodger starter Ralph Mauriello had walked two men on. Mauriello permitted only four in the first seven innings, but one was a solo homer by Soo Manager Dave Garcia in the fourth.

Billy's Army Record Draws House Probe

. . . Discrimination

WASHINGTON (AP)—House investigators went to work on the reverse side of the coin Monday. They began an inquiry to determine whether the army was discriminating against Billy Martin, former second baseman of the New York Yankees.

Martin was one of 10 athletes involved in hearings by a house armed services subcommittee earlier this month when the house members were looking into reports that the army was coddling athletes.

Chairman Hess (R-O) said he wrote secretary of the army Stevens, asking him to check up on the matter. The text of the letter to Stevens was not made public but Hess did release a copy of a letter he had received from Martin.

In effect, the committee now is asking the army: "How come?"

Martin's letter followed an official invitation to him to come in and testfy. All 10 athletes were accorded this privilege.

Martin, second baseman star of last year's world series, declined the invitation and said he didn't want his letter to be "interpreted as a complaint or bellyaching," but that:

"I would like to make certain facts pertaining to my army duty clear to you and the committee. They are:

"1. Since induction into the Army on March 8, 1954, I have received no preferential treatment whatsoever. Quite to the contrary my treatment has in fact on occasions seemed to be more severe than that of my fellow soldiers.

"2. When stationed at Fort Ord, Calif., I would have greatly enjoyed trying out for the camp baseball team. I found, however, that I was not to be permitted to try out for the team although a place on the ball team was supposedly available to any soldier on the post who could successfully fill the position after qualifying through the tryouts.

"3. Other soldiers in my training company were allowed greater off-post pass privileges than I and I was told that because I was an ex-New York ball player that they couldn't do the same for me."

A Family Conference

Second baseman Granny Hamner and his wife, Shirley, talk over the recent private detective incident in their Philadelphia home. A private investigator was arrested when Hamner reported he was trailed home from the ball park. Bob Carpenter, owner of the Philadelphia Phillies, admitted he had a private detective checking up on his player's after game habits. Hamner is demanding a showdown with owner Carpenter over what he termed the "gestapo tactics" of having ball players trailed by private detectives. (AP) Wirephoho.)

—Takes Split Verdict Over Espinosa—

Home Fans Boo Shirai's Winning Title Defense

By JIM BECKER

TOKYO (AP)—World flyweight king Yoshio Shirai saved his crown Monday night with a split decision over Leo Espinosa which brought howls of protest from the challenger's corner.

Even the 35,000 fans, who paid a record gate of $72,000, gave the champion only a polite spattering of applause as the decision was announced. Most of them were Japanese who favored Shirai.

There were a few cheers for the little Filipino, who had taken command in the middle rounds of a bruising struggle only to see the Japanese come back strong at the finish.

The champion, who defended his title for the fourth time, weighed 110¾. Espinosa—at five feet is four inches shorter than the champion—weighed 111.

One judge called the fight 149-145 for Shirai under Japan's complex point system. The referee called it 147-145 for Shirai. The second judge made it 142-141 for Espinosa.

The Associated Press score card called it 144-140 for Espinosa was given seven rounds to six for Shirai with two even.

It was a bristling battle, packed with action although there were no knockdowns. Shirai bled briefly from a cut in the corner of his right eye midway in the fight.

The champion jabbed and boxed well the early rounds. But Espinosa took over midway in the fight and often beat Shirai at his own game, counter punching.

Espinosa pinned Shirai on the ropes several times and punished him with left hooks. Shirai fought back in the last three rounds, trying for a knockout as the crowd yelled.

Espinosa, who had stopped Shirai in a non-title bout with a TKO only shrugged at the verdict. The 24-year-old Filipino's manager was more vocal.

"The fight people saw the fight," Blacido Borroneo declared in the dressing room. "You can't fool the people. They know who won."

Shirai's American manager, Alvin Chan, brushed off the complaint with: "It always happens." He said Shirai would not fight Espinosa again but would take a trip through Argentina and Brazil this summer and defend his title again in the fall.

Espinosa drew only $3,000 for the fight. Shirai and his manager were mum on the amount they would collect from the gate, which was swelled by television receipts.

Henrich Named Head Of Brewery

Yankees, past and present, attending the affair were Bill Dickey, Marius Russo, Gene Woodling, Ralph Houk, Bobby Brown, Charley Silveri and Allie Reynolds.

Also on hand were numerous radio and television personalities.

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Speedy Ralph Dupas of New Orleans, displaying a newly found punching power, easily decisioned Freddie (Babe) Herman of Los Angeles in a 10-round lightweight match here Monday night. Dupas weighed 137, Herman 140½.

Chiefs Can Rejoice, Denver Loses Also

DENVER (AP)—Denver lost a chance to gain ground on league-leading Lincoln Monday night as Des Moines rode to an easy 10-2 win over the Bears behind the tight hurling of Don Elston.

The Bruin pitcher scattered 10 Denver hits for his third victory of the season since joining the Des Moines club from the Chicago Cubs.

Meanwhile, the winners went to work early on Bear pitcher Loyal Bloxam, who lost his second game against three wins. Des Moines collected a pair of runs in the first inning, then chased Bloxam with a five-run outburst in the second.

With one out, Jim McDaniel singled, Elston was safe on a fielders' choice, and Ed Winceniak singled to load the bases in the second inning. Bob Speake then banged a double off the right field fence to clear the bases.

Hamner's Shadow Held In $500 Bail

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The private detective whose arrest while trailing Granny Hamner of the Philadelphia Phillies set off the current uproar over baseball "private eyes" waived hearing and was held in $500 bail for court Monday on a charge of possessing firearms.

The investigator, Charles Leland, 36, of St. Georges, Del., did not testify at the brief arraignment before Magistrate William Hagan. His counsel, Atty, Albert C. Richter, said "the only thing to do is to thrash this out in court."

Warm Weather, Rain Improve Fishing In Some Parts Of State

With the advent of warm weather, fishing is improving in some areas of the state. Local rains and cool temperatures have held down the fishing success in other regions.

In the Sutherland reservoir and Lake Maloney area the white bass are hitting on minnows and some artificial baits. Catfishing on the North Platte River in this area is good. Bill Schnelle, North Platte, caught a 14 pound catfish. Other good catches in the North Platte area were: Dilbert Harckenbroock, North Platte, a 2 pound, 2 ounce rainbow trout; Rubert Quick, North Platte, a 3 pound, 6 ounce white bass; M. M. Baker, North Platte, a 3 pound, 2 ounce white bass; and Mrs. Kuskie, Wallace, a 2 pound, 15 ounce white bass.

Fred Herndon and Johnnie Hoehne, both of North Platte, each caught 1 pound, 15 ounce crappies. Ted Pickenbrock, Kimball, caught a 17 pound, 7 ounce northern pike and John Burrier, North Platte, landed a 13 pound, 6 ounce northern pike. W. J. Gurwell, Kimball, caught a 5 pound, 6 ounce black bass and Lawrence Hite, North Platte, caught a 3 pound, 12 ounce rainbow trout.

Catfishing was good on the Loup Canal near Genoa. Herb Myer took a 27 pound catfish, using a chub for bait.

Near Kearney, on the South Loup River and North Platte River, bluegill, bass and bullhead fishing was fair. George Ruby, Lowell, caught 10 crappies in the Newark sandpits, using minnows for bait.

Over near Omaha, the Platte and Elkhorns Rivers have started to produce good catfishing. Fishermen have been taking good catches with chicken and turkey livers used as bait. Carter Lake and the Sandpit lakes have been fairly productive for bullheads, bass and crappies. Night fishing with worms on the Platte has been producing some good catches of walleyes.

Walleye fishing with artificial lures is good at Johnson Reservoir. Mr. and Mrs. Harry Knopp of Holdrege and Mr. and Mrs. Claude DeVoe of Elm Creek caught nine walleyes on plugs. The two largest fish were 4½ pounds and 5½ pounds. Gallagher and Plum Creek were producing good crappie catches. Both black bass and white bass were being caught at the Tri-County canals, in this area.

Fishing was generally good at the Harlan County Reservoir. Black bass, crappie, bullheads, perch, northern pike, catfish, bluegills, walleyes and carp were being caught. Both minnows and worms were popular baits.

Fishing at Lake McConaughy has improved "100 per cent," according to reports. The white bass have started to hit good and the walleye fishing is greatly improved.

Follows Kell Deal By 18 Hours

Happy Cavarretta Signs With White Sox

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN

CHICAGO (AP)—Phil Cavarretta, happy as a kid with a new bat, Monday signed with the Chicago White Sox and 30 minutes later was working out on the field with the characteristic hustle that endeared him to Chicago Cub fans for 20 years.

Cavarretta

It was a whirlwind signing, typical of the Frank Lane assembly line technique of making deals. It followed some 18 hours after the Sox general manager had given the Boston Red Sox a reported $100,000 and Grady Hatton for third baseman George Kell.

Cavarretta, fired as Cub manager last March and replaced by another city favorite, Stan Hack, signed with the Comiskey's for the 1954 season as a utility first baseman, outfielder and pinch hitter. He will be 38, July 19.

Terms were undisclosed, but, ironically, the Cubs will wind up paying nearly all of Phil's salary for playing with their south side rivals.

He was continued on the Cub payroll for the season at a salary of something like $30,000. The pay for any new baseball job he took was to be deducted from this amount. The White Sox undoubtedly picked him up for peanuts.

"I've always admired Phil ever since he was at Lane Tech (Chicago) High," said Lane. "In fact. at that time I wanted to sign him for Cincinnati (Lane was in charge of the Cincinnati farm system at that time) but he had promised himself to the Cubs."

Phil reportedly was fired by the Cubs for telling his boss, P. K. Wrigley, that the team had shortcomings. His attitude was termed as defeatism.

"If Cavarretta ever had a defeatism attitude then I would like to have more guys like him," said Lane. "I remember that Marty Marion was accused of something similar and didn't get a chance to manage Baltimore. As you know, he's with us now as a coach—and a fine one."

Phil will be in White Sox livery tonight at Comiskey Park in the opening of a two-game series with the league leading Cleveland Indians. He might get in as a pinch hitter—heretofore a glaring Sox weakness as Manager Paul Richards sent pinch batters to the plate 35 times before one of them, Pitcher Bob Keegan, produced.

"It's certainly good to be back playing baseball in Chicago and I'm here to stay," said Phil, who has a career batting average of .292 and won the National League crown and Most Valuable Player award with .355 while helping lead the Cubs to the title in 1945.

"I'm in pretty good shape. Been working out at Dallas and just waiting and hoping to get back into baseball."

Sore Hand May Stop Kid's Bout

HAVANA (AP)—Kid Gavilan may be unable to defend his welterweight title against Johnny Saxton at Philadelphia, July 14, because of a bone dislocation in his right hand—the same hand he said bothered him against Bobo Olson.

Dr. Ulises Sosa De Quesada placed the hand in a plaster cast after an examination. Monday he said an operation might be necessary. If the Keed has to undergo surgery, he won't be able to fight for several months.

The International Boxing Club said it had heard nothing about any postponement although it had been unable to contact Angel Lopez Gavilan's manager. The IBC was to promote the Philadelphia fight in conjunction with Herman Taylor.

Gavilan, reached by phone at Tolguin in central Cuba where he is appearing in a song and dance show, said it is "possible" he won't be ready July 14.

"I am very bothered by the pain," he said, adding it would take two weeks to determine if an operation would be necessary.

"I think it will heal and they won't need to operate," he said. "But I will need five weeks training and I don't think I could enter the ring before the end of July."

If the fight is put back, it will be the second title postponement within a week. Paddy DeMarco had to withdraw last Friday from his June 2 lightweight title defense against ex-champ Jimmy Carter because of a virus infection.

Gavilan complained of a sore hand after he lost to middleweight champ Olson at Chicago, April 2. He had denied reports his hand was injured before the fight. Later he said he had hurt it in a tuneup bout with Johnny Cunningham at Miami Beach, Feb. 23.

Supreme Court Asks If Boxing Is 'Anti-Trust'

WASHINGTON (AP)— The Supreme Court agreed Monday to decide whether professional boxing, like baseball, is not subject to the Sherman Anti-Trust laws.

The high court ruled earlier this year that professional baseball is exempt from the law. However, the Justice Department has indicated it will vigorously attack that decision when it goes before the court on the boxing question and a case involving the production and booking of legitimate theaters.

The court can't hear the boxing and theater cases until after the court's next term, which begins in October, since no more arguments are being heard ths term. The tribunal will only hold two more decision days and then recess for the summer.

Monday's court order, issued without comment, granted the Justice Department an appeal from a decision by the U. S. District Court in New York.

Sox Pepper Omaha, 16-2

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (AP)—The Colorado Springs Sky Sox streamrollered to a 16-2 win Monday night over Omaha with a devastating 20-hit barrage off two Cardinal hurlers.

Side-armed Larry Hoffman tamed the Cardinals on a 6-hitter to record his fifth triumph of the season. There was never any doubt about the outcome as the rampaging Sox teed off on starter Ron Kump in the early innings. The Sox chased Kump in the fourth frame with a 5-run outburst on four hits. The big blow of the inning was Hal Rhyne's bases-loaded home run.

Right fielder Carroll Gholson smacked a solo homerun for the Sox in the fifth.

Omaha picked up its two runs in the seventh inning when reliefer Mel Greer singled and scored on Don McClennan's triple to right center. McLennan later scored on an infield out.

Soos Defeat Pueblo

PUEBLO, Colo. (AP) — Sioux City grabbed a 3-0 lead on Dick Getter's first inning homer and went on to defeat Pueblo 7-4 in the opener of a 4-game Western League series here Monday night.

Getter smacked his homer over the left field fence after Dodger starter Ralph Mauriello had walked two men on. Mauriello permitted only four in the first seven innings, but one was a solo homer by Soo Manager Dave Garcia in the fourth.

Billy's Army Record Draws House Probe

. . . Discrimination

WASHINGTON (AP)—House investigators went to work on the reverse side of the coin Monday. They began an inquiry to determine whether the army was discriminating against Billy Martin, former second baseman of the New York Yankees.

Martin was one of 10 athletes involved in hearings by a house armed services subcommittee earlier this month when the house members were looking into reports that the army was coddling athletes.

Chairman Hess (R-O) said he wrote secretary of the army Stevens, asking him to check up on the matter. The text of the letter to Stevens was not made public but Hess did release a copy of a letter he had received from Martin.

In effect, the committee now is asking the army: "How come?"

Martin's letter followed an official invitation to him to come in and testfy. All 10 athletes were accorded this privilege.

Martin, second baseman star of last year's world series, declined the invitation and said he didn't want his letter to be "interpreted as a complaint or bellyaching," but that:

"I would like to make certain facts pertaining to my army duty clear to you and the committee. They are:

"1. Since induction into the Army on March 8, 1954, I have received no preferential treatment whatsoever. Quite to the contrary my treatment has in fact on occasions seemed to be more severe than that of my fellow soldiers.

"2. When stationed at Fort Ord, Calif., I would have greatly enjoyed trying out for the camp baseball team. I found, however, that I was not to be permitted to try out for the team although a place on the ball team was supposedly available to any soldier on the post who could successfully fill the position after qualifying through the tryouts.

"3. Other soldiers in my training company were allowed greater off-post pass privileges than I and I was told that because I was an ex-New York ball player that they couldn't do the same for me."

A Family Conference

Second baseman Granny Hamner and his wife, Shirley, talk over the recent private detective incident in their Philadelphia home. A private investigator was arrested when Hamner reported he was trailed home from the ball park. Bob Carpenter, owner of the Philadelphia Phillies, admitted he had a private detective checking up on his player's after game habits. Hamner is demanding a showdown with owner Carpenter over what he termed the "gestapo tactics" of having ball players trailed by private detectives. (AP) Wirephoho.)

—Takes Split Verdict Over Espinosa—

Home Fans Boo Shirai's Winning Title Defense

By JIM BECKER

TOKYO (AP)—World flyweight king Yoshio Shirai saved his crown Monday night with a split decision over Leo Espinosa which brought howls of protest from the challenger's corner.

Even the 35,000 fans, who paid a record gate of $72,000, gave the champion only a polite spattering of applause as the decision was announced. Most of them were Japanese who favored Shirai.

There were a few cheers for the little Filipino, who had taken command in the middle rounds of a bruising struggle only to see the Japanese come back strong at the finish.

The champion, who defended his title for the fourth time, weighed 110¾. Espinosa—at five feet is four inches shorter than the champion—weighed 111.

One judge called the fight 149-145 for Shirai under Japan's complex point system. The referee called it 147-145 for Shirai. The second judge made it 142-141 for Espinosa.

The Associated Press score card called it 144-140 for Espinosa was given seven rounds to six for Shirai with two even.

It was a bristling battle, packed with action although there were no knockdowns. Shirai bled briefly from a cut in the corner of his right eye midway in the fight.

The champion jabbed and boxed well the early rounds. But Espinosa took over midway in the fight and often beat Shirai at his own game, counter punching.

Espinosa pinned Shirai on the ropes several times and punished him with left hooks. Shirai fought back in the last three rounds, trying for a knockout as the crowd yelled.

Espinosa, who had stopped Shirai in a non-title bout with a TKO only shrugged at the verdict. The 24-year-old Filipino's manager was more vocal.

"The fight people saw the fight," Blacido Borroneo declared in the dressing room. "You can't fool the people. They know who won."

Shirai's American manager, Alvin Chan, brushed off the complaint with: "It always happens." He said Shirai would not fight Espinosa again but would take a trip through Argentina and Brazil this summer and defend his title again in the fall.

Espinosa drew only $3,000 for the fight. Shirai and his manager were mum on the amount they would collect from the gate, which was swelled by television receipts.

Henrich Named Head Of Brewery

NEW YORK (AP)—Friends and former teammates gave a farewell luncheon Monday for Tommy Henrich, ex-New York Yankee outfielder who has been made president of a Cincinnati brewery.

Yankees, past and present, attending the affair were Bill Dickey, Marius Russo, Gene Woodling, Ralph Houk, Bobby Brown, Charley Silveri and Allie Reynolds.

Also on hand were numerous radio and television personalities.

Dupas Whips Herman

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Speedy Ralph Dupas of New Orleans, displaying a newly found punching power, easily decisioned Freddie (Babe) Herman of Los Angeles in a 10-round lightweight match here Monday night. Dupas weighed 137, Herman 140½.

Chiefs Can Rejoice, Denver Loses Also

DENVER (AP)—Denver lost a chance to gain ground on league-leading Lincoln Monday night as Des Moines rode to an easy 10-2 win over the Bears behind the tight hurling of Don Elston.

The Bruin pitcher scattered 10 Denver hits for his third victory of the season since joining the Des Moines club from the Chicago Cubs.

Meanwhile, the winners went to work early on Bear pitcher Loyal Bloxam, who lost his second game against three wins. Des Moines collected a pair of runs in the first inning, then chased Bloxam with a five-run outburst in the second.

With one out, Jim McDaniel singled, Elston was safe on a fielders' choice, and Ed Winceniak singled to load the bases in the second inning. Bob Speake then banged a double off the right field fence to clear the bases.

Hamner's Shadow Held In $500 Bail

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The private detective whose arrest while trailing Granny Hamner of the Philadelphia Phillies set off the current uproar over baseball "private eyes" waived hearing and was held in $500 bail for court Monday on a charge of possessing firearms.

The investigator, Charles Leland, 36, of St. Georges, Del., did not testify at the brief arraignment before Magistrate William Hagan. His counsel, Atty, Albert C. Richter, said "the only thing to do is to thrash this out in court."

Warm Weather, Rain Improve Fishing In Some Parts Of State

With the advent of warm weather, fishing is improving in some areas of the state. Local rains and cool temperatures have held down the fishing success in other regions.

In the Sutherland reservoir and Lake Maloney area the white bass are hitting on minnows and some artificial baits. Catfishing on the North Platte River in this area is good. Bill Schnelle, North Platte, caught a 14 pound catfish. Other good catches in the North Platte area were: Dilbert Harckenbroock, North Platte, a 2 pound, 2 ounce rainbow trout; Rubert Quick, North Platte, a 3 pound, 6 ounce white bass; M. M. Baker, North Platte, a 3 pound, 2 ounce white bass; and Mrs. Kuskie, Wallace, a 2 pound, 15 ounce white bass.

Fred Herndon and Johnnie Hoehne, both of North Platte, each caught 1 pound, 15 ounce crappies. Ted Pickenbrock, Kimball, caught a 17 pound, 7 ounce northern pike and John Burrier, North Platte, landed a 13 pound, 6 ounce northern pike. W. J. Gurwell, Kimball, caught a 5 pound, 6 ounce black bass and Lawrence Hite, North Platte, caught a 3 pound, 12 ounce rainbow trout.

Catfishing was good on the Loup Canal near Genoa. Herb Myer took a 27 pound catfish, using a chub for bait.

Near Kearney, on the South Loup River and North Platte River, bluegill, bass and bullhead fishing was fair. George Ruby, Lowell, caught 10 crappies in the Newark sandpits, using minnows for bait.

Over near Omaha, the Platte and Elkhorns Rivers have started to produce good catfishing. Fishermen have been taking good catches with chicken and turkey livers used as bait. Carter Lake and the Sandpit lakes have been fairly productive for bullheads, bass and crappies. Night fishing with worms on the Platte has been producing some good catches of walleyes.

Walleye fishing with artificial lures is good at Johnson Reservoir. Mr. and Mrs. Harry Knopp of Holdrege and Mr. and Mrs. Claude DeVoe of Elm Creek caught nine walleyes on plugs. The two largest fish were 4½ pounds and 5½ pounds. Gallagher and Plum Creek were producing good crappie catches. Both black bass and white bass were being caught at the Tri-County canals, in this area.

Fishing was generally good at the Harlan County Reservoir. Black bass, crappie, bullheads, perch, northern pike, catfish, bluegills, walleyes and carp were being caught. Both minnows and worms were popular baits.

Fishing at Lake McConaughy has improved "100 per cent," according to reports. The white bass have started to hit good and the walleye fishing is greatly improved.

Demo Congress Would Be A 'Tragedy'—Davis

FREMONT, Neb. (AP) — Election of a Democratic Congress this fall would be "a tragedy beyond measure," Clarence A. Davis told the state Republican Pre-Primary Convention here Monday.

"To deprive him (President Eisenhower) of support in the Senate or in the Congress is to cripple his program and to make it impossible for him to carry out the noble purposes which inspire him," said the Lincoln attorney, now solicitor for the Interior Department in Washington.

A Democratic Congress, he declared, would bring "a slow return to a regimented economy, to the restriction of liberty, a restriction on property, to the control of income and the resumption of the march toward collectivism."

Pep Up Crew

The speech keynoted a convention which brought together delegates and candidates from all parts of the state for a meeting aimed at putting the party's train on the track for the primary election run, pepping up the crew and giving candidates a chance to get aboard.

Davis told the city auditorium assembly here that with President Eisenhower's induction into office, "character, integrity and spiritual values return to the government of the United States".

"They were long overdue," he added.

Terming the GOP the "party of freedom", Davis said the great issue in the world today is whether man shall be the "master of the state or its slave".

Half In Darkness

Half the world "lies behind a curtain of darkness" because "it became deluded with the greatest quackery of all times, that is, that government can better order peoples' lives, can better control their property, and give to its citizens more than they can get for themselves . . ."

"We may be standing at one of those points in history where the world stood at the collapse of the Roman Empire and darkness encompassed the earth," Davis said.

The issue stems from the basic philosophy of government and "goes to the roots of civilization itself," he added.

Demo Congress Would Be A 'Tragedy'—Davis

FREMONT, Neb. (AP) — Election of a Democratic Congress this fall would be "a tragedy beyond measure," Clarence A. Davis told the state Republican Pre-Primary Convention here Monday.

"To deprive him (President Eisenhower) of support in the Senate or in the Congress is to cripple his program and to make it impossible for him to carry out the noble purposes which inspire him," said the Lincoln attorney, now solicitor for the Interior Department in Washington.

A Democratic Congress, he declared, would bring "a slow return to a regimented economy, to the restriction of liberty, a restriction on property, to the control of income and the resumption of the march toward collectivism."

Pep Up Crew

The speech keynoted a convention which brought together delegates and candidates from all parts of the state for a meeting aimed at putting the party's train on the track for the primary election run, pepping up the crew and giving candidates a chance to get aboard.

Davis told the city auditorium assembly here that with President Eisenhower's induction into office, "character, integrity and spiritual values return to the government of the United States".

"They were long overdue," he added.

Segregation Ban Is Broadened

Public Colleges Included

WASHINGTON (INS) — The Supreme Court unanimously declared Monday that its ban on public school segregation also applies to the exclusion of Negroes from publicly-owned colleges, universities, theaters and recreational facilities.

The cases on which the high tribunal acted involve the University of Florida, Louisiana State University, Hardin Junior College at Wichita Falls, Tex., a municipal golf course at Houston, Tex., and a drive-in theater at Louisville, Ky.

In the Florida, Louisiana and Louisville cases, the court vacated lower-court decisions upholding the exclusion of Negroes. In the two Texas cases, it upheld Appeals Court decisions banning racial discrimination.

The first three cases were accompanied by a statement that the lower tribunals should reconsider them "in the light of the segregation cases decided May 17."

At that time, the court, in an opinion written by Chief Justice Earl Warren, declared: "...In the field of public education, the doctrine of 'seperate but equal' has no place. Seperate education facilities are inherently unequal."

The Louisiana State case involved the admission of Alexander P. Tureaud Jr., who had already been enrolled temporarily by order of the Supreme Court.

The University of Florida case evolved out of the refusal of the school to admit several Negroes and the State Supreme Court's decision upholding the university.

CANDIDATE ENDORSING IS REFUSED

FREMONT, Neb. (AP)—A floor effort to put Nebraska Republicans into the candidate-endorsing business was beaten down at the state GOP pre-primary convention Monday.

By voice vote, delegates went along with the report of a committee on procedure which held that it would be "harmful to party unity" and "prejudicial to the interests of persons who have not completed filing" were the convention to make endorsements.

Present law makes 'endorsements optional with the party. The primary ballot, in any event, would not show the endorsement.

Spirited Fight

Although not mentioned by name State Senator Terry Carpenter of Scottsbluff, now a candidate for the GOP nomination to the U S. Senate, figured in the brief but spirited floor dispute over endorsements

Herbert White of Omaha arguing for endorsements to top offices said he was afraid of "mugwumps" in the party. He referred to a former Democratic Congressman who later became a Republican and who now seeks the senatorial nomination — an obvious reference to Carpenter, who was not present for the convention

"Let's stand up and be counted," he said.

Reynolds Committee

A committee headed by C J (Cash) Reynolds of Fremont brought in the original recommention against endorsement. The motion to amend this by endorsing senatorial, congressional and gubernatorial candidates only came from Steven Davis of Plattsmouth who said it would provide the "only opportunity of working members to express their feelings on certain candidates." He recommended scrutiny of the party background of any candidate

Speaking against the endorsements were M. E Rasdal, Ogallala; John Keriakedes, Hay Springs; Homer Rose, Lincoln; and C. N. Walton, Ashland.

Voice votes against the amendments were adjudged by State Chairman W W Spear to have outnumbered the votes favoring endorsements and the original report then went through on a one-sided voice vote.

Awards Made By Inland Press

CHICAGO (AP) — Public relations awards from the Inland Daily Press Assn. were given to several newspapers Monday.

Certificates were presented at the association's 70th spring meeting The contest was sponsored by the William Allen White School of Journalism and Public Information, University of Kansas. The school's dean, Burton K. Marvin, made the presentation.

The St. Louis Globe-Democrat won the only award given in the class for papers of more than 75,000 circulation

In the circulation class from 25,000 to 75,000, the top three awards went to the Royal Oak (Mich.) Tribune, Lincoln (Neb.) Journal and Bloomington (Ill.) Pantagraph.

The Lincoln newspaper's second place award was for a series of six editorials, published on consecutive days, discussing the newspaper's policy and juvenile delinquency. The series explored the subject thoroughly, and reported "pros and cons" relative to publishing names of juvenile delinquents.

Jan. 1 Is Toll Road Verdict Deadline—Ress

State Engineer L. N. Ress says Jan. 1 is "about as long as we can wait" for the State Turnpike Authority to determine whether or not a toll road would be justified in Nebraska.

If by that time it has not been determined that toll roads would be feasible in this state, he will push plans for a start on the proposed four-lane interstate highway, he said.

The question is whether or not there is sufficient traffic to justify construction of two new high type roads east-west across the state. Ress and others do not believe there is. Then it becomes a question of whether the new highway shall be a toll road, a freeway, or a combination of the two.

Other States Involved

Considerable depends on what the states to the east—Iowa and Illinois—decide.

Iowa so far has not created an authority to build a toll road, but a report is due by June 15 on the results of a traffic survey to determine feasibility of a toll road in that state.

A decision is due soon in Illinois on the direction a proposed toll road should take in that state when it reaches Chicago

Under recent congressional action, $2,400,000 a year in federal aid will be available to Nebraska for use on an interstate highway, beginning in 1955. This would have to be matched with $1,600,000 a year in state funds.

If not used on the interstate project, the $2,400,000 in federal aid will be lost to the state.

Internal Security Act Upheld By High Court

WASHINGTON (INS) — The Supreme Court criticized but upheld the right of Congress to provide for deporting a Communist alien without bringing proof that the Communist Party advocated force and violence or that this was known to the alien.

The 7-to-2 decision validated the Internal Security Act of 1950 on an appeal brought by Robert Galvan, a native of Mexico who lived many years in San Diego, Calif., and was ordered deported for Communist membership.

Justice Felix Frankfurter, writing the opinion of the court, pointed out that the act declares the Communists "a world-wide revolutionary movement whose purpose is, by treachery, deceit, espionage, sabotage, terrorism and any other means deemed necessary, to establish a Communist totalitarian dictatorship"

Justices Hugo Black and William O. Douglas dissented.

Iowa so far has not created an authority to build a toll road, but a report is due by June 15 on the results of a traffic survey to determine feasibility of a toll road in that state.

A decision is due soon in Illinois on the direction a proposed toll road should take in that state when it reaches Chicago.

Under recent congressional action, $2,400,000 a year in federal aid will be available to Nebraska for use on an interstate highway, beginning in 1955. This would have to be matched with $1,600,000 a year in state funds.

If not used on the interstate project, the $2,400,000 in federal aid will be lost to the state.

Internal Security Act Upheld By High Court

WASHINGTON (INS) — The Supreme Court criticized but upheld the right of Congress to provide for deporting a Communist alien without bringing proof that the Communist Party advocated force and violence or that this was known to the alien.

The 7-to-2 decision validated the Internal Security Act of 1950 on an appeal brought by Robert Galvan, a native of Mexico who lived many years in San Diego, Calif., and was ordered deported for Communist membership.

Justice Felix Frankfurter, writing the opinion of the court, pointed out that the act declares the Communists "a world-wide revolutionary movement whose purpose is, by treachery, deceit, espionage, sabotage, terrorism and any other means deemed necessary, to establish a Communist totalitarian dictatorship."

Justices Hugo Black and William O. Douglas dissented.

U.S. Seeking Release Of 32 Yanks Held In China

Progress At Geneva Kept Quiet

By ROBERT B. TUCKMAN

GENEVA (AP) — The United States, through the British in Geneva, is seeking the release of 32 Americans jailed in Communist China.

Negotiations with Chinese delegation officials at the Geneva conference proceed in informal behind-the-scenes talks.

Western officials involved decline to say what progress, if any, is being made. They fear a premature announcement might upset delicate discussions. One American official said however:

"We are hopeful we will be able to say something" before the end of the Geneva conference.

Not Recognized

The U. S. delegation here ruled out any direct approach to the Chinese Communists because the United States does not recognize the Peiping regime. The British have granted Peiping diplomatic recognition.

The 32 Americans are mostly missionaries and businessmen. The prisoners include two news correspondents, Richard Applegate of Medford, Ore., and Donald M. Dixon of New York City. Also being held is Ben Krasner of Brooklyn, a merchant marine captain seized in March 1953 with Applegate and Dixon while sailing between Hong Kong and Macao.

Another captive of the Chinese is Lawrence R. Buol, of Stockton, Calif., a pilot for Civil Air Transport. He was captured in January 1950 in Yunan Province while serving as flight operations manager for the air line.

Need For Better Probation System Stressed By Judge

By ROY CAMPBELL
Star Staff Writer

A District Court judge called out Monday for an improved system of probation and supervision in Nebraska at the 20th annual meeting of the Central States Correction Association.

The judge, C. G. Perry of Gering, said there is a definite lack of knowledge by the public on the problems of probation, and that often the public unjustly calls for punishment when it is'nt the best way out.

Probation is a splendid thing, Judge Perry said, adding "the longer I am on the bench, the more I am inclined to believe in probation." It's useless though, he concluded, unless there is someone qualified to handle the program.

The Correction Association concluded the first day of a three day meeting at the Cornhusker Hotel with about 125 persons from 16 states attending.

Two Aims

During the afternoon meeting Donald W. Bunker, executive secretary of the Missouri Parole Board, called for greater public understanding of the probation problem. He called the two aims of parole the protection of society and the helping of the parolee.

Bunker said supervision of probationers and parolees saves from five to 10 per cent of the cost of imprisonment, noting that parole remains as the most effective means of rehabilitation "and the least expensive."

The parole board official said the chance for major crime is much less with a controlled program of supervision than to let a man out of an institution without supervision.

The construction of "bigger and better" institutions today was called a "gross waste of money" by the director of the Bureau of Probation and Parole in the state of Wisconsin.

Quentin Ferm said a well controlled probation and parole program in the end would save the public's money by keeping people out of institutions and making them better citizens. Ferm said a real problem exists in giving complete jurisdiction to the courts over probationers.

Speakers at the afternoon meeting included Glen R. Klopfenstein, chief of the Bureau of Probation and Parole of Ohio, who criticized the possibilities of working out inter-state co-operation of probation control. The probation officer said uniform laws of operation was the only way out of such a problem.

Officers of the Association will be named Tuesday morning, followed by a day's program dealing with problems of parole.

AUTHOR IS GIVEN NEW DEATH DATE

SAN RAFAEL, Calif. (AP)—The Los Angeles judge who tried kidnaper-rapist Caryl Chessman Monday quickly sentenced him to die July 30 after a Superior Court judge here revoked a stay of execution for the convict-author.

Superior Judge Charles W Fricke set the new date on motion of Los Angeles County Dist. Atty. S. Ernest Roll who informed the court of the San Rafael ruling.

In actions here, the stay was revolved and a petition for a writ of habeas corpus was denied.

Chessman's attorney, Berwyn Rice, said he would carry an appeal to the California Supreme Court and to the U. S. Supreme Court.

Superior Judge Thomas F. Keating ruled Monday on petitions presented May 17 by Rice, who argued that transcripts of the record of Chessman's trial in Los Angeles were inaccurate.

Chessman, who while on death row in the prison, wrote "Cell 2455, Death Row," was convicted under California's "Little Lindbergh Law" of kidnaping and rape.

Chessman, 32, was to have been executed May 14. But late on the 13th, Judge Keating issued a stay.

Czechs Told How To Halt Balloons

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States has told Communist Czechoslovakia that, if it doesn't like being bombarded with balloons, it should tear down the Iron Curtain.

The State Department released a note to that effect. The note, it said, was delivered by the American Embassy at Prague to the Czech Ministry of Foreign Affairs.

The American note referred to a Czech government complaint of last May 5 that American propaganda balloons were floating into Czechoslovakia.

WE Workers Expected Back On Job Today

... After Walkout

Approximately 600 Western Electric employees who walked off the job in a "protest" Monday afternoon will apparently be back at work Tuesday morning.

James West, representative of the Communications Workers union, which is now negotiating with Western Electric, said the Monday walkout was "not a strike. It was sort of a protest." He said union officers had recommended a return to work.

West said negotiations with the company were stalled, and "have not made much progress, with the company not giving much ground." The company-union contract expired May 11 but work has been continuing without a contract.

According to West, no negotiating meetings are currently being held, though he said there was a chance a meeting might be held Tuesday.

Meanwhile, Assistant Superintendent Grey Jewett of Western Electric said the company would have no comment on the walkout or negotiations or operations in the plant.

Negotiations For Ashland Pipeline Right-Of-Way OKd

The City Council has approved the right-of-way negotiated by the City Legal Department for the Ashland to Lincoln water transmission line over the Burlington Railroad property northeast of Lincoln.

Another five easements were approved for the line at a cost of $1,564. The Burlington section covers about three-fourth of a mile.

The Council also passed an ordinance on three readings authorizing condemnation proceedings for the acquisition of 90 acres of land in the Ashland water plant area for well field extensions. Two property owners are involved.

Suit for the land will be filed this week in Saunders County District Court at Wahoo, according to Deputy City Attorney Jack M. Pace. A strip of land nearly 4,000 feet long between Salt Creek and the Platte, south of Highway 6, is involved.

Plans are to expand the number of wells from 13 to 24.

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (INS)—Sheriff's officers watched Las Vegas gambling casinos Monday in an attempt to corral two men and two women suspected of passing $7,000 worth of bogus gaming chips. In Las Vegas gambling rooms, chips issued by any of the town's casinos or major resort hotels are accepted at the tables, and deputies said the phony chip passers took advantage of this to palm off $7,000 worth of $25 chips purporting to be from the Golden Nugget gambling hall.

The Correction Association concluded the first day of a three day meeting at the Cornhusker Hotel with about 125 persons from 16 states attending.

Two Aims

During the afternoon meeting Donald W. Bunker, executive secretary of the Missouri Parole Board, called for greater public understanding of the probation problem. He called the two aims of parole the protection of society and the helping of the parolee.

Bunker said supervision of probationers and parolees saves from five to 10 per cent of the cost of imprisonment, noting that parole remains as the most effective means of rehabilitation "and the least expensive."

The parole board official said the chance for major crime is much less with a controlled program of supervision than to let a man out of an institution without supervision.

The construction of "bigger and better" institutions today was called a "gross waste of money" by the director of the Bureau of Probation and Parole in the state of Wisconsin.

Quentin Ferm said a well controlled probation and parole program in the end would save the public's money by keeping people out of institutions and making them better citizens. Ferm said a real problem exists in giving complete jurisdiction to the courts over probationers.

Speakers at the afternoon meeting included Glen R. Klopfenstein, chief of the Bureau of Probation and Parole of Ohio, who criticized the possibilities of working out inter-state co-operation of probation control. The probation officer said uniform laws of operation was the only way out of such a problem.

Officers of the Association will be named Tuesday morning, followed by a day's program dealing with problems of parole.

AUTHOR IS GIVEN NEW DEATH DATE

SAN RAFAEL, Calif. (AP)—The Los Angeles judge who tried kidnaper-rapist Caryl Chessman Monday quickly sentenced him to die July 30 after a Superior Court judge here revoked a stay of execution for the convict-author.

Superior Judge Charles W. Fricke set the new date on motion of Los Angeles County Dist. Atty. S. Ernest Roll who informed the court of the San Rafael ruling.

In actions here, the stay was revolved and a petition for a writ of habeas corpus was denied.

Chessman's attorney, Berwyn Rice, said he would carry an appeal to the California Supreme Court and to the U. S. Supreme Court.

Superior Judge Thomas F. Keating ruled Monday on petitions presented May 17 by Rice, who argued that transcripts of the record of Chessman's trial in Los Angeles were inaccurate.

Chessman, who while on death row in the prison, wrote "Cell 2455, Death Row," was convicted under California's "Little Lindbergh Law" of kidnaping and rape.

Chessman, 32, was to have been executed May 14. But late on the 13th, Judge Keating issued a stay.

Czechs Told How To Halt Balloons

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States has told Communist Czechoslovakia that, if it doesn't like being bombarded with balloons, it should tear down the Iron Curtain.

The State Department released a note to that effect. The note, it said, was delivered by the American Embassy at Prague to the Czech Ministry of Foreign Affairs.

The American note referred to a Czech government complaint of last May 5 that American propaganda balloons were floating into Czechoslovakia.

WE Workers Expected Back On Job Today

... After Walkout

Approximately 600 Western Electric employees who walked off the job in a "protest" Monday afternoon will apparently be back at work Tuesday morning.

James West, representative of the Communications Workers union, which is now negotiating with Western Electric, said the Monday walkout was "not a strike. It was sort of a protest." He said union officers had recommended a return to work.

West said negotiations with the company were stalled, and "have not made much progress, with the company not giving much ground." The company-union contract expired May 11 but work has been continuing without a contract.

According to West, no negotiating meetings are currently being held, though he said there was a chance a meeting might be held Tuesday.

Meanwhile, Assistant Superintendent Grey Jewett of Western Electric said the company would have no comment on the walkout or negotiations or operations in the plant.

5 Improvement Districts Okayed

Five ordinances for the creation of special improvement districts have been approved by the City Council. They are:

Paving of Lake, 34 to 35th.

Paving of L, 52nd to 56th; 54th, L to Troendly's sub-division and 56th, L to M.

Water in 54th, L to M and 56th, L to Lenox.

Sewer in Custer, 71st to 74th.

Introduced on first reading was an ordinance to permit the operation of water softening plants for sales and service in the I commercial zoning classification. Classification of the business was inadvertently omitted when the new zoning law was paased.

Other ordinances introduced:

Opening of Mohawk, 46th to 47th and 47th, Hill to Mohawk.

Opening of 53rd, Orchard to Holdrege.

Sewer district from 52nd and 53rd from Holdrege to X.

Water district from 52nd to 53rd from Holderege to X.

Negotiations For Ashland Pipeline Right-Of-Way OKd

The City Council has approved the right-of-way negotiated by the City Legal Department for the Ashland to Lincoln water transmission line over the Burlington Railroad property northeast of Lincoln.

Another five easements were approved for the line at a cost of $1,564. The Burlington section covers about three-fourth of a mile.

The Council also passed an ordinance on three readings authorizing condemnation proceedings for the acquisition of 90 acres of land in the Ashland water plant area for well field extensions. Two property owners are involved.

Suit for the land will be filed this week in Saunders County District Court at Wahoo, according to Deputy City Attorney Jack M. Pace. A strip of land nearly 4,000 feet long between Salt Creek and the Platte, south of Highway 6, is involved.

Plans are to expand the number of wells from 13 to 24.

Phony Chips Passed

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (INS)—Sheriff's officers watched Las Vegas gambling casinos Monday in an attempt to corral two men and two women suspected of passing $7,000 worth of bogus gaming chips. In Las Vegas gambling rooms, chips issued by any of the town's casinos or major resort hotels are accepted at the tables, and deputies said the phony chip passers took advantage of this to palm off $7,000 worth of $25 chips purporting to be from the Golden Nugget gambling hall.

Spray Outfit Stolen

Alfred Henriksen of 2536 Worthington reported to police Monday that a paint spray outfit valued at $465 was taken from the construction site of the new Sacred Heart School at 37th and Sheridan sometime Friday night.

Omaha Man Apparently Tries Suicide And Fails

A 27-year-old Omaha man was found unconscious Monday afternoon in his room in a local hotel and a police investigation revealed it was apparently a suicide attempt.

The man was treated at St. Elizabeth's Hospital, held a short while, and then released. Police said that a sleeping pill bottle was found in his room and he had evidently taken a number of them.

Man Surrenders In Kansas For Bad Check Writing

Sheriff's officers left for Salina, Kan., to pick up a man who turned himself in for writing no-fund checks in Lincoln.

The man, Edwin T. Gentry of 2110 F, had turned himself in before the county attorney's office was notified of the bad check. A complaint was filed in County Court on the charge. The complaint listed a $10 check written to Havelock Hardware Company which Gentry said he had written.

Here is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add three. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

If Democrats have their way homburgs are out. The next President will be inaugurated in a fireman's hat.

We've been living in a self-funding condition of morose alarms ever since the discovery of sawdust.

George Washington warned us of foreign entanglements in his farewell speech. But in those exhausted Colonial days we were as self-contained as an egg with a double shell.

Now, we spread out like wall to wall carpeting. And have more irons in the fire than the village blacksmith. That's why we would like to see our two political parties pick out one foreign policy and drown the rest.

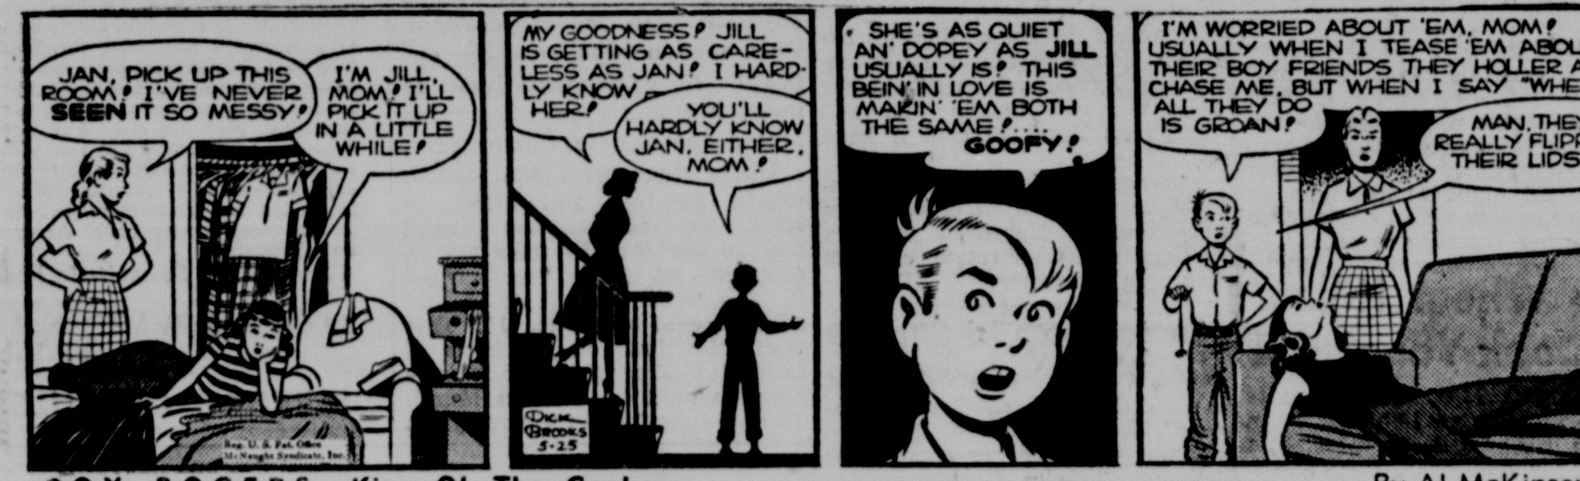
THE JACKSON TWINS

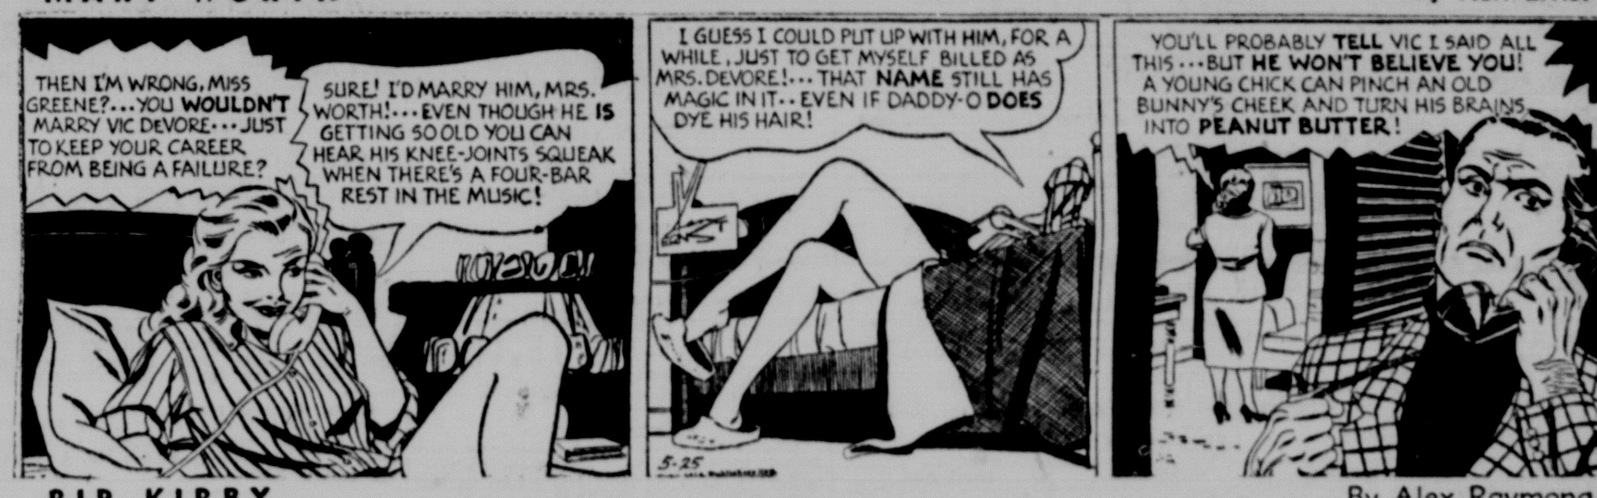
By Dick Brooks



JAN, PICK UP THIS ROOM! I'VE NEVER SEEN IT SO MESSY!
I'M JILL, MOM! I'LL PICK IT UP IN A LITTLE WHILE!
Reg. U. S. Pat. Office McNaught Syndicate, Inc.
MY GOODNESS! JILL IS GETTING AS CARELESS AS JAN! I HARDLY KNOW HER!
YOU'LL HARDLY KNOW JAN, EITHER, MOM!
DICK BROOKS 5-25
SHE'S AS QUIET AN' DOPEY AS JILL USUALLY IS! THIS BEIN' IN LOVE IS MAKIN' 'EM BOTH THE SAME!.... GOOFY!
I'M WORRIED ABOUT 'EM, MOM! USUALLY WHEN I TEASE 'EM ABOUT THEIR BOY FRIENDS THEY HOLLER AN' CHASE ME, BUT WHEN I SAY "WHEEL" ALL THEY DO IS GROAN!
MAN, THEY'VE REALLY FLIPPED THEIR LIDS!

MARY WORTH

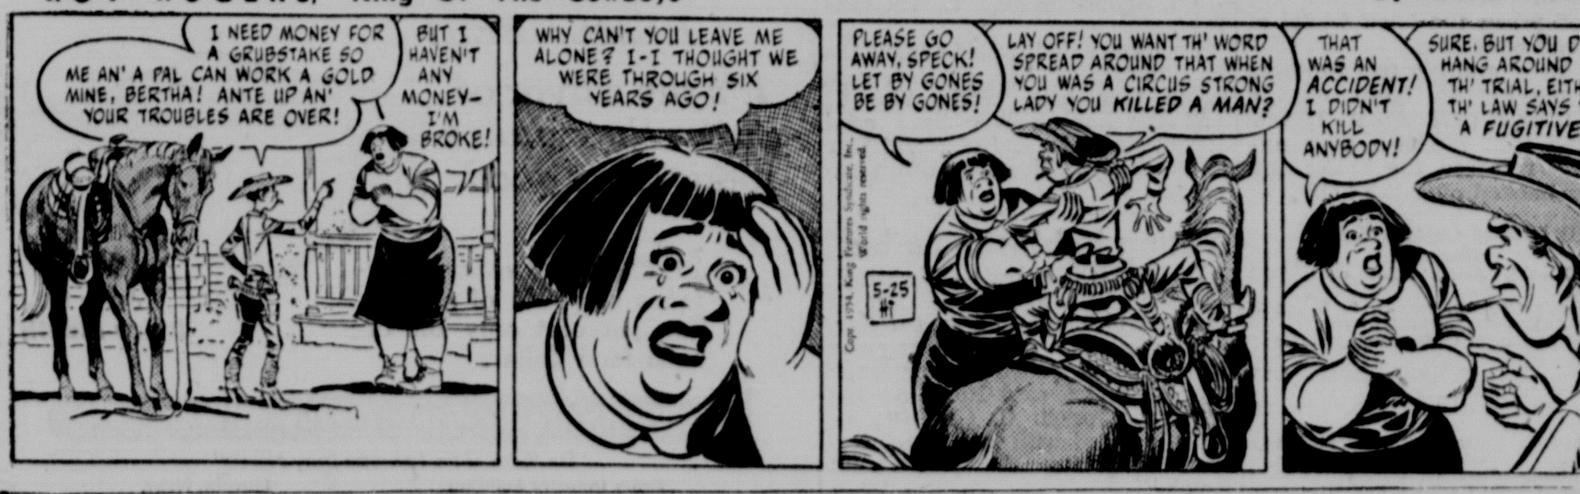
By Ken Ernst



THEN I'M WRONG, MISS GREENE?... YOU WOULDN'T MARRY VIC DEVORE... JUST TO KEEP YOUR CAREER FROM BEING A FAILURE?
SURE! I'D MARRY HIM, MRS. WORTH!... EVEN THOUGH HE IS GETTING SO OLD YOU CAN HEAR HIS KNEE-JOINTS SQUEAK WHEN THERE'S A FOUR-BAR REST IN THE MUSIC!
I GUESS I COULD PUT UP WITH HIM, FOR A WHILE, JUST TO GET MYSELF BILLED AS MRS. DEVORE!... THAT NAME STILL HAS MAGIC IN IT... EVEN IF DADDY-O DOES DYE HIS HAIR!
5-25
YOU'LL PROBABLY TELL VIC I SAID ALL THIS... BUT HE WON'T BELIEVE YOU! A YOUNG CHICK CAN PINCH AN OLD BUNNY'S CHEEK AND TURN HIS BRAINS INTO PEANUT BUTTER!

ROY ROGERS, King Of The Cowboys

By Al McKinson



I NEED MONEY FOR A GRUBSTAKE SO ME AN' A PAL CAN WORK A GOLD MINE, BERTHA! ANTE UP AN' YOUR TROUBLES ARE OVER!
BUT I HAVEN'T ANY MONEY— I'M BROKE!
WHY CAN'T YOU LEAVE ME ALONE? I-I THOUGHT WE WERE THROUGH SIX YEARS AGO!
PLEASE GO AWAY, SPECK! LET BY GONES BE BY GONES!
LAY OFF! YOU WANT TH' WORD SPREAD AROUND THAT WHEN YOU WAS A CIRCUS STRONG LADY YOU KILLED A MAN?
Copr. 1954, King Features Syndicate, Inc. World rights reserved.

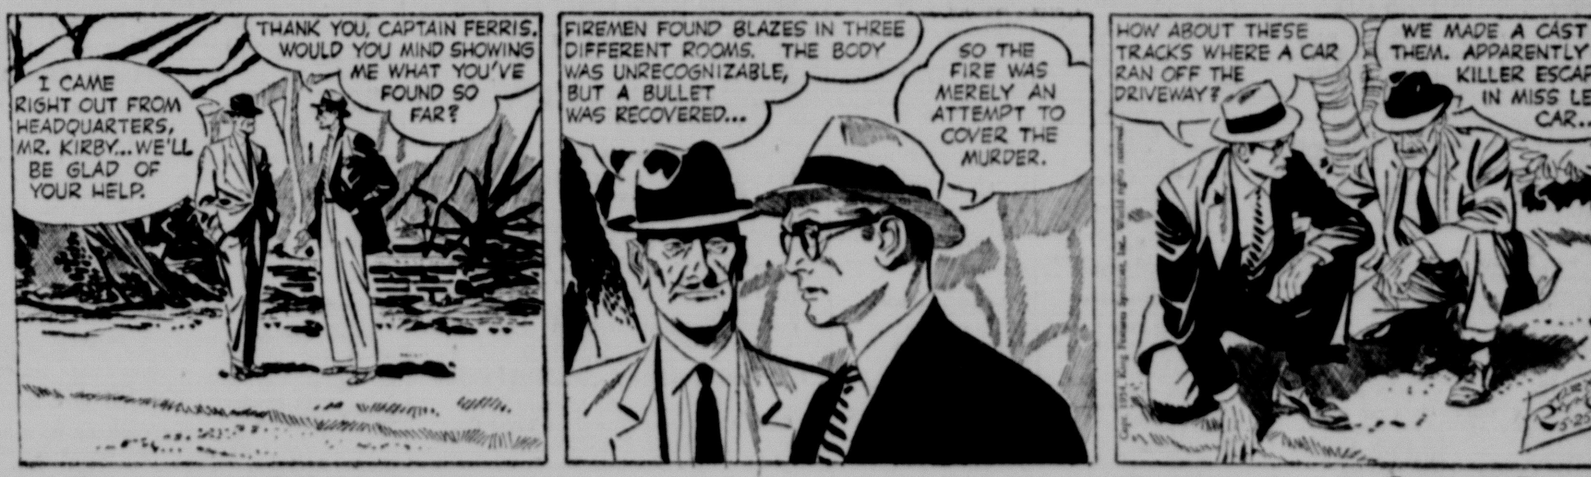
THAT WAS AN ACCIDENT! I DIDN'T KILL ANYBODY!
SURE, BUT YOU DIDN'T HANG AROUND FOR TH' TRIAL, EITHER! TH' LAW SAYS YOU'RE A FUGITIVE!

RIP KIRBY

By Alex Raymond



I CAME RIGHT OUT FROM HEADQUARTERS, MR. KIRBY... WE'LL BE GLAD OF YOUR HELP.
THANK YOU, CAPTAIN FERRIS. WOULD YOU MIND SHOWING ME WHAT YOU'VE FOUND SO FAR?
FIREMEN FOUND BLAZES IN THREE DIFFERENT ROOMS. THE BODY WAS UNRECOGNIZABLE, BUT A BULLET WAS RECOVERED...
SO THE FIRE WAS MERELY AN ATTEMPT TO COVER THE MURDER.
HOW ABOUT THESE TRACKS WHERE A CAR RAN OFF THE DRIVEWAY?
WE MADE A CAST OF THEM. APPARENTLY THE KILLER ESCAPED IN MISS LEE'S CAR...

Here is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add three. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

BAERING DOWN ON THE NEWS

By Arthur 'Bugs' Baer

(Distributed by International News Service)

If Democrats have their way homburgs are out. The next President will be inaugurated in a fireman's hat.

We've been living in a self-funding condition of morose alarms ever since the discovery of sawdust.

☆ ☆ ☆

George Washington warned us of foreign entanglements in his farewell speech. But in those exhausted Colonial days we were as self-contained as an egg with a double shell.

☆ ☆ ☆

Now, we spread out like wall-to-wall carpeting. And have more irons in the fire than the village blacksmith. That's why we would like to see our two political parties pick out one foreign policy and drown the rest.

☆ ☆ ☆

There should be a middle of the road for other things besides white lines.

Our Motto is: One Country, one flag, but two of everything else.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE

Here's How To Work It

AXYDLBAAXR
is LONGFELLOW

One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

A Cryptogram Quotation

DF HSDL EKBZR SO QKVFR FK QDH WKXITFDKF—WKZOBDRAO.

Yesterday's Cryptoquote: CHARMED WITH THE FOOLISH WHISTLINGS OF A NAME—COWLEY.

July Soybeans Stage Big Drop

CHICAGO (AP)— A further sharp drop in July soybeans enlivened an otherwise very dull and slow grain market on the Board of Trade Monday. July beans ended 6½ to 7 cents lower on top of a drop of 25 cents last week.

While this debacle continued, the rest of the market showed it wasn't tied to the action in this last remaining old crop soybean future. Oats were weak and wheat a little easier, but corn and rye firmed.

Wheat closed ½ lower to ¼ higher, corn ⅛-⅝ higher, oats ½-⅞ lower, rye ¼ lower to ½ higher, soybeans ½ to 7 cents lower and lard 10 cents lower to 3 cents a hundred pounds higher.

BOND MARKET

NEW YORK (AP)—Treasury securities found ready buyers over the counter Monday, but the corporate bond market limped over.

"Big Board" volume declined to $3,710,000 par value from $4,390,000 Friday and $3,[illegible] a week ago. Most utilities and industrials drifted downward, though changes were narrow.

Railroads were the most active of the corporate list, but prices were mixed.

Dealers of Uncle Sam's debt certificates reported some substantial demand from banks, especially for intermediate bonds.

Stock Mart Ends With Lower Look

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market started higher Monday, changed its mind, and finally closed mixed with a lower look.

Last Friday the market hit a peak for the past 24 years as measured by The Associated Press average.

Monday at the start, the bullish enthusiasm carried prices ahead still more with large blocks dotting the tape frequently at higher prices.

Those expanded values soon brought on minor profit-taking, and the list hesitated for a time before finally heading lower. Some prices perked up just before the final bell ended trading.

Both buying and selling emphasis was on individual stocks rather than groups of securities. No single group was either severely depressed or buoyant.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks declined 10 cents at $125.30. On Friday it was up 60 cents at a level only 10 cents away from the peak reached in 1930.

The industrial component Monday was off 20 cents and the rails were down 10 cents. The utilities, on the other hand, advanced 10 cents to a new high mark of $60.30.

Volume was quite high at 2,330,000 shares. That compares with 2,620,000 shares traded last Friday.

The American Stock Exchange was ahead at the close even though a strong start faded somewhat. Volume amounted to 610,000 shares as compared with 670,000 traded Friday.

Active Duty Slated For Virtually All ROTC Graduates

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army announced that it will commission and call to active duty virtually all of the 16,000 Reserve Officer Training Corps graduates this year.

A small number of veterans will be commissioned in the reserve corps but not called to duty unless they so request. The vast majority of the 16,000 were permitted to complete their college educations under an agreement which deferred them from the draft.

University of Nebraska Army ROTC officials said approximately 112 reserve officers would receive their commissions on June 7. In addition, two will be commissioned in the regular army and eight at the end of summer session or on completion of summer training camp.

Car Wheel Kills McCook Youngster

McCOOK, Neb. (AP)—Committal services were held for John Edwin Nothnagel, 11-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Nothnagel of McCook, who was crushed when the back wheel of a car ran over him.

The baby and his two brothers were playing in front of the home near a parked car. It was reported that the two boys apparently released the brake and the car backed over the baby.

Sen. Bowring Offers First Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Bowring (R-Neb), sworn in last month as Nebraska's junior senator, Monday introduced her first bill. Being a cattlewoman, it dealt with cattle.

Her bill would permit Nebraska brand inspectors to inspect, for a fee, cattle coming into Nebraska for sale at livestock rings or terminal markets.

It would settle a dispute between Nebraska and the Department of Agriculture as to whether Nebraska can handle this and charge its usual 10 cent a head fee.

Passage of this bill would eliminate inspectors from other states inspecting at Nebraska markets cattle from their state sent to Nebraska markets.

Senate Votes To Change Nov. 11 To Veterans Day

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate passage Monday sent to President Eisenhower a bill to change the name of the Nov. 11 legal holiday from Armistice Day to Veterans Day.

Sponsors said it would expand the significance of the holiday, and noted that both World War II and the Korean War have been fought since the end of World War I, which Armistice Day commemorates.

Young Robinson Jailed

HOLLYWOOD (INS)—Edward G. Robinson Jr., 21-year-old son of the veteran stage and screen star, was arrested at a boisterous party Monday and jailed on a drunk charge. Police said Robinson and a friend, Joseph C. Condriet, 44, were charged with being "boisterous, disturbing the peace and drunk."

Okay Asked For Closing City Hall On Saturdays

By BILL DOBLER
Star Staff Writer

The City Council has been presented with a proposal for closing of the City Hall all day Saturdays.

Carried to the Council by three city employees, the new proposal would mean no change in the number of hours, 41½, worked per week by city employees. It would mean that rather than having Saturday afternoons and one other half-day off a week, the employees would all be off Saturday and Sundays.

Speaking in favor of the proposal, John W. Kruse, Water and Light Department business manager, reported the plan started when employees in his department asked for the same conditions as are enjoyed elsewhere in the City Hall by having every other Wednesday and Saturday off.

Staggering Unsuccessful

The staggering of help to allow everyone a half-day off and still keep the Hall open, Kruse said, has not proved too successful in the past. It is disturbing to have one person off one afternoon and another off another afternoon.

With the Hall closed on Saturdays, he said, there would be complete uniformity among employees. Also, he noted, the extra day for closing would cut operating costs some.

The closing on Saturday has the approval of all city directors. Kruse was accompanied in his presentation with Deputy City Clerks and Auditors Wayne Harvey and James Mallon.

Saturdays Slow

Harvey and Mallon reported Saturday activity in the City Hall as very slow. The Council stated it would study the matter during the week and obtain a report on the Saturday activity in the various offices.

Except for Sundays and their two afternoons off, city employees now work from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. with a 45-minute lunch period.

Several Council members viewed the change to the straight five day week inevitable while several others felt it was also more efficient. The only objections voiced were on the grounds of less service to the public with the five day week.

Huskerville Lease Action Due Monday

Following its unofficial approval, the City Council will have for its formal consideration next Monday a new 10-year contract from the Lincoln Housing Authority for the lease of land at Huskerville.

With its informal action, the Council approved the lease with a $5,000 a year rental charge to be paid by the Authority. The Authority operates the 287 housing units now located at Huskerville, directly west of the Lincoln Air Force Base property.

After the new lease is signed, the Authority has promised to pay the city the remaining $55,000 it has outstanding on its original purchase of the housing units from the city.

"We are able to make such financial arrangements," Judge Robin R. Reed, Authority chairman, commented, "only because of the excellent management of the Huskerville project by L. H. (Buster) DeBrown, Huskerville manager, and Joseph Clark, office manager. Both of them have done a wonderful job."

DeBrown reported that all Huskerville units are full with a waiting list for vacancies. There is still considerable demand, he said, from University of Nebraska students.

The new lease and financial arrangements, DeBrown said, will permit a renewed and continuing maintenance program in the area.

The present Authority lease on Huskerville would normally expire July 1, 1955. The Air Force is reported to have no interest in the Huskerville area for future expansion.

Tax Filing Date Change Favored By House Group

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Finance Committee has tentatively approved a change in the filing date for individual income tax returns from the traditional March 15 to April 15, it was learned Monday.

The same change already has been approved by the House.

Also tentatively accepted was a House provision putting into effect a partial pay-as-you-go payment plan for corporations. This section was strongly opposed by representatives of many business groups testifying before the Senate committee.

Under the new plan, which would go into full effect in 1959, the corporations would pay 50 per cent of their tax in the year in which they earned it, 25 per cent on Sept. 15 and 25 per cent on Dec. 15. This would be done on the basis of estimates. The other two installments would be due on March 15 and June 15 of the next year.

July Soybeans Stage Big Drop

CHICAGO (AP)— A further sharp drop in July soybeans enlivened an otherwise very dull and slow grain market on the Board of Trade Monday. July beans ended 6½ to 7 cents lower on top of a drop of 25 cents last week.

While this debacle continued, the rest of the market showed it wasn't tied to the action in this last remaining old crop soybean future. Oats were weak and wheat a little easier, but corn and rye firmed.

Wheat closed ½ lower to ¼ higher, corn ⅛-⅝ higher, oats ½-⅞ lower, rye ¼ lower to ½ higher, soybeans ½ to 7 cents lower and lard 10 cents lower to 3 cents a hundred pounds higher.

BOND MARKET

NEW YORK (AP)—Treasury securities found buyers over the counter Monday, but the corporate bond market limped over.

"Big Board" volume declined to $3,-710,000 par value from $4,390,000 Friday and $8,824,000 a week ago. Most individual issues drifted downward, though changes were narrow.

Railroads were the most active of the corporate list, but [illegible].

Dealers of Uncle Sam's debt reported substantial demand from banks, particularly for intermediate bonds.

Stock Mart Ends With Lower Look

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market started higher Monday, changed its mind, and finally closed mixed with a lower look.

Last Friday the market hit a peak for the past 24 years as measured by The Associated Press average.

Monday at the start, the bullish enthusiasm carried prices ahead still more with large blocks dotting the tape frequently at higher prices.

Those expanded values soon brought on minor profit-taking, and the list hesitated for a time before finally heading lower. Some prices perked up just before the final bell ended trading.

Both buying and selling emphasis was on individual stocks rather than groups of securities. No single group was either severely depressed or buoyant.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks declined 10 cents at $125.30. On Friday it was up 60 cents at a level only 10 cents away from the peak reached in 1930.

The industrial component Monday was off 20 cents and the rails were down 10 cents. The utilities, on the other hand, advanced 10 cents to a new high mark of $60.30.

Volume was quite high at 2,330,000 shares. That compares with 2,620,000 shares traded last Friday.

The American Stock Exchange was ahead at the close even though a strong start faded somewhat. Volume amounted to 610,000 shares as compared with 670,-000 traded Friday.

Active Duty Slated For Virtually All ROTC Graduates

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army announced that it will commission and call to active duty virtually all of the 16,000 Reserve Officer Training Corps graduates this year.

A small number of veterans will be commissioned in the reserve corps but not called to duty unless they so request. The vast majority of the 16,000 were permitted to complete their college educations under an agreement which deferred them from the draft.

University of Nebraska Army ROTC officials said approximately 112 reserve officers would receive their commissions on June 7. In addition, two will be commissioned in the regular army and eight at the end of summer session or on completion of summer training camp.

Car Wheel Kills McCook Youngster

McCOOK, Neb. (AP)—Committal services were held for John Edwin Nothnagel, 11-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Nothnagel of McCook, who was crushed when the back wheel of a car ran over him.

The baby and his two brothers were playing in front of the home near a parked car. It was reported that the two boys apparently released the brake and the car backed over the baby.

Sen. Bowring Offers First Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Bowring (R-Neb), sworn in last month as Nebraska's junior senator, Monday introduced her first bill. Being a cattlewoman, it dealt with cattle.

Her bill would permit Nebraska brand inspectors to inspect, for a fee, cattle coming into Nebraska for sale at livestock rings or terminal markets.

It would settle a dispute between Nebraska and the Department of Agriculture as to whether Nebraska can handle this and charge its usual 10 cent a head fee.

Passage of this bill would eliminate inspectors from other states inspecting at Nebraska markets cattle from their state sent to Nebraska markets.

Senate Votes To Change Nov. 11 To Veterans Day

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate passage Monday sent to President Eisenhower a bill to change the name of the Nov. 11 legal holiday from Armistice Day to Veterans Day.

Sponsors said it would expand the significance of the holiday, and noted that both World War II and the Korean War have been fought since the end of World War I, which Armistice Day commemorates.

Young Robinson Jailed

HOLLYWOOD (INS)—Edward G. Robinson Jr., 21-year-old son of the veteran stage and screen star, was arrested at a boisterous party Monday and jailed on a drunk charge. Police said Robinson and a friend, Joseph C. Condriet, 44, were charged with being "boisterous, disturbing the peace and drunk."

Okay Asked For Closing City Hall On Saturdays

By BILL DOBLER
Star Staff Writer

The City Council has been presented with a proposal for closing of the City Hall all day Saturdays.

Carried to the Council by three city employees, the new proposal would mean no change in the number of hours, 41½, worked per week by city employees. It would mean that rather than having Saturday afternoons and one other half-day off a week, the employees would all be off Saturday and Sundays.

Speaking in favor of the proposal, John W. Kruse, Water and Light Department business manager, reported the plan started when employees in his department asked for the same conditions as are enjoyed elsewhere in the City Hall by having every other Wednesday and Saturday off.

Staggering Unsuccessful

The staggering of help to allow everyone a half-day off and still keep the Hall open, Kruse said, has not proved too successful in the past. It is disturbing to have one person off one afternoon and another off another afternoon.

With the Hall closed on Saturdays, he said, there would be complete uniformity among employees. Also, he noted, the extra day for closing would cut operating costs some.

The closing on Saturday has the approval of all city directors. Kruse was accompained in his presentation with Deputy City Clerks and Auditors Wayne Harvey and James Mallon.

Saturdays Slow

Harvey and Mallon reported Saturday activity in the City Hall as very slow. The Council stated it would study the matter during the week and obtain a report on the Saturday activity in the various offices.

Except for Sundays and their two afternoons off, city employees now work from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. with a 45-minute lunch period.

Several Council members viewed the change to the straight five day week inevitable while several others felt it was also more efficient. The only objections voiced were on the grounds of less service to the public with the five day week.

Huskerville Lease Action Due Monday

Following its unofficial approval, the City Council will have for its formal consideration next Monday a new 10-year contract from the Lincoln Housing Authority for the lease of land at Huskerville.

With its informal action, the Council approved the lease with a $5,000 a year rental charge to be paid by the Authority. The Authority operates the 287 housing units now located at Huskerville, directly west of the Lincoln Air Force Base property.

After the new lease is signed, the Authority has promised to pay the city the remaining $55,-000 it has outstanding on its original purchase of the housing units from the city.

"We are able to make such financial arrangements," Judge Robin R. Reed, Authority chairman, commented, "only because of the excellent management of the Huskerville project by L. H. (Buster) DeBrown, Huskerville manager, and Joseph Clark, office manager. Both of them have done a wonderful job."

DeBrown reported that all Huskerville units are full with a waiting list for vacancies. There is still considerable demand, he said, from University of Nebraska students.

The new lease and financial arrangements, DeBrown said, will permit a renewed and continuing maintenance program in the area.

The present Authority lease on Huskerville would normally expire July 1, 1955. The Air Force is reported to have no interest in the Huskerville area for future expansion.

Tax Filing Date Change Favored By House Group

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Finance Committee has tentatively approved a change in the filing date for individual income tax returns from the traditional March 15 to April 15, it was learned Monday.

The same change already has been approved by the House.

Also tentatively accepted was a House provision putting into effect a partial pay-as-you-go payment plan for corporations. This section was strongly opposed by representatives of many business groups testifying before the Senate committee.

Under the new plan, which would go into full effect in 1959, the corporations would pay 50 per cent of their tax in the year in which they earned it, 25 per cent on Sept. 15 and 25 per cent on Dec. 15. This would be done on the basis of estimates. The other two installments would be due on March 15 and June 15 of the next year.

Nurse Gets Heroine's Welcome

Wears Dusty Uniform, Smile On Hanoi Arrival

HANOI, Indo-China (AP)—The ordeal of Dien Bien Phu behind her, Lt. Genevieve de Galard Terraube flew into Hanoi and a heroine's welcome Monday night, wearing a dusty, sweat-stained uniform and a big smile.

Cheering friends hailed her at this French headquarters city.

The cherubic-faced, blue-eyed French Air Force nurse, 29, was finally freed by the Vietminh at the battered fortress where she she had toiled among the French Union wounded for 74 days—first under the rising fire of siege guns that led to the rebel victory May 7, then under Red captivity.

The only woman among perhaps 14,000 men of Brig. Gen. Christian De Castries' vanquished command, Genevieve came back in a French hospital transport plane such as has borne more than 400 of her crippled chrges.

She came back gaily in the worn, campaign garb of a parachute trooper, with heavily stuffed knee pockets. She was bare headed. She wore dusty canvas shoes without stockings, this girl who was made a knight of the Legion of Honor and presented the French military medal for her heroic job while the battle was still on at Dien Bien Phu. But her lips were rouged.

She posed graciously for press and television photographers under a battery of arc lights, but declined to say anything at the moment for publication.

"I have nothing to say," she told reporters, "and I have made up my mind about that."

A French military detail finally whisked her away in Dechaux's car and said she would not be available for interviewing until she had a night's rest. With her was Miss Monique Gilles, the first nurse to go into Dien Bien Phu to help bring out the wounded after its fall.

Nurse Gets Heroine's Welcome

Wears Dusty Uniform, Smile On Hanoi Arrival

HANOI, Indo-China (AP)—The ordeal of Dien Bien Phu behind her. Lt. Genevieve de Galard Terraube flew into Hanoi and a heroine's welcome Monday night, wearing a dusty, sweat-stained uniform and a big smile.

Cheering friends hailed her at this French headquarters city.

The cherubic-faced, blue-eyed French Air Force nurse, 29, was finally freed by the Vietminh at the battered fortress where she she had toiled among the French Union wounded for 74 days—first under the rising fire of siege guns that led to the rebel victory May 7, then under Red captivity.

The only woman among perhaps 14,000 men of Brig. Gen. Christian De Castries' vanquished command, Genevieve came back in a French hospital transport plane such as has borne more than 400 of her crippled chrges.

She came back gaily in the worn, campaign garb of a parachute trooper, with heavily stuffed knee pockets. She was bare headed. She wore dusty canvas shoes without stockings, this girl who was made a knight of the Legion of Honor and presented the French military medal for her heroic job while the battle was still on at Dien Bien Phu. But her lips were rouged.

She posed graciously for press and television photographers under a battery of arc lights, but declined to say anything at the moment for publication.

"I have nothing to say," she told reporters, "and I have made up my mind about that."

A French military detail finally whisked her away in Dechaux's car and said she would not be available for interviewing until she had a night's rest. With her was Miss Monique Gilles, the first nurse to go into Dien Bien Phu to help bring out the wounded after its fall.

Here Is A Position
Looking For A Certain
Capable Young Lady!
Probably not too many in Lincoln could fill the desk of a Journal & Star Want Ad Saleswoman. This girl must be extra pleasant, and enjoy co-operating and helping the nice people who advertise in The Journal & Star Want Ads
She must be between 20 and 40, at least a high school graduate, an accurate typist, have a real sense of responsibility, and do simple arithmetic quickly and very important— she must have a clear, pleasant voice on the telephone.
She will work in a pleasant office with helpful associates, get a paid vacation, and learn a lot about advertising. She will work a 40 hour week, 8:30 to 5:30 with Wed off, and if she is a capable girl with lots of drive her earnings will be well above average
If you have the qualifications for this interesting, specialized work — call Mr. Golding, 2-3331 between 8:30 & 10 am or between 4:00 & 4:30 pm to arrange an interview.
